GENERAL SAYS TRUMAN ORDER WAS ERROR

'Would Correct Action Which Has Contaminated Far Eastern Situation'

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP) — Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur tonight lauded the reported intention of President Dwight D. Eisenhower to order the Seventh Fleet out of the Formosa Strait.

The former Far Eastern commander said the action would "correct one of the strangest anomalies known to military history.

The original Seventh Fleet order issued by former President Harry S. Truman, the man who fired MacArthur from his high post, was described by the general as a "fundamental error which has contaminated the entire Far Eastern situation."

MacArthur's comments on President Eisenhower's purported decision to take the Seventh Fleet out of the Formosa Strait and open the way for Chinese Nationalist raids on the Communist-held mainland were made in a statement issued here for him by his aide, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney.

Gen. MacArthur said Truman's action placed a "restriction on the activity of the free Chinese forces" and "gave public notice that the Chinese Reds were to enjoy unprecedented sanctuary in the struggle for Asia between the forces of communism and those of the free world."

The General's statement then added:

"It was undoubtedly this decision with its implications which emboldened the Chinese Communist forces to intervene in increasing the strength in Indochina, in Korea in Tibet, and along the entire periphery of their aggressive advance in Asia."

"It has been stated," MacArthur added, "that the purpose of the order (by Truman) to the Seventh Fleet was to prevent the spread of war but the result has been just the opposite."

The former Far Eastern commander then said:

"The modification of the Seventh Fleet's orders should be supported by all loyal Americans irrespective of party. It certainly is time for this change."

In Washington earlier today Fleet Adm. William D. Leahy, World War II chief of staff to President Roosevelt and Truman, said it would be a "bright idea" if anybody wants Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist forces to "help us settle the problem on the China coast."

Committee Sets Drive To Start February 15; Masses Being Held

The building committee of Our Lady of Fatima, the newest Catholic parish in Monroe, met Friday and decided upon February 15 as the time for the start of the financial campaign for funds for the erection of the first building near Louisville Avenue and the Sterlington Road. It was considered necessary to expend as much as $100,000 on the first building but that a third of this sum will suffice at the outset.

The city has been blocked out as regards homes of Catholics here and a total of 18 groups were decided upon in connection with the drive. These are as follows, with leaders in each of these:

Group 1, John Savage; group 2, S. E. Burgoyne; group 3 Mack Ward; group 4, George Elias; group 5, Thomas M. Hayes; group 6, Anthony Canizaro; group 7, Charles Marsala; group 8, William Dyer; group 9, Mrs. Philip Inzina; group 10, Tony Embanato; group 11, T. J. ADMIRAL CALLS PROPOSED MOVE 'BRIGHT IDEA'

Ex-Chief Of Naval Operations Has 15-Minute Talk With Ike

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP) — Fleet Adm. William D. Leahy, former chief of naval operations said today that if anybody wants Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist forces to "help us settle the problem on the China coast, it's a bright idea."

Leahy, emerging from a 15-minute talk with President Eisenhower at the White House, was commenting on reports the President plans to order the Seventh Fleet out of the Formosa Strait and open the way for Chinese Nationalist raids on the Communist-held mainland.

The 77-year-old five-star admiral, who was World War II chief of staff to Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, disclaimed any knowledge of Eisenhower's reported plans. He described his visit as a courtesy call and said it was devoted to reminiscences about the days when he and Eisenhower served together on the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Leahy has no regular assignment now, although he has an office in the Navy Department and is considered technically on active duty.

Eisenhower began applying the finishing touches to the State of the Union message he will read to Congress Monday noon.

If he makes the widely predicted announcement that he is canceling former President Truman's order of June 27, 1950, sealing off China's forces on Formosa from the Chinese mainland, he apparently will meet strong support in Congress.

With some few exceptions, members of both parties applauded the prospect.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican Senate leader, said, "It seems to me it will be a step in the right direction and about as long a step as we should make at this time."

Taft said that if the Seventh Fleet is ordered out of the Formosa Strait it would leave open the possibility of a future blockade of the China coast by U. S. warships.

"The order apparently doesn't imply that there will be any blockade," Taft said, "but it certainly leaves open the possibility."

Although Taft advocated a blockade at the time Truman removed Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Far East commander, the senator said, "I'm not certain it could be successful now."

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, returned today from a week of conferences in Japan and Korea with military chiefs there but he declined to comment on the Formosa report.

COLLINS DEFENDS T-BONE RAID AS 'SOUND TACTICS'

Chief Of Staff Says Unthinkable Van Fleet Would Expend Lives Needlessly

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Army's chief of staff, back today from Korea, stoutly defended Operation Smack as "perfectly sound and legitimate" and not a shooting show staged for brass hat observers.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins told reporters who met him at the airport he was astonished that anyone would think Gen. James A. Van Fleet, the Eighth Army commander, would expend lives in a demonstration.

"I cannot emphasize too strongly," Collins said, "that Gen. Van Fleet is more concerned over any operation that causes the loss of a single life than anyone except a parent or relative of a man."

Van Fleet's headquarters already has denied that the attack last Sunday on Little Spud Hill in North Korea was any staged show. Of about 220 U. S. 7th Division men in the assault, three were killed and about 60 wounded.

Collins has been asked to tell about the raid, carried out before visiting generals and war correspondents, in a public hearing Tuesday of the House Armed Services Committee.

Committee Chairman Short (R-Mo) and Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass), who heads the Senate Armed Services Committee, said in a joint statement yesterday the operation was "necessary for tactical reasons." They said a preliminary check convinced them it failed to attain its objective—capture of prisoners through co-ordinated air-artillery-infantry assault—because of combat reasons which "are not unusual."

Earlier reports of the action, especially about a colored-cover timetable handed the observers, kicked up a two-day furor in Congress. Army spokesmen said such operational timetables are routine in Korea and only the colored cover was unusual.

The regular meeting of the L. B. Faulk post of the American Legion will be held in the Legion home Monday at 8 p.m. Plans will be made by members for the annual mid-winter conference at Alexandria, Feb. 7 and 8. It is hoped that a large representation will attend from the Monroe post.

It is urged that any member who joined the post in the recent membership campaign be sure to attend this meeting and receive the Legion button and also to be initiated into the Legion.

The mid-winter conference in Alexandria this week end promises a joint session of the legion and auxiliary of special interest. A special feature will be the presence as guest speaker of Lewis K. 128 Passengers Drown As Hurricane Sinks English Ship Within Sight Of Land

Men, Women And Children Perish In Heavy Seas

DONAGHADEE, Northern Ireland, Jan. 31 (AP) — The British sea ferry ship Princess Victoria sank in a howling hurricane today, sending 128 men, women and children to death in raging seas within sight of land.

Dazed survivors said the 2,694-ton vessel plying between Scotland and Ireland went under after "five hours of hell."

She was battered by 115-mile-an-hour winds. Huge waves splintered lifeboats before they could be launched.

Terror-struck passengers, all outfitted with lifebelts, plunged into the seething waters as the skipper, Capt. James Ferguson, gave the order to abandon ship. It was barely five miles off the mouth of Belfast harbor in the Irish Sea.

Survivors reaching this port said the Princess Victoria capsized and went down within minutes after Ferguson gave the abandon ship order.

The sturdy little ferry was carrying 177 persons—123 passengers and 54 crewmen—when it ran into the worst storm to sweep the Northern Coast of Britain in years.

By 10 p. m. (5 p. m. EST), 35 survivors—all men—were landed here by the Donaghadee lifeboat station.

Officials said the Royal Naval destroyer Contest picked up eight others.

There were reports — unconfirmed—that several small rescue crafts had found a few survivors.

The sudden hurricane also flooded coastal towns, sank many small moored vessels and washed cottages out to sea.

As the winds hit, the 282-ton English trawler Michael Griffiths with 15 aboard, vanished without trace off the Southern Hebrides Islands of Scotland.

The Princess Victoria got in trouble soon after she left Stranraer, Scotland, her home port, for her regular 36-mile-run to Larne, Northern Ireland. Winds up to 113 miles an hour rocked her to a 35-degree list. Children and adults alike were uneasy. By order, they donned lifebelts as the oil-burning, twin-screw steamer struggled on.

Just before the Princess Victoria gave up, Ferguson radioed this frantic SOS:

"Mountainous seas have swamped engine room. Preparations being made abandon ship. Launching lifeboats impossible because of heavy seas."

Other vessels in the area fought their way to the ferry's position to give a hand, but the Princess Victoria had plunged to the bottom.

The British destroyer Contest and four merchant ships joined in a hunt for the victims. Circling aircraft sighted some passengers and crewmen on lifeboats and rafts and dropped flares to mark the positions. But many of the groups had disappeared by the time surface rescue craft got there.

One of the planes was a U. S. Air Force C82 "Transportcar" piloted by Capt. Neal A. Byrd, which was diverted to the rescue mission while on a training fligh from its base at Sculthorpe.

GOP WILL LET PRICE CONTROLS DIE IN APRIL

Taft Opposed To Enacting Standby Controls Law

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration intends to let price-wage controls die April 30 but still is undecided about maintaining standby machinery, Sen. Taft of Ohio indicated today.

Taft, the Senate Republican leader, made it clear that he himself is opposed to enacting any standby controls law, as suggested by Chairman Capehart (R-Ind) of the Senate Banking Committee.

"I don't think we should give legal recognition to the principle of controls," Taft declared. "We should have a free economy in peacetime. If a big war emergency arises, Congress can act quickly."

Under a standby plan Congress would grant President Eisenhower wage-price control powers to be held in abeyance unless a big inflationary upsurge threatened.

Taft discussed his views with newsmen in advance of the State of the Union message President Eisenhower will read to a joint session of Congress Monday.

The President is expected to propose eventual balancing of the budget. While aft wouldn't discuss Eisenhower's possible tax recommendations, the Ohioan said he is personally in favor of making sure there will be cuts in spending before any action is taken to reduce taxes.

It is his understanding, he said, that Eisenhower's Cabinet members will go before congressional committees to propose spending cuts in their own departments, handling this issue on a piecemeal basis instead of through a formal budget message.

Moscow Radio Says Russia Has A-Bomb

LONDON, Jan. 31 —UP— Moscow radio said Saturday Russia definitely has the secret of the atomic bomb, but wants all atomic weapons banned and placed under international control.

The Soviet broadcast, monitored in London, followed the controversy stirred up in the United States by former President Harry S. Truman's statement that he does not believe the Soviets have an atom bomb.

"The Soviet Union too has the secret of the atomic weapon, but its stand (on the bomb's control) is very different from the one of the United States," the Moscow radio broadcast said.

Mr. Truman's statement was criticized in the U. S. Congress, and the United States Atomic Energy Commission subsequently made it clear it believes the Russians not only have the bomb, but are building up an atomic supply.

Mr. Truman said on Sept. 23, 1940, that "we have evidence that within recent weeks an atomic explosions occurred in the USSR."

Soviet Prime Minister Josef Stalin said in an interview with the Communist party newspaper Pravda on Oct. 6, 1951, that Russia had recently exploded a second atomic bomb and there would be more.

Stalin said at that time that Russia wanted atomic bombs prohibited, but that the United States would use the weapon in "the event of an American attack on our own country."

Soviet commentator Viktorov, broadcasting in English, said in Saturday's broadcast:

"You remember when the United States considered itself to be the monopoly owner of the atom bomb, it tried to use this monopoly to blackmail the world, to dictate to all countries and all people. But the monopoly did not last long.

HST Ignored Objections To Giving Leche Pardon

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (Special) —Former President Truman issued a full pardon to former Governor Richard W. Leche of Louisiana over the objections of the justice department, it was announced today.

Attorney General Herbert Brownell said that Leche's case was one of seven in which the department's pardon attorney, Daniel M. Lyons, refused to recommend clemency, but was overruled by Truman.

The presidential pardon was granted to Leche, who was sent to jail for mail fraud in the early 1940s, only four days before Truman left office as the nation's chief executive. The ex-governor had been paroled on June 27, 1945, and his ten-year sentence expired December 30, 1951.

Brownell also announced that henceforth all pardons and commutations—and the persons recommending them—will be a matter of public record. He said this new policy has been approved by President Eisenhower.

The policy is in direct contrast to that followed under the Truman administration. Recommendations of the pardon attorney were confidential and the granting of a pardon was disclosed only after specific inquiry during this term of office.

The other cases in which the pardon attorney was overruled involved former Representatives J. Parnell Thomas, R., N. J., and

HST Ignored Objections To Giving Leche Pardon

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (Special)—Former President Truman issued a full pardon to former Governor Richard W. Leche of Louisiana over the objections of the justice department, it was announced today.

Attorney General Herbert Brownell said that Leche's case was one of seven in which the department's pardon attorney, Daniel M. Lyons, refused to recommend clemency, but was overruled by Truman.

The presidential pardon was granted to Leche, who was sent to jail for mail fraud in the early 1940s, only four days before Truman left office as the nation's chief executive. The ex-governor had been paroled on June 27, 1945, and his ten-year sentence expired December 30, 1951.

Brownell also announced that henceforth all pardons and commutations—and the persons recommending them—will be a matter of public record. He said this new policy has been approved by President Eisenhower.

The policy is in direct contrast to that followed under the Truman administration. Recommendations of the pardon attorney were confidential and the granting of a pardon was disclosed only after specific inquiry during his term of office.

The other cases in which the pardon attorney was overruled involved former Representatives J. Parnell Thomas, R., N. J., and

128 Passengers Drown As Hurricane Sinks English Ship Within Sight Of Land

Men, Women And Children Perish In Heavy Seas

DONAGHADEE, Northern Ireland, Jan. 31 (AP) — The British sea ferry ship Princess Victoria sank in a howling hurricane today, sending 128 men, women and children to death in raging seas within sight of land.

Dazed survivors said the 2,694-ton vessel plying between Scotland and Ireland went under after "five hours of hell."

She was battered by 115-mile-an-hour winds. Huge waves splintered lifeboats before they could be launched.

Terror-struck passengers, all outfitted with lifebelts, plunged into the seething waters as the skipper, Capt. James Ferguson, gave the order to abandon ship. It was barely five miles off the mouth of Belfast harbor in the Irish Sea.

Survivors reaching this port said the Princess Victoria capsized and went down within minutes after Ferguson gave the abandon ship order.

The sturdy little ferry was carrying 177 persons—123 passengers and 54 crewmen—when it ran into the worst storm to sweep the Northern Coast of Britain in years.

By 10 p. m. (5 p. m. EST), 35 survivors—all men—were landed here by the Donaghadee lifeboat station.

Officials said the Royal Naval destroyer Contest picked up eight others.

There were reports — unconfirmed—that several small rescue crafts had found a few survivors.

The sudden hurricane also flooded coastal towns, sank many small moored vessels and washed cottages out to sea.

As the winds hit, the 282-ton English trawler Michael Griffiths with 15 aboard, vanished without trace off the Southern Hebrides Islands of Scotland.

The Princess Victoria got in trouble soon after she left Stranraer, Scotland, her home port, for her regular 36-mile-run to Larne, Northern Ireland. Winds up to 113 miles an hour rocked her to a 35-degree list. Children and adults alike were uneasy. By order, they donned lifebelts as the oil-burning, twin-screw steamer struggled on.

Just before the Princess Victoria gave up, Ferguson radioed this frantic SOS:

"Mountainous seas have swamped engine room. Preparations being made abandon ship. Launching lifeboats impossible because of heavy seas."

Other vessels in the area fought their way to the ferry's position to give a hand, but the Princess Victoria had plunged to the bottom.

The British destroyer Contest and four merchant ships joined in a hunt for the victims. Circling aircraft sighted some passengers and crewmen on lifeboats and rafts and dropped flares to mark the positions. But many of the groups had disappeared by the time surface rescue craft got there.

One of the planes was a U. S. Air Force C82 "Transportcar" piloted by Capt. Neal A. Byrd, which was diverted to the rescue mission while on a training fligh from its base at Sculthorpe.

THEY MET AT THE PUMP — While Mike Baglin, left, 18 months old, was having a quantity of ant poison pumped out of him in a Los Angeles hospital, Bobby McPheter, 1, showed up, also needing a pumping-out. Bobby had swallowed moth balls. Nurse Bonnie Norman tends the howling infants. (NEA)

Moscow Radio Says Russia Has A-Bomb

LONDON, Jan. 31 —UP— Moscow radio said Saturday Russia definitely has the secret of the atomic bomb, but wants all atomic weapons banned and placed under international control.

The Soviet broadcast, monitored in London, followed the controversy stirred up in the United States by former President Harry S. Truman's statement that he does not believe the Soviets have an atom bomb.

"The Soviet Union too has the secret of the atomic weapon, but its stand (on the bomb's control) is very different from the one of the United States," the Moscow radio broadcast said.

Mr. Truman's statement was criticized in the U. S. Congress, and the United States Atomic Energy Commission subsequently made it clear it believes the Russians not only have the bomb, but are building up an atomic supply.

Mr. Truman said on Sept. 23, 1940, that "we have evidence that within recent weeks an atomic explosions occurred in the USSR."

Soviet Prime Minister Josef Stalin said in an interview with the Communist party newspaper Pravda on Oct. 6, 1951, that Russia had recently exploded a second atomic bomb and there would be more.

Stalin said at that time that Russia wanted atomic bombs prohibited, but that the United States would use the weapon in "the event of an American attack on our own country."

Soviet commentator Viktorov, broadcasting in English, said in Saturday's broadcast:

"You remember when the United States considered itself to be the monopoly owner of the atom bomb, it tried to use this monopoly to blackmail the world, to dictate to all countries and all people. But the monopoly did not last long.

GOP WILL LET PRICE CONTROLS DIE IN APRIL

Taft Opposed To Enacting Standby Controls Law

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration intends to let price-wage controls die April 30 but still is undecided about maintaining standby machinery, Sen. Taft of Ohio indicated today.

Taft, the Senate Republican leader, made it clear that he himself is opposed to enacting any standby controls law, as suggested by Chairman Capehart (R-Ind) of the Senate Banking Committee.

"I don't think we should give legal recognition to the principle of controls," Taft declared. "We should have a free economy in peacetime. If a big war emergency arises, Congress can act quickly."

Under a standby plan Congress would grant President Eisenhower wage-price control powers to be held in abeyance unless a big inflationary upsurge threatened.

Taft discussed his views with newsmen in advance of the State of the Union message President Eisenhower will read to a joint session of Congress Monday.

The President is expected to propose eventual balancing of the budget. While aft wouldn't discuss Eisenhower's possible tax recommendations, the Ohioan said he is personally in favor of making sure there will be cuts in spending before any action is taken to reduce taxes.

It is his understanding, he said, that Eisenhower's Cabinet members will go before congressional committees to propose spending cuts in their own departments, handling this issue on a piecemeal basis instead of through a formal budget message.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: I am 18 and finished high school last year. I was reared in the south by my grandparents and recently joined my mother here and am working. I was never allowed dates and knew nothing much about boys. I met a boy of 21, at work who asked for a date, called on my mother and has been a very wonderful person. We fell in love and with my mother's consent expected to be married this month.

However, more than a week ago, the boy did not call or come and I became very worried. I phoned his home and was told by his brother he had been sick. I was quite upset and rushed right out there. I rang the doorbell and it was opened by my fiance. Standing behind him was a young girl who said she was his wife! I could not believe it; I was so stunned I fainted away.

When I regained consciousness, my fiance said he had married this girl before he left for service and thought she would never find him as he was living thousands of miles away from her home town. He swears he does not love her and will force her to give him a divorce. He cried and told me how much I meant to him; that he loved only me and to give him a week to clear everything up. He begged me, and made me promise not to tell my mother.

Mrs. Landers, I believe him but I have never lied to my mother and it is bothering me. I told her that he was sick and that he would call soon. Please help me. Tell me what to do—M. M. R.

The question before the house, Miss Innocent, is: Was that young bluebeard of yours going through with the marriage to you this month if his wife had not caught up with him? If so, don't you realize you would not have been legally married? And, if he would do that to one girl, what would prevent him from running out on you and "marrying" still another girl in the future? His great love of you? Phooey! If the boy loved you he would have told you and your mother about his loveless marriage and asked for time to bow out. I'll say you know nothing of men.

Your promise to that boy need not be honored. Tell your mother everything right now. Then, if she believes in the boy, she will advise him as to the first marriage or make you see that he may never get out of it (why should he?). No possible good can come of keeping it from your mother. No matter how things turn out she will find out eventually and think less of you. Get it over with and things will clear up faster.

Dear Mrs. Landers: At my office, many married women continually ask me the question: "When are you going to marry?" What difference does it make to them whether I ever get married? My bachelor friends say they get the same question and usually from married women. I queried a friend of mine who is a psychiatrist and he said that women have the idea hidden in the back of their minds that if everyone were safely married they wouldn't have to worry about the other women taking their husbands fro mthem. I realize that this is a man's viewpoint. What is yours?—Harvey A.

I think your psychiatrist friend should see a psychiatrist; what a senseless answer. Perhaps women would like to see all other women safely married, but having all men married couldn't prevent other women from making a try for their husbands.

What do I think? I think the married women think there is something wrong with you. Or, they feel sorry for you chugging away at your work with no real purpose in view, no one to give a darn when you have a toothache in the middle of the night, no one tto pat your back when you get a raise or put over a good deal. I feel sorry for you, too.

Confidentially: Betty and Diane—Your family needs and wants to help you. Please return and face your problems like adults.

A. A. B.: They will not refuse your application, have no way of finding out and wouldn't care if they did, providing you are of good character now. You must not carry this thing around with you as a guilty load. It is done with and you must forget it.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper.)

Russians Withdraw From Fishing Company

TEHRAN, Iran, Jan. 31 (AP) — Russia lost her partnership today in a Russian-Iranian Caspian fisheries company that provides much of the Soviet Union's caviar and other seafood. With the expiration of a 25-year pact for joint operation, Iran is taking full control.

It is understood the Iranians plan to pay the Russians in fish for their half of the physical properties and give them the right to buy all the company's output.

The operation broadens a nationalist program Premier Mohammed Mossadegh launched last year by nationalizing Iranian properties of the British-owned Anglo - Iranian Oil Company.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, B. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes, by all means. Married people live longer than those who are unmarried. Psychiatrist Neil Dayton has shown that wedded life on the average increases peace of mind and reduces tension. The late Raymond Pearl, in his study of over 2,000 persons, 90 and over, found one outstanding trait among them — "a calm mental make-up." Our booklet, "How to Manage Your Feelings and Emotions" may actually lengthen your life. Sent at cost, 15c (coin only), plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. School teachers and educators. Last week I paid a plasterer and carpenter $32.00 each for eight hours of work. I'm glad I live in such a country. It gives me hope that someday I can make that much. But, I'm ashamed that our teachers and educators are paid much less. Few teachers make enough to dine out once a year or stay overnight in a first class hotel, yet, they are teaching some students who will make $100 to $500 a day, and live in luxury.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No. It indicates foolish desperation. They are taught from childhood that if they die instead of surrender they will instantly join their deceased relatives and have an eternal joy-ride with the whole immortal outfit. To fight with this faith does not require the intelligent courage of our soldiers who are fighting for ideals due to education.

Rush Of Red Trials, Purges Mounts As Refugees Jam Into Free Germany

BERLIN, Jan. 31 (AP)—Spy trials and death sentences, purges, cabinet shake-ups, persecutions, scapegoats . . .

All were recorded in this week's reports from behind the Iron Curtain.

Communist terror has sent more than 25,000 persons fleeing from East Germany since Jan. 1 and today another 1,250 found refuge in this divided city.

And today, too, the Western Allies accused the Russians of causing the flight of more than 100,000 East Germans in 1952 "by systematically depriving the German population of basic rights and basic freedoms."

In notes to Gen. V. L. Chuikov, Soviet commander in East Germany, the United States, Britain and France also called "totally misplaced" Red charges that the Western Powers were operating espionage and terroristic rings.

But during the week one Roman catholic priest and two laymen were condemned to death by a Polish military court on charges of spying for the Vatican and the United States. Three other priests and a woman were given long prison terms.

In Munich, Jewish refugees who fled from behind the Iron Curtain told of new waves of anti-Semitic terror in Hungary and Czechoslovakia—of deportations to Russia and forced labor camps.

Communist opposition to the Roman Catholic church was underscored in Vatican City. There a white book issued by the Ukranian clergy in Rome said that half of the Soviet Uraine's 3,470 Roman Catholic priests have been jailed and the others have gone into hiding or have been forced to sever their ties with the Vatican.

All of the Ukraine's 10 bishops have been imprisoned, assassinated or died in prison, the white book said.

Reports from Romania disclosed a Cabinet shakeup and may indicate the government is shaping a big treason trial. Six Cabinet ministers were removed by Parliament without a trace of their present status. Two others were removed but given other jobs.

And in East Germany the Communist purge was reported sweeping through the entire Foreign Ministry, including the diplomatic corps. The former foreign minister, Georg Dertinger, already is in prison, charged with being a Western agent.

Looking for new scapegoats, the East German Communist Party Central Committee attacked two of its Moscow-trained officials—Greta Kuckhoff, president of the Soviet zone's banking system, and Mischa Wolf. They were involved in biting criticism of the failure of a huge machinery plant to reach more than half its production quota in 1952.

Reports from Poland and Romania told of failures to reach production goals and in East Germany the Communist party's Central Committee proposed communizing the entire system of wholesaling and retailing food, coal and other daily necessities. "Capitalist" methods used by the Ministry of Supply were blamed for huge shortages plaguing the East German state. Karl Hamann, minister of supply, and half a dozen subordinates have been jailed on charges of sabotaging the economy.

The Moscow press and radio continued to scream against spies in the pay of "American imperialists" and lax Soviet officials who permit all sorts of crimes, ranging from petty larceny to theft of state secrets. Pravda declared today that the Soviet government had uncovered serious violations of laws on the protection of secrets. It warned that offenders aid "the enemy."

Nobel Peace Award Is Urged For Harry Truman

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Field Marshal Alexander Papagos, prime minister of Greece, proposed today that the Nobel peace prize be awarded to former President Truman of the United States.

"All his efforts and thoughts have been devoted to maintain world peace," Papagos said.

Candidates for the prize, under the terms of the will of Alfred Nobel, which set up the award, may be nominated, among others, by governments of nations. A five-member board of the Norwegian Parliament makes the award — worth $33,000 in cash — in the late fall each year. There was no award in 1952.

AWARDS GIVEN TO SALESPEOPLE

Five - dollar gift certificates were awarded to salespeople giving the best demonstrations of courteous and interested customer service at the close of the training institute which has been in progress for the past two weeks at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Mrs. Louise Wilson and Mrs. Lucille Finley, representing the Palace Annex, won the awards given by J. C. Penney Co. and the Palace.

Mrs. Rose M. Moffett and Lloyd Mills, representing United Electric Company, won the awards given by the Gay Clothing Company and Sear's Roebuck and Company.

Miss Mary Jo Jones and Tristem Tyler, representing Silverstein's and Sears Roebuck and Company, won the awards given by Mary's Flower Shop and Silverstein's.

The winning teams were selected from three different groups participating in the sales analysis course by the members of the class. They were judged on appearance, personality, speech interest in customer's needs, knowledge of merchandise, ability to answer customer's questions, and helpful suggestions.

Thirty - eight persons received certificates for the completion of the courses. Those completing the course "Let's Analyze and Sell" are: Mrs. Katherine, W. Hilburn, Mrs. Gladys C. Eyre, Mrs. Lottie Purifoy, Edythe Kirk, Mrs. Lucille Seay, Mrs. Lena Smaihall, Mrs. Ann Guitenez, Mrs. L. J. Fontana, Mrs. Vallye Willis, Patricia Bullis, Mrs. Addye R. Mills, and Mrs. Rose Moffett, all of United Electric Service; Mrs. Minnie C. Evans, Mrs. Irma L. Cryder, and Mary Jo Jones, of Silverstein's; Mrs. Edna Prewitt, and L. E. Frantom of Mary's Flower Shop; Mrs. Ruby Soureal, Tristem Tyler, and Helen Medaries, of Sear Roebuck and Company; Mrs. Edith Williamson, Edith's Shop; T. H. Rogers and Edna Collie, Gay Clothing Company; Mrs. Doris Custor, J. C. Penney; Mrs. Lavinia Johnson and Mrs. Gracie M. Skipper.

Those receiving certificates for the course "Human Relations Training" are: Mrs. Edith Williamson, Edith's Shop; Mrs. Goldie H. Smith, Sear's Roebuck and Company; and Mrs. Valley Willis and Miss Mary O'Kelly, the Palace.

The Ouachita Valley Vocational Trade School and the parish school board made the courses available through the services of the distributive education division of the state department of education. Mrs. Elizabeth Pugh Hickerson instructed the classes.

Mrs. Hickerson said that she was pleased with the enthusiasm and lively participation of those taking the courses. She goes from here to Baton Rouge where she will conduct similar training courses for retail training personnel.

Safety Program Needed

The need for some method of the elimination of traffic accidents and the resulting deaths and severe injuries to citizens has long been apparent here in the Twin Cities. It's all good and well to say "I drive carefully, but some darned fool nearly got me today as I was crossing Louisville," or something on that order, but don't leave safety to the other guy.

Simply because the other fellow nearly hit you is a bad indication. It means that some fellow citizen was not being careful. Perhaps you didn't notice that the signal had turned to yellow. Even when you have the green light, is it so much trouble to slow down just a little before continuing on across a busy street?

There have been instances where brakes have failed and your fellow citizen is powerless to prevent an accident which you could stop. In an accident, it might be well to regard both sides as being in the wrong. A driver or pedestrian never should consider himself completely in the right. Legally, he might be, but in most cases, an ounce of prevention and care might have prevented a ton of trouble and misery. There are many examples of this.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce and other public spirited citizens are now working on plans to open a real safety drive here in this area. They have several methods which may or may not work. They are at present cooperating with City and Parish officials who have shown them every cooperation in the establishing of concrete ideas for a Parish-wide safety drive and permanent campaign and program which it is hoped will make these communities as "safety minded" as it is possible to get.

Unless these people get the cooperation of every citizen who drives a car or walks on the sidewalks and streets, there can be no success. Have you any ideas which you think might be of assistance? Remember that as citizens, it is your duty to speak up. If you have, either send them to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Mayor's office, the office of Chief of Police Peters, or the editorial department of this newspaper.

Your individual ideas will be carefully examined. Two or more heads always are better than one. You cannot demand more safety laws and not help suggest and obey them. Don't leave the laws and obeying of those laws to the other guy when it's certainly your job. Safety is everybody's responsibility and it should not be shirked.

A General Review

In these days of fast moving events and changing boundary lines, not to mention the wars and near wars, one must constantly reformulate the events of the past weeks and days and attempt to assimilate all that goes on in the world about him.

Suppose you were the policy planner for the government and you were going to take an "estimate of the situation", what would you find?

First, on every front, the Communists are seemingly victorious. In Korea, there seems to be an endless slaughter of Americans, South Koreans and other small detachments from some of the European nations sent to do their "duty" as members of the "U. N." It was found last week that Nam Il, the Communists "Truce" general had planned the Koje uprisings while pretending to talk truce and peace to the befuddled "allies". The Americans were thrown off a Korean hill with terrible casualties and a new command is getting installed in the Far East headquarters. It was found that the Soviet Union has now better than 8000 operational jets at its disposal with bases three miles from the main Japanese Island of Hokaido and all the way to Germany where there are innumerable bases from which the Red jets could hammer home any assaults which they opened.

It was learned that the Soviets have been operating over the Japanese islands and have frequently been "tracked" by the American Radar stations. The Soviet Union is now training German submarine crews for action in the "People's Sea Police" another branch of the Soviet Navy. The Chinese and Indo-Chinese in the tortured French colony or "protectorate" of Viet Nam are keeping up an endless war of attrition which bleeds the tottering French government and Foreign Legion by such actions.

There seems to be no end to the famine which exists in hapless India, already shaking in its boots over the nearness of the Communists who sit in readiness to the north of India in Tibet. The Afghanistani are making piles of cash as the moving place for goods going over from West to East. This seems to be a main clearing house.

The Iranians have recently given their screaming premier another year of "rule by decree" and strengthened his precarious position. The Communists in the "Tudeh" party are maintaining strong action there and are putting that nation in dire straits. The entire Arab world is in turmoil and has reached a fever pitch of Moslem nationalism which can, and has caused serious trouble. General Naguib in Egypt has said that "peace cannot reign as long as there is a British soldier in Egypt". In the darkest of Africa, the Mau Mau society, a Communist inspired and directed group of natives killed a British family in an effort to rid the Kenya colony of white men. Trouble continues to brew in nearby "Congoland" where most of the U. S. uranium is mined. The Malan government in South Africa has been given authority to rule by decree and set aside court decisions.

In Europe, the carefully laid plans of General Eisenhower for the eventual formulation of a European army are rapidly falling apart. The French are stalling in the face of what they fear is a German threat while French cabinets fall like stalks of newly mown wheat. The Germans are staging a phenomenal comeback and there are certain aspects of this comeback which can arouse the suspicions of the wary. It is said that there are Nazis lurking in the forests of the "fatherland" only waiting their chance to resume power. The Federal Republic banned the Nazi-like parties and it is hoped that this will help stall them.

The purge goes on in East Europe and apparently in the Soviet Union, where a power fight between the forces of Police Czar Beria and politician Malenkov are throwing their sizable weight around. Refugees from this purge are streaming into the Western zones of Berlin in an ever increasing flood. The Federal government is sending them on into the Republic itself by the means of a merciful airlift. The British are still refusing to join any European army although their troops could well be used. Prime Minister Churchill, who apparently is under the impression that the British still rule an empire, refuses to let British troops wear any other uniform than that of the British army.

The Spanish are appealing for American aid and offering air bases in exchange. A British jet bomber flew to Australia in less than 24 hours, a record.

In Domestic News, the new President has finally had his cabinet fully approved and sworn in and now is preparing to give a "state of the Union message". There seems to be a fight shaping up on the floor of the House and the Senate concerning taxes. The Republicans are split on this and the Democrats are laughing up their sleeves.

Communists are giving trouble in South and Central America where they threaten to cause serious trouble in inter-continental harmony.

This review shows in a minor way that there is not a very pleasant outlook ahead. The new administration is headed for vast troubles and pitfalls which are set by Communists and local forces. The American people are being asked not to expect immediate remedies as indeed, these will not be forthcoming. The best way to help your nation right now is to keep informed. World news is somewhat like a jigsaw puzzle but to figure it out is your duty as a citizen. Only a well informed America will remain free.

'I Have Searched The Horizon'

General J. Lawton Collins stated, "I have searched the horizon, but I cannot see a solution to the Korean problem." Apparently, he is still searching that horizon as he is back in Korea taking another look. General Douglas MacArthur, a somewhat more experienced realistic man than is Collins, believes that he has come upon a solution.

It is his theory that the Soviet Union will need no prodding when it is ready to begin the all out war and that the United States Air Force should be allowed the age old tenet of "hot pursuit" as pertains to the MIGs which escape over the "sacred" Manchurian Yalu river line. Actually, there are several solutions which have been suggested which would at least help the situation. Number one is the utilization of Chinese National troops who are "itching" to get into battle against their traitorous former countrymen who daily dishonor the name of China. There are 500,000 of them biting their nails and cooling their heels on Formosa while Americans are being killed every hour.

The American navy should be either removed from the straits of Formosa to allow the Chinese Nationals to make forays on the mainland and establish contact between the Nationalist sympathizers or, it should act as a blockade of the Red ports to keep supplies from the British ports and others from supplying the Red Chinese armies. This seventh fleet also permits the Chinese Communists to allow their southern ports to remain relatively unguarded and they do not fear attack from the army or the navy of the Chinese Nationals under General Chiang.

There is no actual way for the Americans to stop supplies from reaching Red China from the Soviet Union lest the railway from the U. S. S. R. running through Manchuria and into North China be ruined by air attack. This could be done and the supply buildup in Manchuria could be eliminated, could American fliers go over that line which is held inviolate by the "U.N.". It is feared by the Air Force that the Chinese Communist Air Force could sweep the Sabres from the skies by sheer power of numbers but this would not be the case if some of the fields were bombed.

The officials counter that American bases in Japan would be subject to attack, but this is still open to debate. In any case, there is no reason why the law of "hot pursuit" should not apply to the Chinese MIGSs which are aloft daily to intercept American "sabres".

One other factor which is involved and cannot ever be forgotten. Where are the airplanes of the other "U.N." nations? The British are, to hear them talk, the world's number one jet nation. Where are all their fighters which have a very well trained air unit which uses some antiquated American equipment but which could easily be turned into a first line outfit. Needless to say, they are ready and willing.

Above all of these ideas, looms the aspect of a complete anti-Communist Asian legion ready to fight communism where it strikes. The Asians have shown to a much greater credit than the Europeans that they are ready to defend their homelands against the Red tide if given the chance. Examples of this are found in the ROK lads who do an excellent job but have been thwarted up until recently, the Filipinos who are successfully fighting the Huks in their homeland, the Indonesians who have not allowed the Communists to take over, the Viet Namese who are greatly assisting the French and the Japanese who are now seen as Asia's hope.

General Collins hasn't applied his searching eyes in the right directions. There are excellent chances for the end of the war if correct advantage is utilized by all concerned.

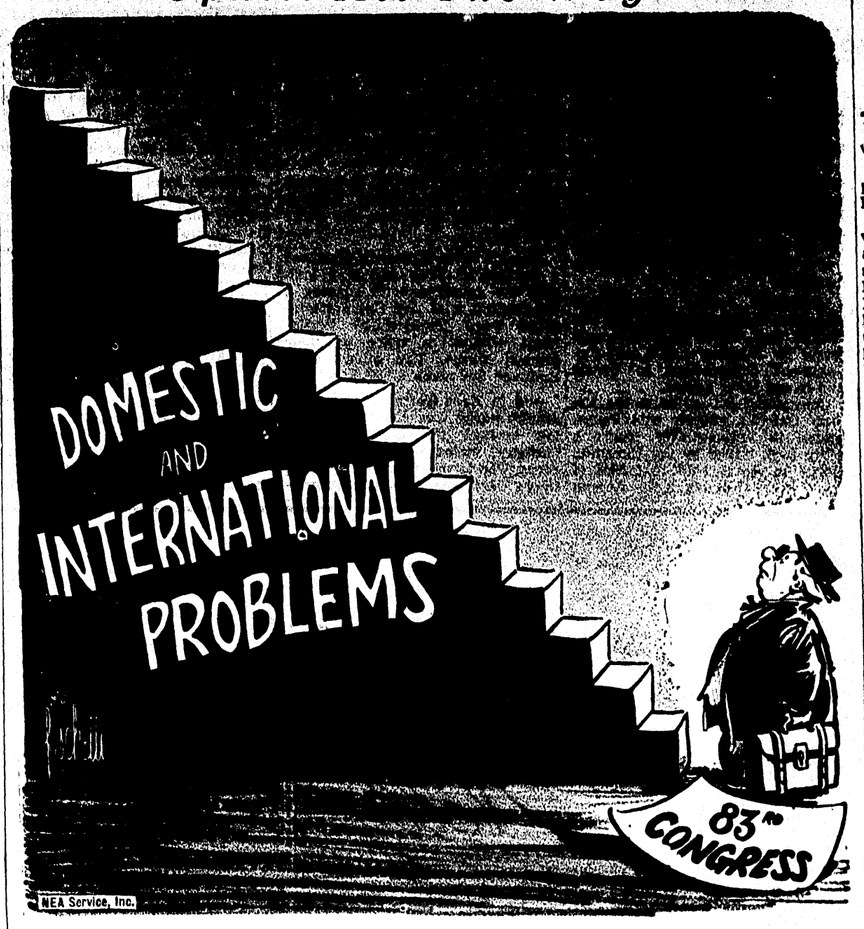

A Program For Survival

The commentators and columnists have been speculating on what Mr. Eisenhower's government fiscal policy will be. The consensus, based on his statements and those of his close advisors, runs about as follows:

Spending will be cut in every possible direction. Waste and non-essentials will be curbed. Every effort will be made to balance the budget immediately. Once that is done, taxes will be reduced both for businesses and individuals. There is a possibility that the so-called excess-profits tax will be abandoned entirely when the current law expires next June. This tax, most economists agree, is an unfair and dangerous burden on business—and most especially on the smaller business, which is deprived of funds needed for growth purposes.

That, so far as one can see now, will be the Eisenhower program. It is the only kind of program that can be trusted to save this country from bankruptcy. No nation —no matter how wealthy and how supplied with resources —and no system of government can forever survive official corruption and deficits in the national treasury.

Uphill All The Way

The Washington Parade

By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— They 're thinking of renaming the Pentagon "Automobile Row" now, and the crisis didn't arise just from the Senate fight over confirmation of General Motors' Charles E. Wilson as Secretary of Defense. It's much more personal than that.

It seems that the government automobile assigned to the former Secretary of Defense, Robert A. Lovett, was a big, black Chrysler. When Secretary Wilson heard about that, he was sorely troubled. As the ex-president of General Motors, he was afraid his automobile pals back in Detroit would rib him unmercifully if he were caught riding down Pennsylvania Avenue in the inaugural parade, in a competitor's car.

This terrible crisis was finally brought to the attention of no less an official than the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Omar Bradley. And to its everlasting credit, the JCS came through with a battle plan that saved the day.

General Bradley said that the car assigned to him was a Cadillac, which as everyone knows is a G.M. job. But General Bradley said he wasn't proud and didn't care what he rode around in.

So a swap was made and the license plates of the chairman of JCS and the new Defense Secretary were changed on the two cars.

Freeman, the driver assigned to the secretary's office, took his new Car and shined it up fine for the parade. Then he thought maybe he'd better take it into the garage and gets its insides checked over. Just to play safe.

But on the way to the garage, the car went pff-t. Freeman barely got it to the curb. It had blown a fuse. Freeman called up for a trouble car, and the mechanics found him almost white. "Think what it would have been," he mumbled, "if that had happened in the parade."

The final irony of all this was that on the way to the inaugural ball, Mr. Wilson's car actually did break down.

Defense Procurement Picture

The hassle over confirmation of C. E. Wilson as Secretary of Defense in the Eisenhower cabinet may eventually result in a new, broad and long-range directive from Congress on government buying for the military services.

At the present time there is no such directive. There is actually a conflict between the existing "Buy American" act and the "off-shore" procurement program started by Mutual Security Administration to get more arms for less money through foreign manufacture.

Also, there are several small-business acts which require that the little fellows be given their fair share of defense contracts.

Department of Defense officials have long contended that on many military items required in quantity, small manufacturers just aren't qualified to bid. And with a team of big-business executives in control of the armed services, small business might get a still smaller cut of the pie.

Congressmen wouldn't like that, because small business is a good political issue. It's as good as home, mother, the flag and doing something more for the veterans.

The present defense procurement picture is that General Motors is the largest contractor. It has $5.4 billion worth of military supplies on order. This is 7.8 per cent of all procurement contracts, on a dollar basis.

Hot Issue in World War II

One of the other objections which congressmen have to putting big-business executives in top government positions is that it gives them access to confidential information about their principal competitors. This was a hot issue in the War Production Board setup during World War II. The Senate War Investigating Committee, headed by a fellow named Harry S. Truman, fought against this in its opposition to the naming of "dollar-a-year men" to the WPB staff. The Truman committee insisted that these men get rid of their private holdings and go to work at government salaries, wherever possible.

This issue wasn't raised later, however, in the case of Republican Paul Hoffman, who was named first head of the Marshall Plan by President Truman. Mr. Hoffman resigned his presidency of Studebaker Corporation, but was allowed to keep his stock.

Three High Hurdles

Secretary Wilson's ability to capitalize on his new job to the advantage of General Motors is mitigated by three steps in the defense contract procedure. They include competitive bidding in procurement, negotiation of contract and, finally, renegotiation.

This would make it necessary to corrupt three separate sets of officials. The Re-negotiation Board, separate from Department of Defense, reviews all contracts to make sure that contractors make only a "reasonable profit." More efficient producers are allowed a higher profit than the inefficient.

Deportation Cases Hang Over

As a result of his speeded-up drive against undesirable aliens and immigrants in the United States, former Attorney General James P. McGranery has left his successor, Herbert Brownell, a file of 140 deportation and denaturalization cases to go to work on. Thirty-six of the cases started are against subversives and 104 are against racketeers and criminals.

Eighteen denaturalization petitions have been filed — six against subversives and 12 against racketeers. They involve some of the worst known names in Communist fronts and the underworld.

The subversives include James Lustig, J. J. Matles, Constantine Radzic, Jeremy Jerome, Louis Weinstock and Al Richmond. The last three named are among the 14 Los Angeles and 13 New York Communist Party workers brought to trial under the Smith Act.

The racketeers include Albert Anastasia, big wheel of the New York waterfront; Frank Costello, the gambler; Thomas Luchese, also known as "Three - Finger Brown; Samuel Accardi, Pete Corrado, Vito Genovese, Angelo Meli, Alfred P. Polizzi, Anthony Ricci, Hyman Chain Stromberg, Anthony Velpe and Meyer Lansky.

Each of the accused has 60 days after his case is filed in which to make answer to the charges against him. Deportation is a separate court proceeding, after denaturalization is completed. But eventually, Mr. McGranery believes that all these undesirables can be kicked out of the country.

Safety Program Needed

The need for some method of the elimination of traffic accidents and the resulting deaths and severe injuries to citizens has long been apparent here in the Twin Cities. It's all good and well to say "I drive carefully, but some darned fool nearly got me today as I was crossing Louisville," or something on that order, but don't leave safety to the other guy.

Simply because the other fellow nearly hit you is a bad indication. It means that some fellow citizen was not being careful. Perhaps you didn't notice that the signal had turned to yellow. Even when you have the green light, is it so much trouble to slow down just a little before continuing on across a busy street?

There have been instances where brakes have failed and your fellow citizen is powerless to prevent an accident which you could stop. In an accident, it might be well to regard both sides as being in the wrong. A driver or pedestrian never should consider himself completely in the right. Legally, he might be, but in most cases, an ounce of prevention and care might have prevented a ton of trouble and misery. There are many examples of this.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce and other public spirited citizens are now working on plans to open a real safety drive here in this area. They have several methods which may or may not work. They are at present cooperating with City and Parish officials who have shown them every cooperation in the establishing of concrete ideas for a Parish-wide safety drive and permanent campaign and program which it is hoped will make these communities as "safety minded" as it is possible to get.

Unless these people get the cooperation of every citizen who drives a car or walks on the sidewalks and streets, there can be no success. Have you any ideas which you think might be of assistance? Remember that as citizens, it is your duty to speak up. If you have, either send them to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Mayor's office, the office of Chief of Police Peters, or the editorial department of this newspaper.

Your individual ideas will be carefully examined. Two or more heads always are better than one. You cannot demand more safety laws and not help suggest and obey them. Don't leave the laws and obeying of those laws to the other guy when it's certainly your job. Safety is everybody's responsibility and it should not be shirked.

A General Review

In these days of fast moving events and changing boundary lines, not to mention the wars and near wars, one must constantly reformulate the events of the past weeks and days and attempt to assimilate all that goes on in the world about him.

Suppose you were the policy planner for the government and you were going to take an "estimate of the situation", what would you find?

First, on every front, the Communists are seemingly victorious. In Korea, there seems to be an endless slaughter of Americans, South Koreans and other small detachments from some of the European nations sent to do their "duty" as members of the "U. N." It was found last week that Nam Il, the Communists "Truce" general had planned the Koje uprisings while pretending to talk truce and peace to the befuddled "allies". The Americans were thrown off a Korean hill with terrible casualties and a new command is getting installed in the Far East headquarters. It was found that the Soviet Union has now better than 8000 operational jets at its disposal with bases three miles from the main Japanese Island of Hokaido and all the way to Germany where there are innumerable bases from which the Red jets could hammer home any assaults which they opened.

It was learned that the Soviets have been operating over the Japanese islands and have frequently been "tracked" by the American Radar stations. The Soviet Union is now training German submarine crews for action in the "People's Sea Police" another branch of the Soviet Navy. The Chinese and Indo-Chinese in the tortured French colony or "protectorate" of Viet Nam are keeping up an endless war of attrition which bleeds the tottering French government and Foreign Legion by such actions.

There seems to be no end to the famine which exists in hapless India, already shaking in its boots over the nearness of the Communists who sit in readiness to the north of India in Tibet. The Afghanistani are making piles of cash as the moving place for goods going over from West to East. This seems to be a main clearing house.

The Iranians have recently given their screaming premier another year of "rule by decree" and strengthened his precarious position. The Communists in the "Tudeh" party are maintaining strong action there and are putting that nation in dire straits. The entire Arab world is in turmoil and has reached a fever pitch of Moslem nationalism which can, and has caused serious trouble. General Naguib in Egypt has said that "peace cannot reign as long as there is a British soldier in Egypt". In the darkest of Africa, the Mau Mau society, a Communist inspired and directed group of natives killed a British family in an effort to rid the Kenya colony of white men. Trouble continues to brew in nearby "Congoland" where most of the U. S. uranium is mined. The Malan government in South Africa has been given authority to rule by decree and set aside court decisions.

In Europe, the carefully laid plans of General Eisenhower for the eventual formulation of a European army are rapidly falling apart. The French are stalling in the face of what they fear is a German threat while French cabinets fall like stalks of newly mown wheat. The Germans are staging a phenomenal comeback and there are certain aspects of this comeback which can arouse the suspicions of the wary. It is said that there are Nazis lurking in the forests of the "fatherland" only waiting their chance to resume power. The Federal Republic banned the Nazi-like parties and it is hoped that this will help stall them.

The purge goes on in East Europe and apparently in the Soviet Union, where a power fight between the forces of Police Czar Beria and politician Malenkov are throwing their sizable weight around. Refugees from this purge are streaming into the Western zones of Berlin in an ever increasing flood. The Federal government is sending them on into the Republic itself by the means of a merciful airlift. The British are still refusing to join any European army although their troops could well be used. Prime Minister Churchill, who apparently is under the impression that the British still rule an empire, refuses to let British troops wear any other uniform than that of the British army.

The Spanish are appealing for American aid and offering air bases in exchange. A British jet bomber flew to Australia in less than 24 hours, a record.

In Domestic News, the new President has finally had his cabinet fully approved and sworn in and now is preparing to give a "state of the Union message". There seems to be a fight shaping up on the floor of the House and the Senate concerning taxes. The Republicans are split on this and the Democrats are laughing up their sleeves.

Communists are giving trouble in South and Central America where they threaten to cause serious trouble in inter-continental harmony.

This review shows in a minor way that there is not a very pleasant outlook ahead. The new administration is headed for vast troubles and pitfalls which are set by Communists and local forces. The American people are being asked not to expect immediate remedies as indeed, these will not be forthcoming. The best way to help your nation right now is to keep informed. World news is somewhat like a jigsaw puzzle but to figure it out is your duty as a citizen. Only a well informed America will remain free.

'I Have Searched The Horizon'

General J. Lawton Collins stated, "I have searched the horizon, but I cannot see a solution to the Korean problem." Apparently, he is still searching that horizon as he is back in Korea taking another look. General Douglas MacArthur, a somewhat more experienced realistic man than is Collins, believes that he has come upon a solution.

It is his theory that the Soviet Union will need no prodding when it is ready to begin the all out war and that the United States Air Force should be allowed the age old tenet of "hot pursuit" as pertains to the MIGs which escape over the "sacred" Manchurian Yalu river line. Actually, there are several solutions which have been suggested which would at least help the situation. Number one is the utilization of Chinese National troops who are "itching" to get into battle against their traitorous former countrymen who daily dishonor the name of China. There are 500,000 of them biting their nails and cooling their heels on Formosa while Americans are being killed every hour.

The American navy should be either removed from the straits of Formosa to allow the Chinese Nationals to make forays on the mainland and establish contact between the Nationalist sympathizers or, it should act as a blockade of the Red ports to keep supplies from the British ports and others from supplying the Red Chinese armies. This seventh fleet also permits the Chinese Communists to allow their southern ports to remain relatively unguarded and they do not fear attack from the army or the navy of the Chinese Nationals under General Chiang.

There is no actual way for the Americans to stop supplies from reaching Red China from the Soviet Union lest the railway from the U. S. S. R. running through Manchuria and into North China be ruined by air attack. This could be done and the supply buildup in Manchuria could be eliminated, could American fliers go over that line which is held inviolate by the "U.N.". It is feared by the Air Force that the Chinese Communist Air Force could sweep the Sabres from the skies by sheer power of numbers but this would not be the case if some of the fields were bombed.

The officials counter that American bases in Japan would be subject to attack, but this is still open to debate. In any case, there is no reason why the law of "hot pursuit" should not apply to the Chinese MIGSs which are aloft daily to intercept American "sabres".

One other factor which is involved and cannot ever be forgotten. Where are the airplanes of the other "U.N." nations? The British are, to hear them talk, the world's number one jet nation. Where are all their fighters which have a very well trained air unit which uses some antiquated American equipment but which could easily be turned into a first line outfit. Needless to say, they are ready and willing.

Above all of these ideas, looms the aspect of a complete anti-Communist Asian legion ready to fight communism where it strikes. The Asians have shown to a much greater credit than the Europeans that they are ready to defend their homelands against the Red tide if given the chance. Examples of this are found in the ROK lads who do an excellent job but have been thwarted up until recently, the Filipinos who are successfully fighting the Huks in their homeland, the Indonesians who have not allowed the Communists to take over, the Viet Namese who are greatly assisting the French and the Japanese who are now seen as Asia's hope.

General Collins hasn't applied his searching eyes in the right directions. There are excellent chances for the end of the war if correct advantage is utilized by all concerned.

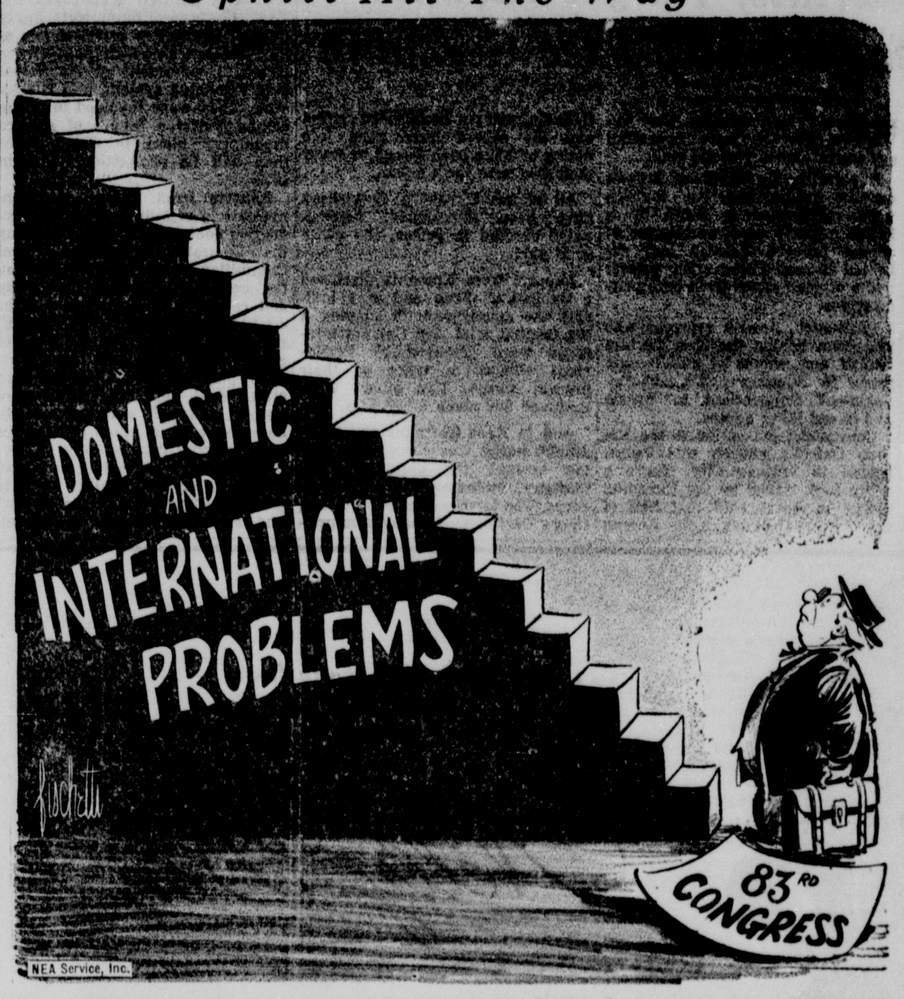

A Program For Survival

The commentators and columnists have been speculating on what Mr. Eisenhower's government fiscal policy will be. The consensus, based on his statements and those of his close advisors, runs about as follows:

Spending will be cut in every possible direction. Waste and non-essentials will be curbed. Every effort will be made to balance the budget immediately. Once that is done, taxes will be reduced both for businesses and individuals. There is a possibility that the so-called excess-profits tax will be abandoned entirely when the current law expires next June. This tax, most economists agree, is an unfair and dangerous burden on business—and most especially on the smaller business, which is deprived of funds needed for growth purposes.

That, so far as one can see now, will be the Eisenhower program. It is the only kind of program that can be trusted to save this country from bankruptcy. No nation —no matter how wealthy and how supplied with resources —and no system of government can forever survive official corruption and deficits in the national treasury.

Uphill All The Way

The Washington Parade

By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— They 're thinking of renaming the Pentagon "Automobile Row" now, and the crisis didn't arise just from the Senate fight over confirmation of General Motors' Charles E. Wilson as Secretary of Defense. It's much more personal than that.

It seems that the government automobile assigned to the former Secretary of Defense, Robert A. Lovett, was a big, black Chrysler. When Secretary Wilson heard about that, he was sorely troubled. As the ex-president of General Motors, he was afraid his automobile pals back in Detroit would rib him unmercifully if he were caught riding down Pennsylvania Avenue in the inaugural parade, in a competitor's car.

This terrible crisis was finally brought to the attention of no less an official than the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Omar Bradley. And to its everlasting credit, the JCS came through with a battle plan that saved the day.

General Bradley said that the car assigned to him was a Cadillac, which as everyone knows is a G.M. job. But General Bradley said he wasn't proud and didn't care what he rode around in.

So a swap was made and the license plates of the chairman of JCS and the new Defense Secretary were changed on the two cars.

Freeman, the driver assigned to the secretary's office, took his new Car and shined if up fine for the parade. Then he thought maybe he'd better take it into the garage and gets its insides checked over. Just to play safe.

But on the way to the garage, the car went pff-t. Freeman barely got it to the curb. It had blown a fuse. Freeman called up for a trouble car, and the mechanics found him almost white. "Think what it would have been," he mumbled, "if that had happened in the parade."

The final irony of all this was that on the way to the inaugural ball, Mr. Wilson's car actually did break down.

Defense Procurement Picture

The hassle over confirmation of C. E. Wilson as Secretary of Defense in the Eisenhower cabinet may eventually result in a new, broad and long-range directive from Congress on government buying for the military services.

At the present time there is no such directive. There is actually a conflict between the existing "Buy American" act and the "off-shore" procurement program started by Mutual Security Administration to get more arms for less money through foreign manufacture.

Also, there are several small-business acts which require that the little fellows be given their fair share of defense contracts.

Department of Defense officials have long contended that on many military items required in quantity, small manufacturers just aren't qualified to bid. And with a team of big-business executives in control of the armed services, small business might get a still smaller cut of the pie.

JERRY LEWIS, confessing about the characters he and Dean Martin play in "The Stooge":

"I've never told this before. There's a scene where Dean throws me out of his dressing room. That really happened five years ago at the Capitol Theater in Washington, D.C. The ending, where we realize we need each other, that's true, too. It happened that way."

BAND LEADER VAUGHN MONROE, on college dancing:

"College men and women are beginning to take their music seriously. I get 10 requests for a classic to one for something bop."

SONG WRITER JIMMY MCHUGH, taking a dim view of today's juke-box frenzy and song ratings:

"Too many song writers are just satisfied to write a song and have it recorded. They don't put enough work into their songs. That's why freakish music is on top today. But Americans are people who love melody. We'll come back to melody again. Today's songs won't even be remembered."

MARILYN MAXWELL, on screen baddie roles:

"Being the heavy doesn't get you anywhere unless you're Barbara Stanwyck and the story is written for you."

Bulletin On Ouachita Parish Geology Issued

Publication of a technical bulletin on "Geology of Ouachita Parish," including the Monroe gas field, one of the largest in the world, was announced yesterday by John B. Hussey, Louisiana Conservation Commissioner.

The bulletin contains history, statistics and other information on the field, which was discovered in 1916 and since then has produced an estimated six trillion feet of gas.

The report was prepared by Kai Kang Wang, former research geologist for the Louisiana Geological Survey, a division of the state conservation department.

The work contains results of a comprehensive study of both surface and subsurface geology of the parish and surrounding area, and includes large colored geologic maps completed from topographic quandrangles and aerial photographs.

Leo W. Hough, head of the Louisiana Geological Survey, said a seciton on subsurface geology will be especially interesting to the oil fraternity because it is the first published comprehensive work on these formations in the area.

Commissioner Hussey said he believed some information contained in the bulletin may stimulate renewed activity in oil prospects for the north Louisiana area.

The bulletin, fourth of its type to be published by the department since 1948, is to be distributed free to libraries and other outlets over much of the world.

Private copies may be obtained for a dollar from the survey, which is located at Louisiana State University.

Fine New Building For Negroes To Be Erected At Ferriday

WINNSBORO, Jan. 31 (Special)—The contract for construction of the new colored high school at Ferriday was awarded to T. J. Owen, contractor of Winnsboro on his low bid of $292,670.00, at a meeting of the Concordia parish school board at Vidalia.

What's Your Hip Problem? There's An Exercise For It

Warning! Today's column is for women only unless there are some hippy men about.

Few women have a perfect hip line. If the back silhouette is in proportion there may be pads of fat on the upper hip line on each side just below the waist. You can lose inches in either spot through exercise if you are the correct weight. If you are overweight you can lose more inches if you use special exercises along with your diet.

While there are many hip exercises which are helpful to both spots, there are specific ones which are most effective in each case.

For instance, there is the Double Cross. You lie on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor straight out from the body, palms on the floor — and swing the right leg over the left, touching the floor on the left side of the body, return to place and then swing the left leg over the right and touch the floor on the right side of the body and continue, alternating. It is good for both of the spots I have mentioned and also for the thighs and waist.

However, it is not so effective for the pads of fat on the upper hips beneath the waist as the following one is: If this is your trouble lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor straight out from your shoulders, palms on the floor. Bend both knees up close to the abdomen. Keep the fingers on the floor and the knees bent as you roll from side to side touching the legs on the floor at the end of each roll. You will feel this in the right place.

The following exercise is the most rapid reducer for the back hip line, or shelf-like bulge which embarrasses lots of women. Sit on the floor with your legs straight and one hand on the floor at each side. Lift your legs from the floor as you lean back until your body weight falls directly over the largest part of your hips. Lift your hands, as you roll over onto your right hip, catching yourself with both hands on the right side of your body and returning legs to the floor. Now lift the hands and legs from the floor and roll onto the left hip, catching yourself with your hands on the left side of your body. Continue, alternating right and left.

The way this exercise is done is most important. Most women are taught to keep the hands on the floor and not return the legs to the floor. This gives a smoother roll while the most effective one for reducing is a choppy one.

Do the exercise which will be most successful in reducing your particular problem.

If you would like to have my hip reducing routine, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

N. Y. Monkey Shipment Turns Into City Fiasco

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—A cargo plane landed at Idlewild Airport from London today with 53 cases of Rhesus monkeys consigned to various hospitals for research purposes.

The door was opened and out stepped one, two, three—11 little monkeys before somebody slammed the door shut. The 11 monkeys took off in 11 different directions.

Three climbed the airport's 10-story control tower. Others hid under parked cars. Men chased them but all the monkeys eventually got away. Most were last seen heading for the suburbs.

Several hours later, however, police reported a monkey loose many miles away on the Bowery—Manhattan's skid row. They were uncertain whether it came from Idlewild, doubting that any monkey could go so far so fast.

Truman Will Try Period Of Temporary Silence

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 31 (AP)—Former President Truman today put a moratorium, for a time at least, on comments about national and international affairs.

"I am not commenting on anything," he told newsmen at his office this morning as he surveyed a mounting pile of mail.

He said he wanted to devote his time to unpacking at home in Independence and answering his mail.

His statement he would make no further comments for a time followed a request if he had anything to say on Washington reports that the Seventh Fleet might be released from its duty at Formosa.

BOARD ISSUES NEW CPA LIST

Two In Monroe Among Those Successful In Examinations

The state board of certified public accountants of Louisiana Saturday released the names of the following candidates who passed the examination held last November and who will be issued certificates to practice as certified public accountants in the state of Louisiana:

James A. Bower, Lawrence L. Pregeant, Jr., William J. Schroeder, Jr., Herman P. Stone, Jr., Edward H. Swetman, Jr., New Orleans; George A. Burton, Jr., Herman Williamson, Jr., Shreveport; Sidney A. Champagne, Baton Rouge; Sam Donald, Jr., James A. Nowell, Monroe; Herbert W. Kraushaar, Bunkie.

The new CPAs passed a test which was taken by more than 12,000 candidates in 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Two all - day sessions and one afternoon were spent on the examination. Nine hours were devoted to accounting practice and three hours each to accounting theory, auditing and commercial law. The tests began last November 5. Another examination will be offered next May.

The test, designed to test the candidate's knowledge and judgment of practical aspects of accounting and auditing, makes allowances for candidates who fail to pass all parts. Those passing two or more parts receive credit for them and will not have to take the whole test again.

The number of certified public accountants in the nation has doubled in the past ten years, making public accounting the nation's fastest growing profession.

N. Y. Monkey Shipment Turns Into City Fiasco

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—A cargo plane landed at Idlewild Airport from London today with 53 cases of Rhesus monkeys consigned to various hospitals for research purposes.

The door was opened and out stepped one, two, three—11 little monkeys before somebody slammed the door shut. The 11 monkeys took off in 11 different directions.

Three climbed the airport's 10-story control tower. Others hid under parked cars. Men chased them but all the monkeys eventually got away. Most were last seen heading for the suburbs.

Several hours later, however, police reported a monkey loose many miles away on the Bowery—Manhattan's skid row. They were uncertain whether it came from Idlewild, doubting that any monkey could go so far so fast.

Truman Will Try Period Of Temporary Silence

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 31 (AP)—Former President Truman today put a moratorium, for a time at least, on comments about national and international affairs.

"I am not commenting on anything," he told newsmen at his office this morning as he surveyed a mounting pile of mail.

He said he wanted to devote his time to unpacking at home in Independence and answering his mail.

His statement he would make no further comments for a time followed a request if he had anything to say on Washington reports that the Seventh Fleet might be released from its duty at Formosa.

BOARD ISSUES NEW CPA LIST

The state board of certified public accountants of Louisiana Saturday released the names of the following candidates who passed the examination held last November and who will be issued certificates to practice as certified public accountants in the state of Louisiana:

James A. Bower, Lawrence L. Pregeant, Jr., William J. Schroeder, Jr., Herman P. Stone, Jr., Edward H. Swetman, Jr., New Orleans; George A. Burton, Jr., Herman Williamson, Jr., Shreveport; Sidney A. Champagne, Baton Rouge; Sam Donald, Jr., James A. Nowell, Monroe; Herbert W. Kraushaar, Bunkie.

The new CPAs passed a test which was taken by more than 12,000 candidates in 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Two all - day sessions and one afternoon were spent on the examination. Nine hours were devoted to accounting practice and three hours each to accounting theory, auditing and commercial law. The tests began last November 5. Another examination will be offered next May.

The test, designed to test the candidate's knowledge and judgment of practical aspects of accounting and auditing, makes allowances for candidates who fail to pass all parts. Those passing two or more parts receive credit for them and will not have to take the whole test again.

The number of certified public accountants in the nation has doubled in the past ten years, making public accounting the nation's fastest growing profession.

Square Dance Workshop To Be Held At College

Ed Durlacher, one of the country's foremost square dance callers, will conduct a free square dance workshop at Northeast State Monday and Tuesday.

The project is esigned for physical educators, civic and industrial recreation directors, teachers and youth and adult organization activity directors.

Features of the workshop will include teaching with recordings, live calling and teaching, plus programming.

Two sessions each day will be devoted to instruction and demonstration, Miss Ada Bess Hart, assistant professor of health and physical education at Northeast, announced. These are scheduled from 4 to 6 p. m. and 8 to 10 p. m.

Persons registering for the workshop are expected to attend the four periods of instruction though the project does not carry college credit, Miss Hart said.

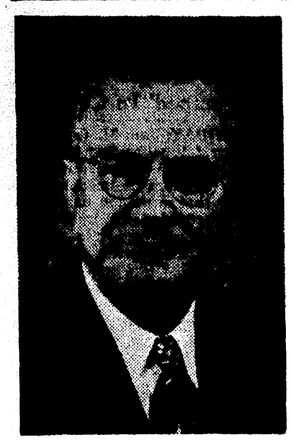

Besides local teachers and recreation supervisors who have enrolled for the work, about 25 persons from other towns in this area have register. Those who have not enrolled may do so Monday.

Durlacher is coming to Monroe under sponsorship of the Square Dance Associates. He is making a tour of 50 central and southern cities, conducting workshops in each.

Generally credited with having done a big job in popularizing this fast growing form of community entertainment, Durlacher has recorded a series of record albums which contain the unique feature of separation of the easy, oral walk - through instructions from the dance with calls and music that follow on each record.

The basic steps are followed by more advanced ones in simple, progressive pattern to make square dancing easy to learn. Durlacher plans to demonstrate his system at the workshop.

He has been active in square dancing since he was 12 years old and now devotes his entire time to it. Every summer in the parks of New York City Durlacher conducts a series of dances that are attended by more than a million people.

Cloyd To Be Advertising Agent For Monroe Labor Council

Oscar L. Cloyd will serve as agent for advertising for the Monroe Central Trades and Labor Council, which is the parent organization for all affiliated locals, it was announced yesterday.

J. P. Brady, president of the council, said this is a follow-up of the investigation by that organization into the practice of fly-by-night operators soliciting advertising from local merchants and business firms on the pretense that they were representing organized labor.

Brady said Cloyd's activities would be restricted to in-person solicitation rather than telephone calls as has been the practice in the past.

Brady said participation in this once-a-year campaign will be the only one authorized by the Monroe Central Trades and Labor Council and that a letter to that effect will be provided each advertiser.

Brady said he believed the present system of havng Cloyd, a past president of the Council, as the official representative would prevent the badgering method used by solicitors in the past without the knowledge of the labor organizations these operators claimed to represent.

The special program is as follows:

The dedication of the high school will be given by Dr. Felton G. Clark, president of the Southern University at Baton Rouge, after which L. L. The new school is being named in honor of Henry Clay Carroll, who rose from slavery in Alabama to become a leader among his race in this area. Coming to Louisiana with his father Carroll became a property owner in the Old Trenton community area where he served his people in both religious and educational positions.

Others in the party will be head Coach Gaynell Tinsley and Alumni State President Thomas C. Glaze.

Watch out for an inflow of bachelors from Arkansas, that is if a bill entered in the Arkansas House passes and which places tax of $750 per head on all bachelors of the state. Louisiana, not having such a tax, should attract many men to come to Louisiana to reside in safety and single blessedness.

Big Mo's Guns Hit Besieged Red Port

SEOUL, Sunday, Feb. 1 (AP)—The Reds' best ice-free harbor at Wonsan on the Korean East Coast—paralyzed by the longest siege in U. S. naval history—was blasted all day Saturday by 16-inch guns of the battleship Missouri and swarms of fighter-bombers from three aircraft carriers.

The Navy described the port after its countless poundings as "a blackened mass, marked only by columns which formerly were the smokestacks of busy industrial plants."

Two U. S. destroyers also joined in the Navy's first big joint air-sea attack on the big supply and communications center since last April. Wonsan has been under naval siege since Feb. 16, 1951.

The commander of the U. S. Seventh Fleet, Vice Adm. James (Jocko) Clark, watched the 58,000-ton Mighty Mo open up at sunrise Saturday, wiping out one Red gun emplacement and silencing another with its first shots.

The Navy said the Wonsan siege far exceeded the previous record set in the Civil War Navy siege of Vicksburg, which lasted less than a year.

Navy fighter-bombers took off from the ice-coated decks of the carriers Kearsarge, Oriskany and Philippines Sea for several hundred missions over the wrecked rail hub, which once had a population of 100,000.

The Navy termed it an "all-out aerial bombardment."

Wonsan is considered a likely target for an amphibious assault should the United Nations decide to push north. Any landing there would menace thousands of North Korean troops below it on the eastern end of the 155-mile front.

The relentless air war raged on. Pilots of the Fifth Air Force reported Saturday they caught a large group of Reds in the open on the Eastern Front and killed or wounded more than 130.

The Fifth Air Force said that Sabre jet pilots shot down 40 Russian-built MIGs in January as against loss of two Sabres, a remarkable ratio of 20 to 1.

Saturday over Northwest Korea, Sabres tangled with MIGs for the 13th straight day but no damage claims were made.

The Red Pyongyang radio said B29s bombed the North Korean capital Saturday night. The radio made the usual charge that "many innocent citizens were killed or wounded and scores of homes and shacks destroyed."

Only light skirmishes marred the quiet aground along the frigid war front. Temperatures plunged in the West to 16 below zero Saturday and 15 below Sunday.

A U. N. raiding party, using flame throwers, routed 30 Chinese Reds Saturday morning from a position northwest of Korangpo on the Western Front. Backed by artillery, tanks and planes, the raiders seized the position in a 55-minute fight, then returned to their base, the Eighth Army announced.

'OPERATION TEX' HAS SCRIPT BUT IS NOT 'SHOW'

Attack Has Black Crows For Spectators Instead Of Top Brass

WESTERN FRONT, Korea, Jan. 31—UP—As in "Operation Smack," there was a "shooting script" for Saturday's attack on a Chinese Hill that menaced allied lines.

But there was no "show" about it. It was a deadly serious job that brought a hero's death to a boy from Brooklyn, wounds to other Americans, and death or wounds to some 30 Communists.

Lt. Col. O. F. Peatross, Raleigh, N. C., whose men made the raid, said:

"We've got to keep the enemy from hitting us, and this is how we do it. In no place where we've hit them has the enemy penetrated our main line. I guess they just don't have the guts."

This was "Operation Tex.," and as in the controversial "Operation Smack" it had been carefully worked out on paper in advance. The only spectators were a few black crows perched in leafless trees near the freezing battlefield.

The objective was a hill several thousand yards southwest of "The Hook" where the Reds, as they have on hundreds of other hills, dug elaborate fortifications.

The Communists keep edging forward until their outposts are only a few hundred yards from Allied positions.

Men of Dog company worked their way to within 100 yards of the objective while Allied artillery kept the Reds under cover with a thundering barrage that one officer said would use "a half million dollars worth of ammunition."

Then the men charged up the hill and overran the first line of enemy trenches just below the crest.

Allied tanks poured shells against neighboring hills to cut off enemy crossfire.

Finally only one communist machine gun still fired.

But a hail of hand grenades exploded among the Allied attackers.

Dulles Will Decide On Vincent Case

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31—UP—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Saturday dismissed the Truman-appointed board examining diplomat John Carter Vincent's loyalty and said he would decide the case himself.

Dulles wrote Judge Learned Hand, chairman of the board, that he personally would examine the long and controversial record of the Vincent case and would "take action."

Hand, noted former chief judge of the U. S. Court of Appeals, and four other prominent Americans were appointed to the special board Jan. 3 by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson with the approval of former President Truman.

Vincent, a veteran of nearly 20 years service in the foreign service, long has been a target of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

He was suspended by the State Department last Dec. 15 and ordered home from the post as minister and diplomatic agent at Tangier. The action was taken after the government's top loyalty review board asked that Vincent's services be ended because it had found "reasonable doubt as to his loyalty to the government of the United States."

But Acheson told Mr. Truman on Jan. 3 that he was not satisfied with the board's findings and said he was mystified and puzzled by its reasoning. He asked and received permission to appoint the special five-man hand panel to make a further investigation.

Money Is Stolen From Store's Change Drawer

A Negro man Saturday afternoon stepped behind a counter in Woolsworth, picked up approximately $50 from a change drawer and then fled.

Store officials said several clerks followed the man as he ran out of the door but was unable to catch him.

Police said the man had not been apprehended late last night.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 31 —UP—Singer Dick Haymes and his wife, Nora Eddington, have agreed on a trial separation to iron out "a couple of problems," they said Saturday.

Congressional Probes Hit By Sen. Ellender

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special)—Scoring the many "fishing expeditions" engaged in by Congressional investigating committees in the past, Senator Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) this week end said he favored probes that "fill a distinct" need, and expressed astonishment at the increased cost of Congressional investigations.

He cited a three - fold increase in investigative costs since the passage of the Legislative Reorganization Act in 1946, and declared that "if government spending is to be reduced and taxes cut, these so-called 'small amounts' must be watched closely."

Louisiana's senior senator also explained his opposition to a GOP-sponsored move to create an additional under secretaryship in the department of state, terming it a duplication of work and the creation of overlapping jobs to discover overlapping jobs. Ellender cast the only dissenting vote against the proposal, which created a position paying $17,500 per year.

Ellender, reporting on the week's Congressional activities, said he voted to confirm Charles Wilson, Secretary of Defense, only after the former General Motors executive divested himself of some two and a half million dollars worth of GM stock. The Senator pointed out that Wilson's possession of the stock legally prevented him from holding the defense department position and cited a statute dating back to 1863.

Ellender, former chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, and presently ranking Democrat on the panel, expressed surprise at the recent "regrouping" of agencies announced by Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, and revealed that he has written the new secretary requesting a complete analysis of the move. The Senator said he is "particularly interested" in finding out what the new secretary intends to do with the county committee setup of the Production and Marketing Administration. Ellender said he wanted to discover if PMA committeemen will "have to take orders from three agencies instead of one."

TOOTH PASTE CLAIMS RAPPED

Dental Group Charges Distortion In Advertising Statements

CHICAGO, Jan. 31 (AP)—A council of the American Dental Association criticized today what it termed the prevalence of "distorted claims" in toothpaste advertising.

The Council on Dental Therapeutics said proper use of the tooth brush is more important in oral hygiene than any particular kind of dentifrice.

It urged that a "skeptical attitude be maintained toward all dentifrice advertising which implies that such products have a demonstrated usefulness beyond their ability to assist the tooth brush in cleansing the accessible surfaces of the teeth."

The council, in a report published in the ADA Journal, said that to date it has not recognized the claims of special or curative qualities made for any dentifrice now on the market on the grounds that no adequate evidence exists to substantiate such claims.

Army Rifle Team Blasts Off Top Of Blazing Well

ABOARD A PATROL BOAT IN THE GULF OF MEXICO, Jan. 31 (AP)—A 75 millimeter Army recoilless rifle team succeeded today in blasting off the top of a blazing offshore gas well, turning the trick on its 34th try.

The rifle first was secured to the deck of the bow of the R. W. McIlvain, a 300-foot wrecking and construction vessel from Port Arthur, Tex. However, the ship rolled too much for accuracy and the gun was moved to a platform, two stories high and less than 150 feet from the fire.

With the top off, the flames from the well shot skyward and tomorrow experts will use dynamite to try to snuff out the fire so that the well can be capped.

Three of the Army infantrymen from Camp Polk, La., were old hands at firing at the well top. Last Tuesday, they crouched behind sandbags on another part of the well platform and fired at another burning well.

The succeeded in loosening the steel T-shaped pipe so firefighters could loop the fixture and pull it off to direct the blow torch-like flames skyward instead of from each end of the crossbar of the "T."

Lt. Raymond Komaniecki of 220 Trumbull St., Chicago is in charge of the four-man gun crew. He expressed disappointment that his team could not knock over the pipe top but said he remembered how tough the other one was.

The task of aiming the army rifle again fell to Cpl. Don Dysinger of Rt. 1, Covington, Ohio, who slammed 30 rounds into the top of the other well that started the costly fire last Sunday.

Pvt. John Crowley of 105 Amsterdam Ave., Manhattan, is the loaded and S-Sgt. Leon Smith of Ada., Okla., is replacing S-Sgt. Robert Chaney of 1912 E. Mulberry St., Noblesville, Ind., as crew chief. Chaney is on leave to be married.

More than a half billion cubic feet of gas has been burned since the explosion set off the fire six days ago in the Gulf of Mexico 90 miles east of New Orleans and 10 miles offshore.

As Capt. Dagobert Storch of Port Arthur maneuvered the McIlvain into position for shooting, the intense heat from the blaze could be felt with blistering force and the noise was so great that conversation was almost impossible.

A Coast Guard patrol boat that brought the Army gun crew to the McIlvain early today scurried around the burning well to warn fishing vessels out of the line of fire.

Square Dance Workshop To Be Held At College

Ed Durlacher, one of the country's foremost square dance callers, will conduct a free square dance workshop at Northeast State Monday and Tuesday.

The project is esigned for physical educators, civic and industrial recreation directors, teachers and youth and adult organization activity directors.

Features of the workshop will include teaching with recordings, live calling and teaching, plus programming.

Two sessions each day will be devoted to instruction and demonstration, Miss Ada Bess Hart, assistant professor of health and physical education at Northeast, announced. These are scheduled from 4 to 6 p. m. and 8 to 10 p. m.

Persons registering for the workshop are expected to attend the four periods of instruction though the project does not carry college credit, Miss Hart said.

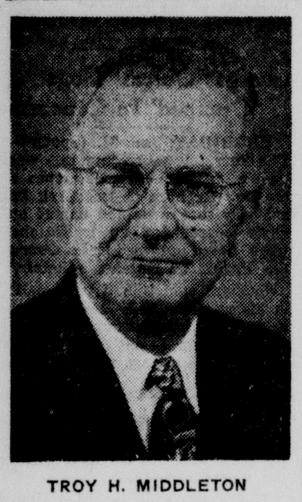

Besides local teachers and recreation supervisors who have enrolled for the work, about 25 persons from other towns in this area have register. Those who have not enrolled may do so Monday.

Durlacher is coming to Monroe under sponsorship of the Square Dance Associates. He is making a tour of 50 central and southern cities, conducting workshops in each.

Generally credited with having done a big job in popularizing this fast growing form of community entertainment, Durlacher has recorded a series of record albums which contain the unique feature of separation of the easy, oral walk - through instructions from the dance with calls and music that follow on each record.

The basic steps are followed by more advanced ones in simple, progressive pattern to make square dancing easy to learn. Durlacher plans to demonstrate his system at the workshop.

He has been active in square dancing since he was 12 years old and now devotes his entire time to it. Every summer in the parks of New York City Durlacher conducts a series of dances that are attended by more than a million people.

Cloyd To Be Advertising Agent For Monroe Labor Council

Oscar L. Cloyd will serve as agent for advertising for the Monroe Central Trades and Labor Council, which is the parent organization for all affiliated locals, it was announced yesterday.

J. P. Brady, president of the council, said this is a follow-up of the investigation by that organization into the practice of fly-by-night operators soliciting advertising from local merchants and business firms on the pretense that they were representing organized labor.

Brady said Cloyd's activities would be restricted to in-person solicitation rather than telephone calls as has been the practice in the past.

Brady said participation in this once-a-year campaign will be the only one authorized by the Monroe Central Trades and Labor Council and that a letter to that effect will be provided each advertiser.

Brady said he believed the present system of havng Cloyd, a past president of the Council, as the official representative would prevent the badgering method used by solicitors in the past without the knowledge of the labor organizations these operators claimed to represent.

Big Mo's Guns Hit Besieged Red Port

SEOUL, Sunday, Feb. 1 (AP)—The Reds' best ice-free harbor at Wonsan on the Korean East Coast—paralyzed by the longest siege in U. S. naval history—was blasted all day Saturday by 16-inch guns of the battleship Missouri and swarms of fighter-bombers from three aircraft carriers.

The Navy described the port after its countless poundings as "a blackened mass, marked only by columns which formerly were the smokestacks of busy industrial plants."

Two U. S. destroyers also joined in the Navy's first big joint air-sea attack on the big supply and communications center since last April. Wonsan has been under naval siege since Feb. 16, 1951.

The commander of the U. S. Seventh Fleet, Vice Adm. James (Jocko) Clark, watched the 58,000-ton Mighty Mo open up at sunrise Saturday, wiping out one Red gun emplacement and silencing another with its first shots.

The Navy said the Wonsan siege far exceeded the previous record set in the Civil War Navy siege of Vicksburg, which lasted less than a year.

Navy fighter-bombers took off from the ice-coated decks of the carriers Kearsarge, Oriskany and Philippines Sea for several hundred missions over the wrecked rail hub, which once had a population of 100,000.

The Navy termed it an "all-out aerial bombardment."

Wonsan is considered a likely target for an amphibious assault should the United Nations decide to push north. Any landing there would menace thousands of North Korean troops below it on the eastern end of the 155-mile front.

The relentless air war raged on. Pilots of the Fifth Air Force reported Saturday they caught a large group of Reds in the open on the Eastern Front and killed or wounded more than 130.

The Fifth Air Force said that Sabre jet pilots shot down 40 Russian-built MIGs in January as against loss of two Sabres, a remarkable ratio of 20 to 1.

Saturday over Northwest Korea, Sabres tangled with MIGs for the 13th straight day but no damage claims were made.

The Red Pyongyang radio said B29s bombed the North Korean capital Saturday night. The radio made the usual charge that "many innocent citizens were killed or wounded and scores of homes and shacks destroyed."

Only light skirmishes marred the quiet aground along the frigid war front. Temperatures plunged in the West to 16 below zero Saturday and 15 below Sunday.

A U. N. raiding party, using flame throwers, routed 30 Chinese Reds Saturday morning from a position northwest of Korangpo on the Western Front. Backed by artillery, tanks and planes, the raiders seized the position in a 55-minute fight, then returned to their base, the Eighth Army announced.

With the top off, the flames from the well shot skyward and tomorrow experts will use dynamite to try to snuff out the fire so that the well can be capped.

Three of the Army infantrymen from Camp Polk, La., were old hands at firing at the well top. Last Tuesday, they crouched behind sandbags on another part of the well platform and fired at another burning well.

The succeeded in loosening the steel T-shaped pipe so firefighters could loop the fixture and pull it off to direct the blow torch-like flames skyward instead of from each end of the crossbar of the "T."

Lt. Raymond Komaniecki of 220 Trumbull St., Chicago is in charge of the four-man gun crew. He expressed disappointment that his team could not knock over the pipe top but said he remembered how tough the other one was.

The task of aiming the army rifle again fell to Cpl. Don Dysinger of Rt. 1, Covington, Ohio, who slammed 30 rounds into the top of the other well that started the costly fire last Sunday.

Pvt. John Crowley of 105 Amsterdam Ave., Manhattan, is the loaded and S-Sgt. Leon Smith of Ada., Okla., is replacing S-Sgt. Robert Chaney of 1912 E. Mulberry St., Noblesville, Ind., as crew chief. Chaney is on leave to be married.

More than a half billion cubic feet of gas has been burned since the explosion set off the fire six days ago in the Gulf of Mexico 90 miles east of New Orleans and 10 miles offshore.

As Capt. Dagobert Storch of Port Arthur maneuvered the McIlvain into position for shooting, the intense heat from the blaze could be felt with blistering force and the noise was so great that conversation was almost impossible.

A Coast Guard patrol boat that brought the Army gun crew to the McIlvain early today scurried around the burning well to warn fishing vessels out of the line of fire.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By SUE SHARMAN

"Aunt Queenie" in "Bell, Book and Candle," the cute and devilish person she is, practicing her witchcraft, has a new interpreter in the Little Theatre cast this week end. Mrs. Ellen Haas Liebriech, who has been "Aunt Queenie" for the past two weeks, found rehearsals too exacting for her strenuous business life, so she abdicated the plum character part (my eye-teeth for soo-so good a role). Veteran Little Theatreite, Fleta Latham confirmed reports late Friday that she would take up the mantle of the interesting witch for final production. . . . Fleta proved her versatility, beginning with her pinch-hit in "John Loves Mary," followed by her outstanding performance as Laura in the Tennessee Williams's poetic "The Glass Menagerie" and later with her ingenue role in "For Love Or Money." . . . The interesting part of this, is that we remember so well when Fleta first became interested in Little Theatre. She very, specifically told everyone that acting couldn't ever be her forte. She was merely interested in doing anything behind the scenes to make Little Theatre better. Fleta hasn't veered from her original intent even though the course of her Little Theatre career has run the gauntlet from promptor (that was the 'ole days) to director's assistant, to actress and to member of the board of directors for Little Theatre.

Randon Notes . . . While the cast were line-rehearsing Friday evening, Clyde Culpepper (maybe you know him as Elmer) and Donald Bussey, who'll be remembered as the moon struck kid in "Laura," were working on the intricate lighting system for central staging of "Bell, Book and Candle." . . . Speaking of Donald and "Laura," reminds me that Fleta Latham played the title role in that production, also.

Jackie Voohrees and Bert Root visited the production Friday evening along with properties chairman Roberta Guion. The interesting part of this reporting is that Bert came out Thursday evening with George Moses, long time member who hasn't ever found time to check on rehearsal up 'till now. Of course, Thursday evening, the cast was photographing in "Flash" Williams' place, so George and Bert sat before a darkened theatre for some time and still didn't connect with rehearsal in-the-round. George, do try it again when the cast is all rehearsing, 'cause as a Little Theatre advocate, you will find a new appreciation in the paces our director puts his actors and actresses through.

I realize after many shows, that the show is the thing, but people who are truly interested in the business of Little Theatre, their curiosity ranges beyond and before opening night. Guess that's why the director has been so obliging and has never closed rehearsal except in a few instances and then only for the benefit of the cast. . . . This afternoon, the board of directors of the Little Theatre are meeting in regard to the imminent threat that the re-activation of Selman Field is posing over the playhouse future. In the wise hands of the governing body of the theatre, this is still one of the biggest problems they have had to iron out yet.

"Teen Talk and Tune Time" is the catchy title for the hour long show, directed by Little Theatre Director Stocker Fontelieu, that debuted on the air this Saturday. It makes for mighty good listening as well as good experience for the high school students from Neville, Ouachita and St. Matthews. . . . Next week, "Bell, Book and Candle's" program bulletin goes to press and Wednesday week, February 11, is opening night for the Little Playhouse's first theatre-in-the-round, which could possibly be its last production within those walls. . . . Perhaps Monday's column will be more enlightening about the future of your Little Theatre.

Jury To Ask For Ruling On Legality Of Hunting Animals

FERRIDAY, Jan. 31 (Special)—Concordia parish police jurors have voiced strong protests against information being circulated in the parish that it is legal to hunt racoons with gun and headlight.

Members said that at least 20 cattle, four horses and a herd of 24 or 30 expensive breed goats had been shot in woods and pastures since the information was circulated. District Game Ranger Hartwell Love, Ferriday, told the jurors it was illegal to hunt in the woods with guns and headlights and said he had been told to prosecute anyone found in the woods with such equipment.

Jurors said that newspapers had carried reports that racoons could be hunted with headlight and dogs, but not guns, and quoted the board of the state department of wildlife and fisheries as authority for such rulings.

However, it was pointed out that no notification has been received by the local police jury of such a thing.

Upon suggestion of Love, the matter was tabled until the ruling could be clarified by the state department.

BUSINESS BACKS ENTERTAINMENT

More And More Manufacturers Turning Toward Show World

More and more manufacturers are turning toward the entertainment world to help them sell their new product lines to retailers, according to G. F. Becker, president, United Electric Service, Inc.

He added that an all-time high point in this trend will soon be seen in New Orleans when Servel, Inc., shows dealers assembled there its 1953 line of refrigeration appliances on February 9.

The Evansville, Ind., company is launching its new products with a full-scale musical extravaganza costing more than a million dollars to produce. Two huge road companies with all-Broadway casts will present this "1953 Show of Stars" to an estimated 30,000 dealers in 30 cities coast to coast.

"We intend to show our products to their best advantage before the men who will sell them to the public," said Mr. Becker, who is playing host to a large group of retailers from this area planning a special trip to see the show and the product display which follows.

"To that end," he continued, "the company has obtained the best professional talent available to produce a show for dealers that will rival anything available to the general public." He added that it has a story line, original lyrics and choreography, vignettes and comedy interludes.

Some idea of the extent of the "1953 Show of Stars" can be gained by a look at the personnel of the two road companies. Each will have 12 actors; 10 dancers, 6 showgirls, 5 singers, 2 pages, a comedian, narator, musical conductor, 4 key musicians, 4 stagehands, a soundman, wardrobe mistress, projectionist, company manager, unit manager and assistant director.

The two troupes will total more than 100 persons, including company executives who will appear in the productions. They will travel in their own railroad cars and carry 200 costume changes, 8 curtains, 25 pieces of standing scenery and 50 lights.

The line that will receive this national showcasing stars Servel's new automatic "Ice Maker" refrigerator which eliminates the ice tray. It also includes new furniture-style, window-type room air conditioners; horizontal and upright home freezers, and electric compression refrigerators to join the company's "cast" of gas and electric absorption refrigerators. The portable electric Wonderbar refrigerette, introduced last August, also will be shown with new accessories.

It was emphasized that the million-dollar "1953 Show of Stars" is in addition to the record $6,000,000 advertising budget with which the company is backing its new products in newspapers, magazines, radio and television in 1953.

Army Searches 8,000 Miles To Get 45 Cents

GREENSBORO, N.C., Jan. 31 —UP—The U. S. Army had its 45 cents Saturday after a six-month search that covered 8,000 miles and cost an estimated $150.

Cpl. Floyd L. Oldham, 24, of Greensboro lost a GI necktie in Japan last summer and the Army refused to let him get away with it.

Oldham went home, got a discharge and thought it had all been forgotten, but meanwhile Army correspondence was travelling relentlessly from one unit to another.

The Army finally caught up with Oldham, and a major appeared here to collect a quarter and two dimes from the ex-soldier.

He refused to accept Oldham's offer of a surplus Army necktie in lieu of cash, explaining that would be "too complicated," and took 45 cents. He said this had to be forwarded to Army finance officers in Sasebo, Japan, so the unit's books can be balanced.

LARGE CAST FOR BROADWAY PLAY

'Kiss Me Kate' Will Bring To Monroe Stars Of Big Hit

John Nyhers and Jean Carlton, in the roles of Fred Graham and Lilli Vanessi, head the cast of New York singers, dancers and comedians who will present the Broadway smash hit musical "Kiss Me Kate" for one performance only on the stage of Neville High auditorium on Thursday, February 12, as a stop on its national tour which will take the company, by their own bus from New York to California and back again.

The trek started in New York on October 1 and will eventually wind up at its starting point around May 20.

Mr. Nyhers is fulfilling in "Kiss Me Kate," his first American engagement. Born and educated in the United States, he was transplanted to Europe as private of the U. S. Army during the second world war. At the conclusion of the conflict, he remained in Rome from whence he has just returned after seven years of successful theatrical engagements.

He was leading man of an American company in Italy, known as the Rome Theatre Guild and played in their productions of "Boy Meets Girl," "Biography" and "Androcoles and the Lion." He has made a dozen important foreign motion pictures, sung at the royal opera in Rome and appeared as a headliner at smart continental supper clubs in Rome, Milan, Algiers and Capri. Just recently, while abroad, he recorded albums of "South Pacific" and "Kiss Me, Kate."

Miss Carlton, talented young American soprano, whose rise to fame has had a real "Cinderella" flavor, attended Drake University and the Julliard graduate school. In 1945, she won the Naumburg foundation award. She has been soloist with the New York Philharmonic Symphony, Philadelphia Orchestra, and the Buffalo and New Orleans Symphonies. She has sung leading roles in "The Scarecrow" by N. Lockwood, "The Magic Flute," "Don Giovanni" and Broadway productions of the "The Medium" and "The Telephone" by Menotti. During 1951, Miss Carlton sang in France, Italy, Switzerland and Englad in a series of concerts.

Playing the part of "Bill Calhoun" and also featured as solo dancer, Jack Nagle repeats his successes in many Broadway musicals. Starting with Eddie Cantor in "Banjo Eyes," he has been featured in "By Jupiter," "One Touch of Venus," "Follow the Girls," "Bloomer Girl," "Finian's Rainbow" and this past summer, a stock package of "Kiss Me Kate." Together with his partner and wife, Marilyn, they have toured coast to coast in vaudeville, playing the Chicago Theatre in Chicago, and R. K. O. Theatres. In night clubs they have chalked up an impressive series of show-stopping successes at, among many others, the Henry Grady Hotel in Atlanta, The Boca Raton Club in Florida, Hotel International in Panama, the King Edward Hotel in Toronto and the Theatre Americana in Havana.

A. T. BOND HEADS K. OF P. LODGE

Ambitious Program Being Planned By Incoming Officers

Progress was the key note of incoming Chancellor Commander A. T. (Ted) Bond's address Thursday night when he accepted the gavel from outgoing Chancellor Commander E. L. (Buddy) Harrison, in connection with the installation of officers of the Knights of Pythias for the ensuing six months term. Chancellor Commander Bond's comments stressed the responsibility of every Knight of Pythias to carry on with dignity the great traditions of the lodge and to zealously aid in disseminating the teachings of the order. He pointed out that the fundamentals of Pythianism existed long before the organization of the order, as such, since the book of law is the Bible. He stated that the same principles which inspired the founders of the order to forget sectional hatred between the north and the south at the end of the Civil War could do much to remove the racial discrimination and friction between peoples today.

The Knights of Pythias are fortunate in having had, and having, the leadership of two of the most able young businessmen of the twin cities during the last half of 1952 and the first half of 1953. An ambitious program of remodeling and redecorating of lodge property has already been launched and it is expected that the efforts of Stonewall lodge No. 8 during this year will result in the reactivation of several inactive lodges and the organization of affiliate lodge clubs.

Newly-elected officers who assumed their chairs Thursday night in Castle Hall were Chancellor Commander A. T. Bond, vice-Chancellor H. H. McManus, Prelate A. T. White, Master-at-Arms Tom Shelton, Inner Guard John Thomas, Outer Guard Harry Strong, Master of Work E. L. Harrison, Keeper of Records and Seals W. L. Rothermel, Financial Secretary Eugene Shows, and Treasurer Jim Tolson. Grand officers elect and designate who were in charge of the installation were as follows: Grand Chancellor A. J. Lester, Grand Vice - Chancellor M. C. Williams, Grand Prelate W. L. Rothermel, Grand Master-at-Arms Ray Magruder.

Death In Fiery Auto Is Declared Suicide

CASTAIC, Calif., Jan. 31 (AP) — Death of a former Montana man in a flaming runaway car on a mountain grade was termed suicide by cremation in a sheriff's report today.

Deputies said the vicitm—Elmer L. Klamm, 31, an oil company accountant—had tried to kill himself with a gun six months ago in Helena after separating from his wife.

An officer reported Klamm apparently soaked his car seats with gasoline and set them afire early yesterday. Somehow the car began moving while in flames and made a spectacular trip down a grade of U. S. Highway 99, north of here, sideswiping another auto and plunging into a ditch.

Klamm's roommate, William Stovall, told officers that Klamm had received a letter Thursday which had upset him. Stovall quoted Klamm as saying, "I'm disgusted," and said he drove off without further explanation.

The Evansville, Ind., company is launching its new products with a full-scale musical extravaganza costing more than a million dollars to produce. Two huge road companies with all-Broadway casts will present this "1953 Show of Stars" to an estimated 30,000 dealers in 30 cities coast to coast.

"We intend to show our products to their best advantage before the men who will sell them to the public," said Mr. Becker, who is playing host to a large group of retailers from this area planning a special trip to see the show and the product display which follows.

"To that end," he continued, "the company has obtained the best professional talent available to produce a show for dealers that will rival anything available to the general public." He added that it has a story line, original lyrics and choreography, vignettes and comedy interludes.

Some idea of the extent of the "1953 Show of Stars" can be gained by a look at the personnel of the two road companies. Each will have 12 actors; 10 dancers, 6 showgirls, 5 singers, 2 pages, a comedian, narator, musical conductor, 4 key musicians, 4 stagehands, a soundman, wardrobe mistress, projectionist, company manager, unit manager and assistant director.

The two troupes will total more than 100 persons, including company executives who will appear in the productions. They will travel in their own railroad cars and carry 200 costume changes, 8 curtains, 25 pieces of standing scenery and 50 lights.

The line that will receive this national showcasing stars Servel's new automatic "Ice Maker" refrigerator which eliminates the ice tray. It also includes new furniture-style, window-type room air conditioners; horizontal and upright home freezers, and electric compression refrigerators to join the company's "cast" of gas and electric absorption refrigerators. The portable electric Wonderbar refrigerette, introduced last August, also will be shown with new accessories.

It was emphasized that the million-dollar "1953 Show of Stars" is in addition to the record $6,000,000 advertising budget with which the company is backing its new products in newspapers, magazines, radio and television in 1953.

Army Searches 8,000 Miles To Get 45 Cents

GREENSBORO, N.C., Jan. 31 —UP—The U. S. Army had its 45 cents Saturday after a six-month search that covered 8,000 miles and cost an estimated $150.

Cpl. Floyd L. Oldham, 24, of Greensboro lost a GI necktie in Japan last summer and the Army refused to let him get away with it.

Oldham went home, got a discharge and thought it had all been forgotten, but meanwhile Army correspondence was travelling relentlessly from one unit to another.

The Army finally caught up with Oldham, and a major appeared here to collect a quarter and two dimes from the ex-soldier.

He refused to accept Oldham's offer of a surplus Army necktie in lieu of cash, explaining that would be "too complicated," and took 45 cents. He said this had to be forwarded to Army finance officers in Sasebo, Japan, so the unit's books can be balanced.

LARGE CAST FOR BROADWAY PLAY

'Kiss Me Kate' Will Bring To Monroe Stars Of Big Hit

John Nyhers and Jean Carlton, in the roles of Fred Graham and Lilli Vanessi, head the cast of New York singers, dancers and comedians who will present the Broadway smash hit musical "Kiss Me Kate" for one performance only on the stage of Neville High auditorium on Thursday, February 12, as a stop on its national tour which will take the company, by their own bus from New York to California and back again.

The trek started in New York on October 1 and will eventually wind up at its starting point around May 20.

Mr. Nyhers is fulfilling in "Kiss Me Kate," his first American engagement. Born and educated in the United States, he was transplanted to Europe as private of the U. S. Army during the second world war. At the conclusion of the conflict, he remained in Rome from whence he has just returned after seven years of successful theatrical engagements.

He was leading man of an American company in Italy, known as the Rome Theatre Guild and played in their productions of "Boy Meets Girl," "Biography" and "Androcoles and the Lion." He has made a dozen important foreign motion pictures, sung at the royal opera in Rome and appeared as a headliner at smart continental supper clubs in Rome, Milan, Algiers and Capri. Just recently, while abroad, he recorded albums of "South Pacific" and "Kiss Me, Kate."

Miss Carlton, talented young American soprano, whose rise to fame has had a real "Cinderella" flavor, attended Drake University and the Julliard graduate school. In 1945, she won the Naumburg foundation award. She has been soloist with the New York Philharmonic Symphony, Philadelphia Orchestra, and the Buffalo and New Orleans Symphonies. She has sung leading roles in "The Scarecrow" by N. Lockwood, "The Magic Flute," "Don Giovanni" and Broadway productions of the "The Medium" and "The Telephone" by Menotti. During 1951, Miss Carlton sang in France, Italy, Switzerland and Englad in a series of concerts.

Playing the part of "Bill Calhoun" and also featured as solo dancer, Jack Nagle repeats his successes in many Broadway musicals. Starting with Eddie Cantor in "Banjo Eyes," he has been featured in "By Jupiter," "One Touch of Venus," "Follow the Girls," "Bloomer Girl," "Finian's Rainbow" and this past summer, a stock package of "Kiss Me Kate." Together with his partner and wife, Marilyn, they have toured coast to coast in vaudeville, playing the Chicago Theatre in Chicago, and R. K. O. Theatres. In night clubs they have chalked up an impressive series of show-stopping successes at, among many others, the Henry Grady Hotel in Atlanta, The Boca Raton Club in Florida, Hotel International in Panama, the King Edward Hotel in Toronto and the Theatre Americana in Havana.

A. T. BOND HEADS K. OF P. LODGE

Ambitious Program Being Planned By Incoming Officers

Progress was the key note of incoming Chancellor Commander A. T. (Ted) Bond's address Thursday night when he accepted the gavel from outgoing Chancellor Commander E. L. (Buddy) Harrison, in connection with the installation of officers of the Knights of Pythias for the ensuing six months term. Chancellor Commander Bond's comments stressed the responsibility of every Knight of Pythias to carry on with dignity the great traditions of the lodge and to zealously aid in disseminating the teachings of the order. He pointed out that the fundamentals of Pythianism existed long before the organization of the order, as such, since the book of law is the Bible. He stated that the same principles which inspired the founders of the order to forget sectional hatred between the north and the south at the end of the Civil War could do much to remove the racial discrimination and friction between peoples today.

The Knights of Pythias are fortunate in having had, and having, the leadership of two of the most able young businessmen of the twin cities during the last half of 1952 and the first half of 1953. An ambitious program of remodeling and redecorating of lodge property has already been launched and it is expected that the efforts of Stonewall lodge No. 8 during this year will result in the reactivation of several inactive lodges and the organization of affiliate lodge clubs.

Newly-elected officers who assumed their chairs Thursday night in Castle Hall were Chancellor Commander A. T. Bond, vice-Chancellor H. H. McManus, Prelate A. T. White, Master-at-Arms Tom Shelton, Inner Guard John Thomas, Outer Guard Harry Strong, Master of Work E. L. Harrison, Keeper of Records and Seals W. L. Rothermel, Financial Secretary Eugene Shows, and Treasurer Jim Tolson. Grand officers elect and designate who were in charge of the installation were as follows: Grand Chancellor A. J. Lester, Grand Vice - Chancellor M. C. Williams, Grand Prelate W. L. Rothermel, Grand Master-at-Arms Ray Magruder.

Death In Fiery Auto Is Declared Suicide

CASTAIC, Calif., Jan. 31 (AP) — Death of a former Montana man in a flaming runaway car on a mountain grade was termed suicide by cremation in a sheriff's report today.

Deputies said the vicitm—Elmer L. Klamm, 31, an oil company accountant—had tried to kill himself with a gun six months ago in Helena after separating from his wife.

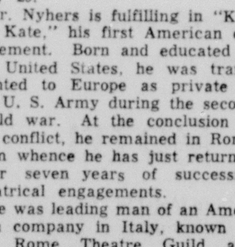

An officer reported Klamm apparently soaked his car seats with gasoline and set them afire early yesterday. Somehow the car began moving while in flames and made a spectacular trip down a grade of U. S. Highway 99, north of here, sideswiping another auto and plunging into a ditch.

Klamm's roommate, William Stovall, told officers that Klamm had received a letter Thursday which had upset him. Stovall quoted Klamm as saying, "I'm disgusted," and said he drove off without further explanation.

Groundhog Declared Phony Weatherman

Scientific research has refuted the famed weather myth that when the groundhog sees his shadow on February 2 there's a long winter ahead. The pure and simple truth of the matter, reveals the current issue of People Today Magazine, is that the groundhog is a phony.

Experiments have shown that most wild groundhogs are sound asleep on February 2, weather or no, and they don't arise till early March. The groundhog is actually a sluggish animal, a little on the stupid side, and doesn't even know when he's casting a shadow. Lab tests have determined that several minutes of continuous exposure to loud noises, heat or light, will wake the groundhog from deep hibernation at any time during the winter season, and weather is no factor, at all.

The only animal with a day all its own marked off on the calendar, the groundhog is no spring prophet, continues the People Today article. Every Groundhog Day for 25 years, thirty or more Boy Scouts have stood 8-hour groundhog - hole watch, and no groundhog has ever appeared, although the weather varied greatly. Talks with zoo keepers, scientific staffs and other experts show that this animal knows less than nothing about the day that honors him, concludes People Today.

New York Giant pitcher Jim Hearn handled 71 chances without an error last season. He started six double plays and made 14 putouts.

SECURE DANCER OF GREAT FAME

Ed Durlacher, Of N. Y., To Hold Workshop At Centenary College

A free Ark-La-Tex square dance workshop will be held on the Centenary College campus in Shreveport Feb. 5-6. The workshop will feature Ed Durlacher, nationally known square dance caller, author and teacher, from New York City.

Mrs. Bryant Davidson, Centenary's square dance director and assistant professor of physical education for women, said Durlacher is one of the country's foremost callers and teachers and the course will be designed for physical educators, civic and industrial recreational directors, teachers and youth and adult organization activity directors.

"Durlacher is generally credited with having done a tremendous job in popularizing the square dance," Mrs. Davidson said. "He has recorded a series of record albums that permit beginners to follow the steps progressively from simple to to advanced in a pattern that makes it easy for anyone to learn square dancing. Durlacher is making a tour of 50 central and southern cities, including Shreveport.

Brownell Raps Truman's Way Of Handling Pardons

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell took an implied crack today at the Truman administration's policy on pardoning convicted persons, and announced that President Eisenhower will follow a goldfish bowl policy.

Brownell declared that President Truman granted 26 pardons and two commutations between election day and inauguration, seven of them without any recommendation for clemency from his pardon attorney.

Brownell declared:

"Henceforth all pardons and commutations will be a matter of public record. The names of persons recommending the pardons and commutations will also be a matter of public record. This new policy was approved by President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"Under the new policy the Department of Justice will maintain a record of all pardons and commutations granted in the future, which will be open to inspection by Congress, the press and others who have a legitimate interest."

This is a reversal of policy followed for a number of years. The government has taken the position that, generally speaking, it would not announce pardons except in response to specific inquiries from reporters.

Brownell issued a statement which he said was prompted by an inquiry from Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del) as to how many pardons Truman had granted between Nov. 4, 1952, and Jan. 20, 1953.

Brownell said the seven cases where Truman issued pardons without a clemency recommendation from the pardon attorney were:

William R. Johnson, Lombard, Ill., sentenced in 1940 to five years for income tax law violation. Began serving term March 13, 1946, was paroled Nov. 30, 1948, and pardoned by Truman last Dec. 24.

Former Rep. Andrew J. May (D-Ky.), sentenced to eight months to two years for accepting bribes. Began serving term Dec. 5, 1949, paroled Sept. 18, 1950, and pardoned last Dec. 24.

Former Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ), sentenced to six to 18 months for payroll padding and accepting kickbacks. Paroled Sept. 10, 1950. Pardoned last Dec. 24.

Anthony Ballerini, Menlo Park, Calif., sentenced Nov. 24, 1925, to nine years for Narcotic Act violation. Discharged by court order Nov. 25, 1930, and pardoned Jan. 7, 1953.

Jacob Weiss, Indianapolis, sentenced Aug. 23, 1948, to three years for income tax law violation. Paroled Feb. 19, 1951, and pardoned Jan. 16 of this year.

Edward F. Prichard, Paris, Ky., former New Deal adviser, convicted of conspiracy to stuff ballot boxes and sentenced July 14, 1949, to two years. Sentence commuted Dec. 21, 1950. Pardoned Jan. 16, 1953.

Richard W. Leche, former Democratic governor of Louisiana, sentenced June 11, 1940, to 10 years for mail fraud. Began term Dec. 31, 1941, paroled June 27, 1945, and pardoned Jan. 16, 1953.

FARM WORKERS WILL CELEBRATE

Golden Anniversary Set In New Orleans February 9 - 11

The Association of Southern Agricultural Workers, one of the largest groups of its kind in America, will hold its golden anniversary meeting in New Orleans February 9-11. Plans for the meeting have been announced by B. B. Jones of New Orleans, secretary - treasurer of the association. Approximately 2,000 persons have attended each meeting of the ASAW for the past several years.

The meeting will be held at the Jung Hotel, Jones said. The Jung also will be headquarters for the annual Southern Farm Forum, which will be held in connection with the ASAW conference.

The ASAW was organized in Atlanta, Ga., in 1899, as the Cotton States Association of Commissioners of Agriculture. It since has been expanded to include agriculturists in all fields, representing state and federal from agencies, the colleges of agriculture, the experiment stations, and private business and industry. Meetings have been held each year since 1899 excepting in 1912, 1913, 1914, 1916, 1943, 1944, 1945 and 1946.

In celebration of its fiftieth meeting, the ASAW has published a golden anniversary yearbook entitled "The South on the March." Groundhog Declared Phony Weatherman

Scientific research has refuted the famed weather myth that when the groundhog sees his shadow on February 2 there's a long winter ahead. The pure and simple truth of the matter, reveals the current issue of People Today Magazine, is that the groundhog is a phony.

Experiments have shown that most wild groundhogs are sound asleep on February 2, weather or no, and they don't arise till early March. The groundhog is actually a sluggish animal, a little on the stupid side, and doesn't even know when he's casting a shadow. Lab tests have determined that several minutes of continuous exposure to loud noises, heat or light, will wake the groundhop from deep hibernation at any time during the winter season, and weather is no factor at all.

The only animal with a day all its own marked off on the calendar, the groundhog is no spring prophet, continues the People Today article. Every Groundhog Day for 25 years, thirty or more Boy Scouts have stood 8-hour groundhog - hole watch, and no groundhog has ever appeared, although the weather varied greatly. Talks with zoo keepers, scientific staffs and other experts show that this animal knows less than nothing about the day that honors him, concludes People Today.

SECURE DANCER OF GREAT FAME

Ed Durlacher, Of N. Y., To Hold Workshop At Centenary College

A free Ark-La-Tex square dance workshop will be held on the Centenary College campus in Shreveport Feb. 5-6. The workshop will feature Ed Durlacher, nationally known square dance caller, author and teacher, from New York City.

Mrs. Bryant Davidson, Centenary's square dance director and assistant professor of physical education for women, said Durlacher is one of the country's foremost callers and teachers and the course will be designed for physical educators, civic and industrial recreational directors, teachers and youth and adult organization activity directors.

"Durlacher is generally credited with having done a tremendous job in popularizing the square dance," Mrs. Davidson said. "He has recorded a series of record albums that permit beginners to follow the steps progressively from simple to to advanced in a pattern that makes it easy for anyone to learn square dancing. Durlacher is making a tour of 50 central and southern cities, including Shreveport.

The workshop will be held in the Student Union Building on the campus. Mrs. Davidson is chairman of the sponsoring Shreveport committee. Others on the committee are: J. H. Duncan, caller and teacher; Grady Shipp, square dance supervisor for the Shreveport Recreation department; Cecil Porter, YMCA; T. N. Scott, physical education supervisor for the Caddo Parish schools; Harold Dumas, recreation director for the First Presbyterian Church, Shreveport, and Charlie Schober, Shreveport square dance council.

Mrs. Davidson said reservations for the workshop may be obtained before Feb. 1 by sending a postcard to her at Centenary College, or by telephoning her at 7-5246 or 8-2431. Reservations may also be made by calling Mr. Shipp at 3-3622. Anyone in the region interested in square dancing may attend, she said, and there will be no charge for the course.

Brownell Raps Truman's Way Of Handling Pardons

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell took an implied crack today at the Truman administration's policy on pardoning convicted persons, and announced that President Eisenhower will follow a goldfish bowl policy.

Brownell declared that President Truman granted 26 pardons and two commutations between election day and inauguration, seven of them without any recommendation for clemency from his pardon attorney.

Brownell declared:

"Henceforth all pardons and commutations will be a matter of public record. The names of persons recommending the pardons and commutations will also be a matter of public record. This new policy was approved by President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"Under the new policy the Department of Justice will maintain a record of all pardons and commutations granted in the future, which will be open to inspection by Congress, the press and others who have a legitimate interest."

This is a reversal of policy followed for a number of years. The government has taken the position that, generally speaking, it would not announce pardons except in response to specific inquiries from reporters.

Brownell issued a statement which he said was prompted by an inquiry from Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del) as to how many pardons Truman had granted between Nov. 4, 1952, and Jan. 20, 1953.

Brownell said the seven cases where Truman issued pardons without a clemency recommendation from the pardon attorney were:

William R. Johnson, Lombard, Ill., sentenced in 1940 to five years for income tax law violation. Began serving term March 13, 1946, was paroled Nov. 30, 1948, and pardoned by Truman last Dec. 24.

Former Rep. Andrew J. May (D-Ky.), sentenced to eight months to two years for accepting bribes. Began serving term Dec. 5, 1949, paroled Sept. 18, 1950, and pardoned last Dec. 24.

Former Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ), sentenced to six to 18 months for payroll padding and accepting kickbacks. Paroled Sept. 10, 1950. Pardoned last Dec. 24.

Anthony Ballerini, Menlo Park, Calif., sentenced Nov. 24, 1925, to nine years for Narcotic Act violation. Discharged by court order Nov. 25, 1930, and pardoned Jan. 7, 1953.

Jacob Weiss, Indianapolis, sentenced Aug. 23, 1948, to three years for income tax law violation. Paroled Feb. 19, 1951, and pardoned Jan. 16 of this year.

Edward F. Prichard, Paris, Ky., former New Deal adviser, convicted of conspiracy to stuff ballot boxes and sentenced July 14, 1949, to two years. Sentence commuted Dec. 21, 1950. Pardoned Jan. 16, 1953.

Richard W. Leche, former Democratic governor of Louisiana, sentenced June 11, 1940, to 10 years for mail fraud. Began term Dec. 31, 1941, paroled June 27, 1945, and pardoned Jan. 16, 1953.

Skelton Wins Laughs, Tears In 'The Clown'

Red Skelton, king of the funsters, now proves himself a superb dramatic star as well in "The Clown," M-G-M's heart-tugging drama, on view at the Paramount Theatre.

In a story mixing laughs and tears, Skelton plays the role of Dodo Delwyn, once a famous Ziegfield comedian who through drinking, gambling and quarreling has descended close to the bottom of the entertainment ladder. His wife, Paula, has divorced him and has remarried but has permitted him to keep their little son, Dink. It is Dink whose hero worship of and devotion to his father buoys up the latter in his darkest moments, but when circumstances land him in jail, Dodo is convinced the boy would face a happier future with his mother and well-to-do stepfather. Desolate and inconsolable, he cannot now show interest in a comeback via television, offered him by his former Ziegfeld agent. But now Dink runs away from Paula, unable to endure the separation from the father he adores, and the child's devotion inspires Dodo to make his last try. His debut on television is an overwhelming success but the strain has been too much for his heart and he dies on the crest of a new success.

Skelton proves himself an artist to rank with the best in his role as the clown who tumbles on a down-hill slide through life. It is a role which vividly contrasts pathos and merriment. In such hilarious scenes as those taking place in Coney Island's Steeplechase Park and at a business convention party he is the Skelton of old, convulsingly funnin in achieving a comic spill or getting a pie flung into his face. In the television performance he does another hilarious act in which he impersonates four house painters and their various techniques. But it is a new Skelton who will leave you wet-eyed in such scenes as that in which he forces his son to leave him, or the final dramatic episode in which he is determined to finish his act although he knows himself to be a very sick man.

The picture also introduces another acting winner in ten-year-old Tim Considine, who makes his screen debut in "The Clown," but who comes to the picture with the theatre in his blood, for he is the son of two of America's most famed theatrical families, the Considines and Pantages. In his debut before the cameras, young Tim gives an unerringly sensitive performance which will win him an army of overnight fans wherever this picture is shown.

Jane Greer is warmly sympathetic in the role of the mother who tries to break down the barriers between herself and the son to whom she seems a stranger, and there are other fine portrayals on the part of Philip Ober as the husband of her second marriage, and Loring Smith as "Goldie" the agent who has never let Dodo down.

Produced by William H. Wright and directed with perception by the veteran Robert Z. Leonard, "The Clown" is a picture which will remain in the memory of those who see it for a long time to come.

Extremely hot weather is necessary to freeze hailstones. Only in hot weather are the upward rushing air currents powerful enough to sweep raindrops up into the freezing atmosphere.

RED SKELTON IN A SERIOUS MOMENT—Red Skelton attempts to cheer up his disconsolate son, played by M-G-M's new juvenile "find," Tim Considine, in "The Clown," opening today at the Paramount Theatre. Jane Greer also stars in the new offering, in which Skelton has a role combining laughter and tears.

DODSON, Jan. 31 (Special)—Several sportsmen from the Dodson area will attend the Winn Parish Sportsman Club meeting which will be held February 4 at 7:30 p.m. at the Westside elementary school auditorium.

An unusual program has been planned featuring recorded wild animal calls.

Among the actual field record calls will be death cry of the rabbit, snort of the buck deer and others, bit, musical call of the wild elk,

Lewis Stone, Louis Calhern, Stewart Granger and Deborah Kerr, as they appear on the Tem screen in M-G-M's spectacular filmization of "The Prisoner of Zenda," based on the Anthony Hope romantic adventure drama. James Mason and Jane Greer also star in the new film, opening this week at the Tem Theatre.

Granger And Deborah Top 'Prisoner Of Zenda' Cast

With an impressive all-star cast headed by Stewart Granger, Deborah Kerr, James Mason, Lewis Calhern and Jane Greer, with eye-filling Technicolor settings and costumes, M-G - M brings "The Prisoner of Zenda" to the Tem screen as the latest of its spectacular romantic adventure dramas in the tradition of "Quo Vadis," "Scaramouche" and "Ivanhoe."

Richard Thorpe and Pandro S. Berman, respective director and producer of the successful "Ivanhoe," were reunited in the filming of the equally renowned Anthony Hope novel of conspiracy, intrigue, combat and an idealistic kingdom of the last century, and once again they have set a never-flagging pace in unfolding their action-filled, sword-flashing story of a man whom circumstances made King for a day but who finds the consequences of his masquerade a far greater adventure than he had anticipated.

Stewart Granger enacts the young Englishman, Rudolf Rassendyll, who arrives in the kingdom of Ruritania on a visit and, because of his striking resemblance to the country's ruler, becomes enmeshed in a royal intrigue in which he is pursuaded to impersonate the abducted King in order to prevent the latter's half-brother, Michael, from usurping the throne. The adventure brings him into conflict with Michael's unscrupulous cohort, Rupert of Hentzau, and enemity which is finally resolved in a spectacular scene of swordplay taking place in a medieval castle. Underlying the royal intrigues and fighting action is the illfated romance between Rudolf and the lovely Princess Flavia, who has come to love the man whom she knows to be an imposter but who cannot share his life.

Granger, in the dual role of the adventurous Englishman and the King whom he impersonates, gives a dashing and spirited performance in an acting tour de force, and is brilliantly complimented in the moving portrayal of Deborah Kerr as the appealing Princess Flavia. Seen together previously in "King Solomon's Mines," Granger and Miss Kerr are happily reunited as the romantic pair of the colorful new offering. James Mason is effectively villainous as the doublecrossing Rupert of Hentzau, Louis Calhern lends a dramatic authority to the role of Colonel Zapt, Rudolf's friend and counselor, and Jane Greer is ably cast as Antoinette De Mauban, a girl whose jealousy of the Princess Flavia brings her to aid Rudolf in rescuing the abducted King.

There are also impressive performances on the part of Lewis Stone, as the Cardinal who crowns the imposter in the spectacular cathedral coronation sequence Robert Douglas as the scheming Michael, Duke of Strelsau, and Robert Coote as Fritz von Tarlenheim, staunch supporter of the King.

The first directory of London had a royal origin. It was started by King Charles I, who wanted a list of the citizens who could loan him money.

Skelton Wins Laughs, Tears In 'The Clown'

Red Skelton, king of the funsters, now proves himself a superb dramatic star as well in "The Clown," M-G-M's heart-tugging drama, on view at the Paramount Theatre.

In a story mixing laughs and tears, Skelton plays the role of Dodo Delwyn, once a famous Ziegfield comedian who through drinking, gambling and quarreling has descended close to the bottom of the entertainment ladder. His wife, Paula, has divorced him and has remarried but has permitted him to keep their little son, Dink. It is Dink whose hero worship of and devotion to his father buoys up the latter in his darkest moments, but when circumstances land him in jail, Dodo is convinced the boy would face a happier future with his mother and well-to-do stepfather. Desolate and inconsolable, he cannot now show interest in a comeback via television, offered him by his former Ziegfeld agent. But now Dink runs away from Paula, unable to endure the separation from the father he adores, and the child's devotion inspires Dodo to make his last try. His debut on television is an overwhelming success but the strain has been too much for his heart and he dies on the crest of a new success.

Skelton proves himself an artist to rank with the best in his role as the clown who tumbles on a down-hill slide through life. It is a role which vividly contrasts pathos and merriment. In such hilarious scenes as those taking place in Coney Island's Steeplechase Park and at a business convention party he is the Skelton of old, convulsingly funnin in achieving a comic spill or getting a pie flung into his face. In the television performance he does another hilarious act in which he impersonates four house painters and their various techniques. But it is a new Skelton who will leave you wet-eyed in such scenes as that in which he forces his son to leave him, or the final dramatic episode in which he is determined to finish his act although he knows himself to be a very sick man.

The picture also introduces another acting winner in ten-year-old Tim Considine, who makes his screen debut in "The Clown," but who comes to the picture with the theatre in his blood, for he is the son of two of America's most famed theatrical families, the Considines and Pantages. In his debut before the cameras, young Tim gives an unerringly sensitive performance which will win him an army of overnight fans wherever this picture is shown.

Jane Greer is warmly sympathetic in the role of the mother who tries to break down the barriers between herself and the son to whom she seems a stranger, and there are other fine portrayals on the part of Philip Ober as the husband of her second marriage, and Loring Smith as "Goldie" the agent, who has never let Dodo down.

Produced by William H. Wright and directed with perception by the veteran Robert Z. Leonard, "The Clown" is a picture which will remain in the memory of those who see it for a long time to come.

Extremely hot weather is necessary to freeze hailstones. Only in hot weather are the upward rushing air currents powerful enough to sweep raindrops up into the freezing atmosphere.

RED SKELTON IN A SERIOUS MOMENT—Red Skelton attempts to cheer up his disconsolate son, played by M-G-M's new juvenile "find," Tim Considine, in "The Clown," opening today at the Paramount Theatre. Jane Greer also stars in the new offering, in which Skelton has a role combining laughter and tears.

Pairings Made For Northeast Tourney

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

February could be a mighty cold month, but regardless of what the temperature is outside, it's going to be mighty hot for the Ouachita Parish High School Lions inside gymnasium walls for not less than two games a week within the month as Coach Herbert Holliman shoots his forces into the thick of the Twin-A league campaign for the right to get a shot at the state championship.

With the exception of participation in the annual Northeast Louisiana State Invitational Tournament next week end and a February 11 date with that intra-parish rival, Calhoun, Ouachita will be playing nothing but Class AA opposition from here on out.

The Class AA games loom mighty important for the Lions simply because they have to finish no lower than second place in order to go to the state tournament. Right now Ouachita still has a good chance with a 2-1 league record. Bossier City heads the parade with five wins, and Ouachita still has to face B. C. twice. Bastrop nicked the Lions for their only conference loss. They get one more chance to even the score with the Rams.

If Ouachita can look as keen the rest of the way as the team that mauled Haynesville here Friday night, the Lions' fortune could get brighter. The Lion regulars played flawless ball for the first quarter, then Coach Holliman let his reserves work practically all the rest of the way in the 62-34 rout after the first stringers had taken a 27-4 command in the first quarter. If Holliman had chosen to work his top five all the way, the Lions might have hit the century mark, so consistent were they at hitting the basket at any range.

Byrd of Shreveport moves in Tuesday night to give the Lions their fourth conference scrap as part of a double header show that also includes a Northeast Louisiana State vs. East Texas Baptist College game in the Ouachita gym. Then comes the Northeast tourney with no bearing on the title race. But Bastrop comes to Monroe on February 10. Calhoun breaks the conference grind for the Lions the next night, and from there on it will be a strict diet of "AA" opposition.

Friday the Thirteenth is going to be an unlucky day for somebody. That's the date for the first meeting between the high-flying Bossier City outfit and the ambitious Lions. This game will be played on Bossier's own floor. Then follows Haynesville, there, the 17th; Byrd at Shreveport, the 20th; Fair Park here, the 24th; and a wrapup with Bossier City here, the 27th.

With seven conference games to go, the Lions can do mighty good for themselves with a fair share of wins, but right now it looks like Ouachita's sternest competitors will be Bossier, Bastrop, and Fair Park. True, the Lions hold a win over Fair Park, but the score was by the slimmest of margins, and the Indians are plenty capable of turning the tables.

Athletes like Walter Bennett, Larry Barnes, Ed Estep, Tommy Sanders, Barney Fuller, and "Snow" Matkins will have to be at their best the rest of the way. We've seen teams we considered better at Ouachita, but the way these boys performed, although briefly, Friday night showed plenty of promise. Backing them are Steve White, "Biggie" Moore, Doyle Holstead, Harold Simmons, Jerry Huckabay, Richard Kincaid as reserve power although the heavy duty in the tough ones will be left up to the top five.

Right now, Ouachita's over-all record for the season reads twelve wins and five losses, only two of the defeats (by Bastrop and Calhoun) coming in scheduled games. They lost to Crowville, Chatham and Ruston in tourney competition, but won their own tournament a week ago.

BIG CAGE EVENT FOR PREP TEAMS OPENING FRIDAY

Fifteenth Annual Basketball Show Attracts 28 Teams

Pairings for the fifteenth annual Northeast Louisiana State College Invitational Basketball Tournament, opening here next Friday and continuing through Saturday night, were announced yesterday by A. S. Huffman and Miss Ada Bess Hart.

Huffman, health and physical education director for women, will conduct the girls' division.

The growing list of high school invitational tournaments over the state, with several in progress nearly every weekend, has cut into the usual strength of the Northeast event which attracted 28 teams this year, one of the smallest entry lists in the history of the Monroe meet, but most of the powerhouses of this section of the state are represented to assure Northeast of high quality even if the quantity has been reduced.

Miss Hart yesterday stressed a state ruling that individual health certificates must be produced by coaches for every girl they intend to use in the tournament. "The state athletic association is very strict concerning these health certificates for the protection of the girls, and they must be made available," Miss Hart said.

First, second and third place trophies will be awarded top teams in each division of the tourney. In addition, Ed Lockhart of Lockhart Sports Shop here will award sportsmanship trophies to a boy and a girl in the meet, and the college will present individual miniature gold basketballs to the five boys and six girls named on the all-tournament teams.

The pairings were announced as follows:

GIRLS' DIVISION

BLACKMAN NEW DENVER MENTOR

Succeeds Baker After Successful Junior College Career

DENVER, Jan. 31. (AP)—Bob Blackman, 34, coach at Pasadena, Calif., junior college, was appointed head football coach at the University of Denver today.

He succeeds Johnny Baker, who resigned after Denver failed to win a game last fall in the Skyline Conference. He was head coach five years.

Athletic Director E. E. (Tad) Wieman said Blackman had been hired on a one year basis. He will come here in about two weeks.

Blackman has been coach at Pasadena City College since 1949. His team won 34 games, lost six and tied three in four years. His 1951 team won 12 straight contests, including the triumph over Tyler, Tex., in the 1951 Junior Rose Bowl game. This team was rated as the national junior college champion.

Before going to Pasadena, Blackman was successful in coaching high school and service teams. He coached the San Diego navy training station team in 1942 when it won all but one game.

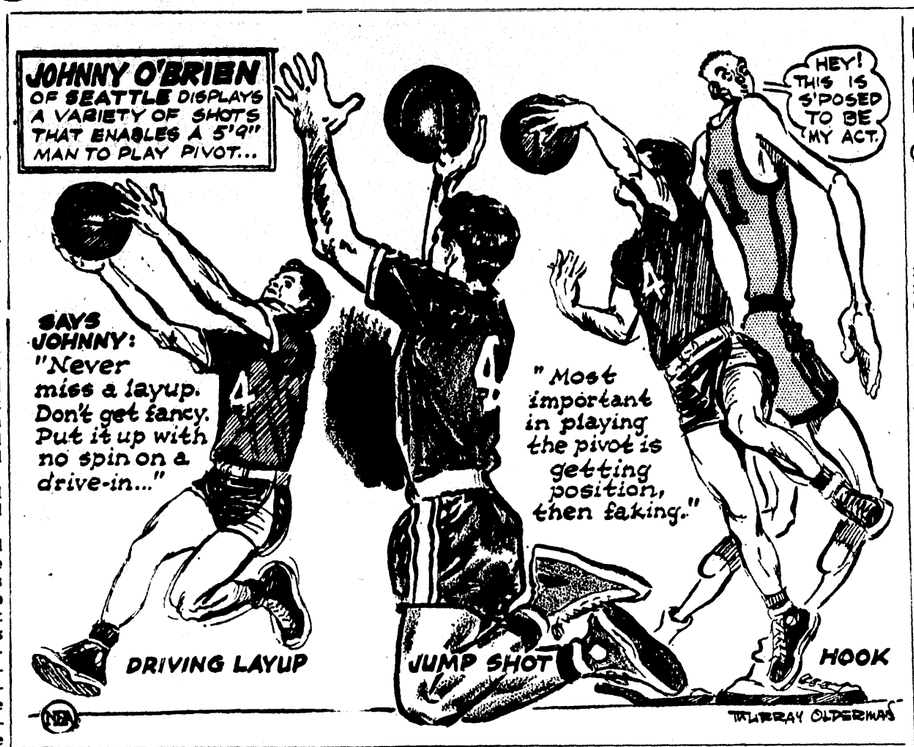

Blackman was assistant freshman football coach at U.S.C. from 1939 until he entered navy service.

He used the V formation attack at Pasadena. His 1951 team established an all - time record in the Junior Rose Bowl by rollig up 492 yards from scrimmage against Tyler. The team scored 57 touchdowns in 12 games. His 1952 squad averaged five touchdowns per game.

GOES TO PUEBLO

PUEBLO, Colo., Jan. 31 (AP) — George E. Pfister, a catcher with nearly 15 years of professional baseball experience, was named today as manager of the Pueblo Dodgers of the Class A Western League for the 1953 pennant chase. Pfister was a coach and bullpen catcher for the Brooklyn Dogers, National League champions, last season.

John Henning, Jimmy Siksay Wrestle Return Match Tomorrow At Kallio's

'Irish' Jack Kelly Takes On Bobby Wickson In Semi-Final

The wrestling program at Gus Kallio's Arena tomorrow night will bring back the two grapplers who featured the January 12 card; Hungarian Jimmy Siksay and Foridian John Henning; in the feature two-fall-to-win, 90-minute time limit match.

Three weeks ago, this pair of youthful gladiators put on one of the finest displays of rough-but-clean wrestling ever seen at the local arena, with Henning winning the first and third falls, after some painful moments of Siksay Hammer-locks and scissors-holds.

Both wrestlers have always been known to local fans as scientific specialists, with Siksay displaying a variety of holds to down such notorious villains as "Sailor" Moran and "Sockeye" McDonald, though both of them combined to give him a good working-over in a tag team match before Christmas.

Siksay, a strong, clean - cut youth, will again be forced to call on his entire repertoire of holds to counteract popular John's kangaroo drop kicks and broad shouldered strength.

The ex-Navy Frogman, one of the most popular wrestlers ever to appear at Kallio's Arena, is seldom matched with a clean-style grappler, usually having to contend with hair - pulling, slugging, and other villainous tactics; but in Siksay, he meets a man nearer his own age with a variety of painful holds, who not only has youth in his favor, but will be seeking revenge tomorrow night for his previous defeat at the Tampan's hands.

The semi-final, a one hour time limit match, two falls to win; pits "Irish" Jack Kelly, St. Louis, Mo., against young Bobby Wickson, Vicksburg, Miss.

Kelly, who hasn't appeared in Monroe for many months, is a strong but rough wrestler and should have a good match with the young Mississippian, who is reputedly a newcomer to the game, and is as fast as he is eager.

International League Puts Crabtree, Merkle Into Its Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK Jan. 31 (AP)— Two oldtime players who later won fame in the majors and a former league secretary who died last year were named today to the International League's Hall of fame.

Honored by league writers were Estel Crabtree, former Rochester outfielder who later starred with the St. Louis Cardinals; Fred Merkle, a first baseman with Rochester and Reading before going to the New York Giants; and the late William Manley, secretary of the league from 1911 to 1952.

The league adopted a 154-game schedule for 1953, opening April 22 and closing Sept. 13.

The openers have Montreal at Rochester, Ottawa at Syracuse, Toronto at Springfield and Buffalo at Baltimore. The second round of openers, with the schedule reversed, is set for April 29.

The league completed plans to move its headquarters from New York, where it has maintained offices since 1893, to Montreal Feb. 15.

CRAFTY ADMIRAL GIVEN TOP LOAD

Will Carry 129 Pounds In $50,000 McLennan Event

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 31. (AP)—Crafty Admiral, leading money winning horse last year, was assigned top-weight of 129 pounds today for the $50,000 added McLennan at Hialeah race track next Saturday, Feb. 7.

The Charfran stable speedster, owned by Charles and Fran Cohen, Miami Beach, drew one pound more than William G. Helis, Jr.'s Spartan Valor, his rival for 1952 handicap honors.

Sparton Valor won the McLennan a year ago, setting a new track record, and then went on to capture the Widener.

Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' One Count drew 126 pounds for the mile and a furlong test for three year olds and upward.

Bracketed at 122 pounds just below the top three in the bulky field of 64 entries were George D. Widener's Battlefield and Gus Luellwitz's Irish-bred Windy City II. The latter, however, was reported to be out of action in California.

Hampton stable's Alerted, winner of seven stakes last year, drew 120 pounds, Iceberg 2nd and Sunglow, 118 each, Ken, 117, Esmero and One Hitter, 116 each, and Hitex, Oil Capitol and Payucano, 115 apiece.

Oil Capitol upset Battlefield in the seven furlong Palm Beach.

KING PIN, FIRST AID SPLIT LOOT

Win Division Of Bahamas Handicap At Hialeah Park

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 31 (AP)— King Pin and First Aid, a couple of good things in the betting, won the divisions of the seven furlong $15,000-added Bahamas Handicap between the rain and the rainbows at Hialeah Park today.

King Pin, owned by Hal Price Headley, was second at the start in the first division, and, with Logan Batchellor riding, took command when called upon and won by three lengths over the favorite, Mrs. T. M. Daniel's Ace Destroyer,

W. A. Edgar's Prince Dare was third, a neck behind Ace Destroyer, and Charfran stable's Brown Booter was fourth in the field of 14 three year olds.

King Pin paid $19.20, $9.60 and $7 in the $2 mutuels while Ace Destroyer returned $5.60 and $3.90. Prince Dare paid $10.60 to show.

King Pin, son of Enow out of Selenga, earned $14,350 of the gross purse of $19,925 and ran the seven furlongs in 1:27 1-5 over a muddy track.

Brookmead stable's First Aid, with Ira Hanford up, caught the front running Slim, owned by Mrs. Wallace Gilroy, in the stretch and won by half a length. Spring Hill farm's Dr. Stanley was third, a length and a half back, and Mrs. O. S. Deming's Thaxter was fourth in the field of 10 in the second division.

Mrs. N. Gralnick's Top That, favorite at 2 to 1, finished sixth.

King Pin was second a week ago and fifth in an earlier start this month. He earned $19,925 in 10 races last year.

First Aid, son of Bernborough out of Humane, was worth $13.60, $6.50 and $4.80 across the board. Slim paid $5.10 and $4.20 while the show price on Dr. Stanley was $6.

Despite heavy showers that started around noon and continued until the feature, attendance was 20,580, only about 1,200 below the corresponding Saturday last year.

Attendance for the first 14 days of Hialeah's 40-day meeting is only about 3,500 under the corresponding period last year in spite of unfavorable weather.

The betting on the nine - race card today totaled $1,543,072 compared with $1,622,777 on the corresponding day last year.

U. S. G. A. Rules Women In Shorts Off Links In Championship Tournaments

Qualifying Round Eliminated For National Amateur

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP) — Two radical changes were made today in the National Women's Amateur Golf championship tourney—there will be no more qualifying rounds and the ladies can no longer display their shapely limbs in shorts.

The U. S. Golf Association, at its annual meeting, announced that the 18-hole qualifying round had been eliminated from the 1953 tournament which is scheduled Aug. 24-29 at West Barrington, R. I.

A poll of players showed the women in favor of an all match play meet, 6-1.

Joe Dey, Jr., executive secretary of the U. S. G. A., also announced that the women's committee had decided not to permit shorts to be worn in U. S. G. A. championships. He didn't say why.

The golf executives also picked the Olympic-at-Lakeside club in San Francisco as the site for the 1955 National Open. This year's tourney is scheduled at Oakmont, Pa., and the 1954 event is Baltusrol, N. J.

It was announced that the prize money in this year's Open will be re-distributed so that the winner will receive $5,000 instead of $4,000 and the last 30 of the 50 money prizes will be increase from $100 to $150 each. The total purse will be $20,000.

The Walker Cup team will not be picked until spring, Dey said. The team will meet the British Sept. 4-5 at Marion, Mass.

The U. S. G. A. re-elected Totten P. Heffelfinger of Minneapolis, as president and also slightly relaxed its amateur rules.

It was agreed that the college coach who does not make a living as golf professional would be permitted to teach the sport without endangering his amateur status. Under the old rules he was regarded as a pro. Also, boys working in golf shops would be permitted to be classed as amateurs until they reach the age of 21. The age limit in the past was 18.

The association adopted a new handicap system which will produce both basic and current handicaps. A basic handicap is designed to show a player's golf ability over a considerable time while a current handicap is intended to show the at-the-moment state of his game. In the past, the U. S. G. A. had recommended basic handicaps only.

After the business meeting the golf executives attended an unveiling of a picture of Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., at Golf House.

Jones, only man to win the four major U. S. and British championships in one year, attended.

Logtown Sextet Takes Championship Honors In Crosley's Tourney

The undefeated Logtown Grammar School girls' basketball team defeated Lenwil and Crosley of West Monroe to win the championship of the Crosley eighth grade tourney Friday. Five girls' teams competed in the meet. After a first round bye, Logtown beat Lenwil, 39-20, and stopped Crosley in the final, 38-21. The A. L. Smith girls of Sterlington won out in consolation.

Shirley Patton, Peggy Long, and Billie Hooter were high scorers for Logtown with 15, 7, and 12 respectively against Lenwill, and 16, 17 and 5 respectively against Crosley. Other girls playing for Logtown in the tourney were Christine Telane, Jo Ann Painick, Delores Delasalle, Everlene Arrant, and Ester Smith.

CHERBERG LANDS WASHINGTON JOB

Succeeds Howie Odell As Head Coach Of Grid Huskies

SEATTLE, Jan. 31. (AP)—Youthful Johnny Cherberg, who climbed the football ladder right in his own back yard, reached the top rung today when he was named head coach at the University of Washington.

The university's board of regents surprised nobody by their annoucement that Cherberg would succeed Howie Odell, who was fired after five years.

The successful and popular coach of Washington's freshman team became the people's choice the moment it was reported, early in December, that Odell would be removed. Two weeks ago it was learned unofficially Cherberg would get the job.

Odell, whose three-year contract still had a year to run, says the firing was due to "personal differences" between him and Harvey Cassill, Washington's director of athletics. The university will pay him off for 1953, probably at the full contract rate of $15,000 per annum.

The size of Cherberg's salary was kept a secret but he was hired for a one-year term—common practice at Washington in the hiring of new coaches.

Cherberg, 42, isn't exactly new around the university. He was born in Pensacola, Fla., but came here as a child and grew up in Seattle. After stardom in local high school football he entered the university and was a varsity player in the 1930-31-32 seasons.

Then Johnny went back to high school—as a coach—and his teams won three city championships. Washington called him back to the campus in 1946 as assistant to "Pest" Welch and he survived when Odell came out from Yale two years later to install a new system and a new staff.

He made Cherberg his frosh coach and Johnny, after losing the opening game, won 22 straight over a five-season span.

Cherberg is married and has two daughters and a son.

MARK-YE-WELL COPS MATURITY

Stablemate, Fleet Bird, Hauls Down Second Money

ARCADIA, Calif., Jan. 31. (AP)—Calumet farm's Mark-Ye-Well and Fleet Bird whipped out a one-two triumph in the fashion expected today to dominate the $100,000 Santa Anita Maturity.

Mark - Ye - Well, the nation's leading money winner in the three-year-old division last year, won as he pleased and collected $85,600 for the famed Calumet stable.

His running mate, coming up fast in the stretch, added $30,000 more to the already amply filled Calumet treasure chest for his second place finish.

Happy Go Lucky, flown here from New Orleans by owner H. G. Bockman of Aurora, Ill., surrendered the place spot to Fleet Bird and wound up third and winner of $20,000.

The Brookmeade stable's Roaring Bull was fourth, worth $10,000.

Gross purse on the race was $161,975.

The form players got $2.40, $2.10 and $2.10 on Mark-Ye-Well, $2.40 and $2.10 on Fleet Bird, and $3.40 for the show position on Happy Go Lucky.

The time for the mile and one-quarter was 2:03 2-5.

Notre Dame Declares Trinity Ace Can't Play For Irish If He Moves

Transfers Not Allowed To Participate At South Bend

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 31 (AP) —Charlie Sticka, brilliant freshman fullback at Trinity College, today was advised by Notre Dame he would be unable to play football for the Fighting Irish in his furore-provoking transfer to Notre Dame.

Shortly after Trinity athletic officials hurled charges of "robbery" at Notre Dame in the wake of Sticka's announcement of his transfer, Fr. Edmund Joyce, Notre Dame vice-president, asserted:

"We have a rule saying any transfer from a school playing football cannot play football at Notre Dame. It is intended to prevent just such a situation as this. Sticka will not play football at Notre Dame."

Simultaneously, Irish Athletic Director Edward Krause disclosed that Assistant Coach Bob McBride had sent a telegram to Sticka at his Natick, Mass., home, pointing out the rule would prevent Sticka from competing in football at Notre Dame.

McBride had corresponded with Sticka, who said the Irish aide told him, "if you want to come down, come ahead for a visit."

Krause said that he, himself, was unaware that Sticka was enrolled at Trinity. When he discovered that fact this morning, Krause said, he informed McBride that he (McBride) apparently had misinterpreted the Notre Dame rule on transfers.

Notre Dame's transfer rule, Krause said, is more strict than that of the N. C. A. A. which permits a football-playing transfer to play at another school after a year's residence.

Earlier today Sticka told the Hartford Times that he had written McBride at the suggestion of a former Natick High School classmate, presumably Frank Varrichione, a sophomore, who played regular guard for Notre Dame last season.

Sticka, a 205-pound fullback for the undefeated Trinity frosh team last fall, said he had been thinking about transferring to Notre Dame for three or four weeks.

Krause said Sticka's transfer has not yet been accepted by Notre Dame. Sticka, who recently completed his mid-year exams at Trinity, said he planned to register at Notre Dame next Tuesday. He said he had visited South Bend last Monday and "liked it out there."

Sticka said that he, and not Notre Dame, started the negotiations leading to his decision to transfer.

But Trinity football Coach Dan Jessee disputed this.

Calling Sticka "my whole football team," Jessee said "they (Notre Dame) kept after him after failing to get him before he enrolled at Trinity."

STAYS AT TRINITY

NATICK, Mass., Jan. 31 (AP)—Charlie Sticka, triple - threat freshman fullback whose transfer from Trinity College to Notre Dame created a campus storm, said tonight he would remain at Trinity because he would be ineligible to play football at South Bend.

Pairings Made For Northeast Tourney

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

February could be a mighty cold month, but regardless of what the temperature is outside, it's going to be mighty hot for the Ouachita Parish High School Lions inside gymnasium walls for not less than two games a week within the month as Coach Herbert Holliman shoots his forces into the thick of the Twin-A league campaign for the right to get a shot at the state championship.

With the exception of participation in the annual Northeast Louisiana State Invitational Tournament next week end and a February 11 date with that intra-parish rival, Calhoun, Ouachita will be playing nothing but Class AA opposition from here on out.

The Class AA games loom mighty important for the Lions simply because they have to finish no lower than second place in order to go to the state tournament. Right now Ouachita still has a good chance with a 2-1 league record. Bossier City heads the parade with five wins, and Ouachita still has to face B. C. twice. Bastrop nicked the Lions for their only conference loss. They get one more chance to even the score with the Rams.

If Ouachita can look as keen the rest of the way as the team that mauled Haynesville here Friday night, the Lions' fortune could get brighter. The Lion regulars played flawless ball for the first quarter, then Coach Holliman let his reserves work practically all the rest of the way in the 62-34 rout after the first stringers had taken a 27-4 command in the first quarter. If Holliman had chosen to work his top five all the way, the Lions might have hit the century mark, so consistent were they at hitting the basket at any range.

Byrd of Shreveport moves in Tuesday night to give the Lions their fourth conference scrap as part of a double header show that also includes a Northeast Louisiana State vs. East Texas Baptist College game in the Ouachita gym. Then comes the Northeast tourney with no bearing on the title race. But Bastrop comes to Monroe on February 10. Calhoun breaks the conference grind for the Lions the next night, and from there on it will be a strict diet of "AA" opposition.

Friday the Thirteenth is going to be an unlucky day for somebody. That's the date for the first meeting between the high-flying Bossier City outfit and the ambitious Lions. This game will be played on Bossier's own floor. Then follows Haynesville, there, the 17th; Byrd at Shreveport, the 20th; Fair Park here, the 24th; and a wrapup with Bossier City here, the 27th.

With seven conference games to go, the Lions can do mighty good for themselves with a fair share of wins, but right now it looks like Ouachita's sternest competitors will be Bossier, Bastrop, and Fair Park. True, the Lions hold a win over Fair Park, but the score was by the slimmest of margins, and the Indians are plenty capable of turning the tables.

Athletes like Walter Bennett, Larry Barnes, Ed Estep, Tommy Sanders, Barney Fuller, and "Snow" Matkins will have to be at their best the rest of the way. We've seen teams we considered better at Ouachita, but the way these boys performed, although briefly, Friday night showed plenty of promise. Backing them are Steve White, "Biggie" Moore, Doyle Holstead, Harold Simmons, Jerry Huckabay, Richard Kincaid as reserve power although the heavy duty in the tough ones will be left up to the top five.

Right now, Ouachita's over-all record for the season reads twelve wins and five losses, only two of the defeats (by Bastrop and Calhoun) coming in scheduled games. They lost to Crowville, Chatham and Ruston in tourney competition, but won their own tournament a week ago.

BIG CAGE EVENT FOR PREP TEAMS OPENING FRIDAY

Fifteenth Annual Basketball Show Attracts 28 Teams

Pairings for the fifteenth annual Northeast Louisiana State College Invitational Basketball Tournament, opening here next Friday and continuing through Saturday night, were announced yesterday by A. S. Huffman and Miss Ada Bess Hart.

Huffman, health and physical education director for women, will conduct the girls' division.

The growing list of high school invitational tournaments over the state, with several in progress nearly every weekend, has cut into the usual strength of the Northeast event which attracted 28 teams this year, one of the smallest entry lists in the history of the Monroe meet, but most of the powerhouses of this section of the state are represented to assure Northeast of high quality even if the quantity has been reduced.

Miss Hart yesterday stressed a state ruling that individual health certificates must be produced by coaches for every girl they intend to use in the tournament. "The state athletic association is very strict concerning these health certificates for the protection of the girls, and they must be made available," Miss Hart said.

First, second and third place trophies will be awarded top teams in each division of the tourney. In addition, Ed Lockhart of Lockhart Sports Shop here will award sportsmanship trophies to a boy and a girl in the meet, and the college will present individual miniature gold basketballs to the five boys and six girls named on the all-tournament teams.

The pairings were announced as follows:

GIRLS' DIVISION

Friday — Fort Necessity vs. Calhoun, 9 a.m.; Mangham vs. Columbia, 11 a.m.; Chatham vs. Fort Necessity-Calhoun winner, 2 p.m.; Baskin vs. Mangham - Columbia winner, 4 p.m.; Neville vs. Forest, 7 p. m.; Ouachita vs. Pioneer, 8 p.m. (All games in Northeast gym).

Saturday — Semi-finals 2 and 4 p.m. Consolation game, 7 p.m. Championship final 8 p.m.

BOYS' DIVISION

Friday (Northeast gym) — Collinston vs. L.T.I., 8 a.m.; Columbia vs. Ogden, 10 a.m.; Baskin vs. Kelly, 1 p.m.; Simsboro vs. Pio- vs. Collinston-L.T.I. winner, (5 - p.m. (Ouachita gym) — Eros vs. Ouachita, 4 p.m.; Forest vs. Calhoun, 5 p.m.; Neville vs. Weston, 7 p.m.; Fort Necessity vs. Chatham, 8 p.m.; Grayson vs. Simsboro-Pioneer winner, 9 p.m.

Saturday — Quarter - finals, 9, 10 and 11 a.m. Semi-finals—1 and 3 p.m. Consolation game, 6 p.m. Championship final, 9 p.m. (All Saturday games in Northeast gym).

John Henning, Jimmy Siksay Wrestle Return Match Tomorrow At Kallio's

'Irish' Jack Kelly Takes On Bobby Wickson In Semi-Final

The wrestling program at Gus Kallio's Arena tomorrow night will bring back the two grapplers who featured the January 12 card; Hungarian Jimmy Siksay and Foridian John Henning; in the feature two-fall-to-win, 90-minute time limit match.

Three weeks ago, this pair of youthful gladiators put on one of the finest displays of rough-but-clean wrestling ever seen at the local arena, with Henning winning the first and third falls, after some painful moments of Siksay Hammer-locks and scissors-holds.

Both wrestlers have always been known to local fans as scientific specialists, with Siksay displaying a variety of holds to down such notorious villains as "Sailor" Moran and "Sockeye" McDonald, though both of them combined to give him a good working-over in a tag team match before Christmas.

Siksay, a strong, clean - cut youth, will again be forced to call on his entire repertoire of holds to counteract popular John's kangaroo drop kicks and broad shouldered strength.

The ex-Navy Frogman, one of the most popular wrestlers ever to appear at Kallio's Arena, is seldom matched with a clean-style grappler, usually having to contend with hair - pulling, slugging, and other villainous tactics; but in Siksay, he meets a man nearer his own age with a variety of painful holds, who not only has youth in his favor, but will be seeking revenge tomorrow night for his previous defeat at the Tampan's hands.

The semi-final, a one hour time limit match, two falls to win; pits "Irish" Jack Kelly, St. Louis, Mo., against young Bobby Wickson, Vicksburg, Miss.

Kelly, who hasn't appeared in Monroe for many months, is a strong but rough wrestler and should have a good match with the young Mississippian, who is reputedly a newcomer to the game, and is as fast as he is eager.

CRAFTY ADMIRAL GIVEN TOP LOAD

Will Carry 129 Pounds In $50,000 McLennan Event

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 31. (AP)—Crafty Admiral, leading money winning horse last year, was assigned top-weight of 129 pounds today for the $50,000 added McLennan at Hialeah race track next Saturday, Feb. 7.

The Charfran stable speedster, owned by Charles and Fran Cohen, Miami Beach, drew one pound more than William G. Helis, Jr.'s Spartan Valor, his rival for 1952 handicap honors.

Sparton Valor won the McLennan a year ago, setting a new track record, and then went on to capture the Widener.

Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' One Count drew 126 pounds for the mile and a furlong test for three year olds and upward.

Bracketed at 122 pounds just below the top three in the bulky field of 64 entries were George D. Widener's Battlefield and Gus Luellwitz's Irish-bred Windy City II. The latter, however, was reported to be out of action in California.

Hampton stable's Alerted, winner of seven stakes last year, drew 120 pounds, Iceberg 2nd and Sunglow, 118 each, Ken, 117, Esmero and One Hitter, 116 each, and Hitex, Oil Capitol and Payucano, 115 apiece.

Oil Capitol upset Battlefield in the seven furlong Palm Beach.

Others included Gangway, 113, the 1951 victor, Three Rings, 110, the 1950 winner, and Mass O'Gold, 108, second last year.

W. A. Edgar's Prince Dare was third, a neck behind Ace Destroyer, and Charfran stable's Brown Booter was fourth in the field of 14 three year olds.

King Pin paid $19.20, $9.60 and $7 in the $2 mutuels while Ace Destroyer returned $5.60 and $3.90. Prince Dare paid $10.60 to show.

King Pin, son of Enow out of Selenga, earned $14,350 of the gross purse of $19,925 and ran the seven furlongs in 1:27 1-5 over a muddy track.

Brookmead stable's First Aid, with Ira Hanford up, caught the front running Slim, owned by Mrs. Wallace Gilroy, in the stretch and won by half a length. Spring Hill farm's Dr. Stanley was third, a length and a half back, and Mrs. O. S. Deming's Thaxter was fourth in the field of 10 in the second division.

Mrs. N. Gralnick's Top That, favorite at 2 to 1, finished sixth.

King Pin was second a week ago and fifth in an earlier start this month. He earned $19,925 in 10 races last year.

First Aid, son of Bernborough out of Humane, was worth $13.60, $6.50 and $4.80 across the board. Slim paid $5.10 and $4.20 while the show price on Dr. Stanley was $6.

Despite heavy showers that started around noon and continued until the feature, attendance was 20,580, only about 1,200 below the corresponding Saturday last year.

Attendance for the first 14 days of Hialeah's 40-day meeting is only about 3,500 under the corresponding period last year in spite of unfavorable weather.

The betting on the nine - race card today totaled $1,543,072 compared with $1,622,777 on the corresponding day last year.

Succeeds Baker After Successful Junior College Career

DENVER, Jan. 31. (AP)—Bob Blackman, 34, coach at Pasadena, Calif., junior college, was appointed head football coach at the University of Denver today.

He succeeds Johnny Baker, who resigned after Denver failed to win a game last fall in the Skyline Conference. He was head coach five years.

Athletic Director E. E. (Tad) Wieman said Blackman had been hired on a one year basis. He will come here in about two weeks.

Blackman has been coach at Pasadena City College since 1949. His team won 34 games, lost six and tied three in four years. His 1951 team won 12 straight contests, including the triumph over Tyler, Tex., in the 1951 Junior Rose Bowl game. This team was rated as the national junior college champion.

Before going to Pasadena, Blackman was successful in coaching high school and service teams. He coached the San Diego navy training station team in 1942 when it won all but one game.

Blackman was assistant freshman football coach at U.S.C. from 1939 until he entered navy service.

He used the V formation attack at Pasadena. His 1951 team established an all - time record in the Junior Rose Bowl by rollig up 492 yards from scrimmage against Tyler. The team scored 57 touchdowns in 12 games. His 1952 squad averaged five touchdowns per game.

Notre Dame Declares Trinity Ace Can't Play For Irish If He Moves

Transfers Not Allowed To Participate At South Bend

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 31 (AP)—Charlie Sticka, brilliant freshman fullback at Trinity College, today was advised by Notre Dame he would be unable to play football for the Fighting Irish in his furore-provoking transfer to Notre Dame.

Shortly after Trinity athletic officials hurled charges of "robbery" at Notre Dame in the wake of Sticka's announcement of his transfer, Fr. Edmund Joyce, Notre Dame vice-president, asserted:

"We have a rule saying any transfer from a school playing football cannot play football at Notre Dame. It is intended to prevent just such a situation as this. Sticka will not play football at Notre Dame."

Simultaneously, Irish Athletic Director Edward Krause disclosed that Assistant Coach Bob McBride had sent a telegram to Sticka at his Natick, Mass., home, pointing out the rule would prevent Sticka from competing in football at Notre Dame.

McBride had corresponded with Sticka, who said the Irish aide told him, "if you want to come down, come ahead for a visit."

Krause said that he, himself, was unaware that Sticka was enrolled at Trinity. When he discovered that fact this morning, Krause said, he informed McBride that he (McBride) apparently had misinterpreted the Notre Dame rule on transfers.

Notre Dame's transfer rule, Krause said, is more strict than that of the N. C. A. A. which permits a football-playing transfer to play at another school after a year's residence.

Earlier today Sticka told the Hartford Times that he had written McBride at the suggestion of a former Natick High School classmate, presumably Frank Varrichione, a sophomore, who played regular guard for Notre Dame last season.

Sticka, a 205-pound fullback for the undefeated Trinity frosh team last fall, said he had been thinking about transferring to Notre Dame for three or four weeks.

Krause said Sticka's transfer has not yet been accepted by Notre Dame. Sticka, who recently completed his mid-year exams at Trinity, said he planned to register at Notre Dame next Tuesday. He said he had visited South Bend last Monday and "liked it out there."

Sticka said that he, and not Notre Dame, started the negotiations leading to his decision to transfer.

But Trinity football Coach Dan Jessee disputed this.

Calling Sticka "my whole football team," Jessee said "they (Notre Dame) kept after him after failing to get him before he enrolled at Trinity."

STAYS AT TRINITY

NATICK, Mass., Jan. 31 (AP)—Charlie Sticka, triple - threat freshman fullback whose transfer from Trinity College to Notre Dame created a campus storm, said tonight he would remain at Trinity because he would be ineligible to play football at South Bend.

Southeastern's Quint Romps Through Northeast

RUSTY REDSKINS SUFFER 87 TO 43 DEFEAT BY LIONS

Indians, Idle Nearly Two Weeks, Slow To Get Started

By TED HECKATHORN

The Northeast Louisiana State cagers, extremely rusty after a near-two weeks' layoff, returned to action last night on their own court, and, only hitting for 15 of 87 field goal attempts, were trounced by the Southeastern Louisiana Lions, 87-43.

The Lion cagers, as hot as the Indians were cold, dropped in 37 of 110 floor tries, for a neat 33.6 average. Paced by long range marksman Dick Sharp, a short, ball-hawking guard, and 6-foot-7-inch center Dennis Wagner, each of whom scored 18 points, the visitors led 31-4 at the end of the first quarter, 52-20 at halftime, and 70-35 at the end of the third.

The Indians, in the first stanza, saw the score zoom to 14-0 in favor of Southeastern, before they tallied a point. Coach Cary Phillips replaced every starter, with the exception of Center Robert Bennett, in an effort to stem the sharp-shooting Lion attack.

The invaders were fast ball-hawks under each hoop, working the ball in for fast layups or Wagner tip-ins, with guards Sharp and Hood picking up every loose ball in sight, plus a few they were personally responsible for loosening.

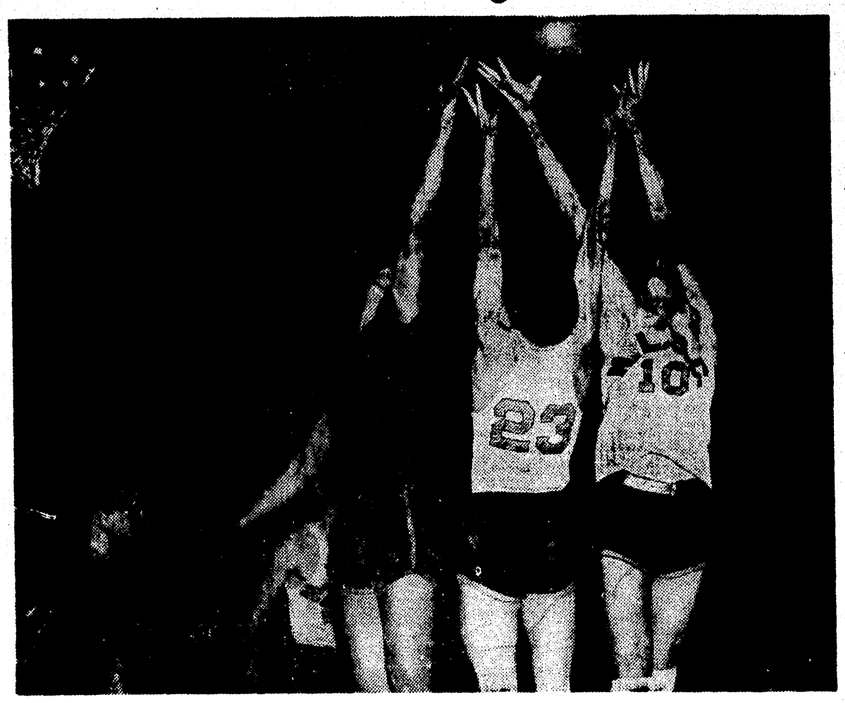

Bennett, who tallied the sole Indian goal in the first period, led the Redskin attack with 12 points; closely followed by James Shively, who swished in four long court sets and two free throws for ten points.

Opening the fourth quarter, with the Indians trailing by 35 points, Southeastern played an entire team of substitutes, who, led by pivotman Dick Stiga, rolled up 17 more points to the Indians' eight, though Coach Philips cleared his bench in retaliation, leaving only Shively and Mark Boatright in the game.

Texas League Takes Economy Steps, Reduces Season, Trims Umpire Staff

Look For Increased Attendance; Burnett Doesn't Agree

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 31 (AP)—The Texas League moved toward economy today and at the same time predicted 1953 attendance would be up more than 400,000 over last season.

Ending the winter meeting by adopting a 154-game schedule to be played over a period of 150 days — seven games fewer than last year and two days shorter — the club owners decided expenses should be cut. In this direction they voted to reduce the cost of operating the league office—which ran to $90,000 last year—by cutting corners along the line. This included trimming the umpire staff from 12 to 10, voting against having a supervisor of umpires and deciding not to pay expenses of holding a beauty contest.

All the club owners were optimistic except Dick Burnett, Dallas operator, who said he thought attendance over the league would be off at least 100,000 from last year. He declared that unless the major leagues moved out of the minors—that is minor club ownership—minor league baseball would die out altogether.

An attendance of 1,785,000 was forecast by the club owners. The league drew 1,350,000 last year—the third year in a row to show a decrease. Advance ticket sales are up in most of the league cities and the fact that there is no national election this year were points stressed by those anticipating bigger crowds.

The forecasts were: Fort Worth, 200,000; Houston; 300,000; Oklahoma City, 225,000; Shreveport 150,000; Beaumont 200,000; Dallas 260,000; Tulsa, 200,000; San Antonio, 250,000. Burnett said his forecast was contingent on a good showing by his Negro third baseman, Buzz Clarkson. "If he does not live up to expectations, I fear we'll be down to 225,000," Burnett said.

Allen Russell, Beaumont owner, said the thing he feared most was that the major leagues would allow unlimited television. "If this comes about we'll be dead," he declared. But, he added, he didn't think this would come, if it comes at all, within three years.

Grayle Howlett of Tulsa said he thought the most important thing for the minors to do was to improve their facilities for the fans and to put on better shows—that is have more pleasing baseball. He said the competition from other amusements was much stronger now.

Bonneau Peters of Shreveport said he thought all the clubs could be operated independently to the benefit of all. Peters has for years gone it alone. He said in that way he could make money by selling players.

The schedule opens April 10 and closes Sept. 7. Opening games are Fort Worth at Dallas, Oklahoma City at Tulsa, San Antonio at Beaumont and Shreveport at Houston. The All-Star game will be at Shreveport July 17. A motion by Russell to add seven double headers to the schedule to make 161 games as played last year was voted down.

REDS WILL TRY TO LAND KINER

Paul Says He Will Offer Deal With Pittsburgh Club

CINCINNATI, Jan. 31. (AP)—General Manager Gabe Paul notified his office here today from New York that he would make an offer to the Pittsburgh Pirates for outfielder Ralph Kiner.

Paul and Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pirates, are in New York attending the major league baseball meetings.

Kiner, the league's leading home run hitter over the past several years, hit 37 homers last season to tie with Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs for the loop leadership. His batting average slipped, however, to .244 and thus far Kiner has not signed a Pittsburgh contract for the 1953 season.

Paul did not disclose what he planned to offer Rickey for Kiner but it was understood it would be cash and players. One of the Cincinnati "expendables" is Joe Adcock. Adcock came to the Reds as a first baseman but has been used in the outfield. He has said he did not want to play the outfield again.

There also have been general reports that the Reds desired to peddle infielder Grady Hatton. Hatton played second base last season after spending his previous years here as a third baseman.

Kiner's known failure to hit well in Crosley Field brought immediate speculation here that Paul's efforts to obtain the Pirate slugger might be part of a possible three-way deal.

Paul would not say in conversation with Cincinnati baseball writers whether he had such a plan in mind.

It Looks Like Record For Cage Deep Freeze

MCALESTER, Okla., Jan. 31 (AP)—The Pittsburg County Basketball Tournament came to a standstill today.

Savanna beat Crowder in a girls' game 5-2, and out of the regulation 28-minute contest, one girl stood still with the ball more than 25 minutes.

Crowder Coach Kenneth Drummonds decided to try and stop high scoring Savanna with a deep freeze. Laveda Wilcox was ordered to hold the ball every time she got it.

Savanna opened the game with a quick two points. Laveda then got the ball and stood motionless in one spot for the rest of the seven-minute quarter, except for an attempt at a goal in the last second. Crowder was given the ball at the start of the second quarter and Laveda went into her freeze again. The score at the end of the first half was 2-0.

Savanna again was given the ball at the start of the third period and made another bucket. Then the first half play was repeated.

A foul on each side was committed in the fourth period and Crowder made two points and Savanna one from the free throw line.

The fans didn't like the strategy and yelled and hollered for action. The officials said it was the easiest money they ever made.

Boston Red Sox List 14 Home Night Games; Omit St. Louis Browns

BOSTON, Jan. 31. (AP)—A 14-game night schedule at home against all American League opposition except the St. Louis Browns was announced tonight by the Boston Red Sox.

The Sox scheduled three games against Cleveland and Chicago and two each against New York, Detroit, Philadelphia and Washington.

The Browns were left out apparently because owner Bill Veeck, has demanded that his club share in television and radio receipts in games away from St. Louis.

Santa Domingo, Puerto Rican League Pitcher Signs '53 Giant Pact

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)— Ruben Gomez, 25-year old righthanded pitcher who has been the star of the Puerto Rico and Santa Domingo leagues the past few years, has signed with the New York Giants for 1953, the club said today.

Tom Sheehan, scout for the Giants, said the youngster "can win in the Majors right now." He registered eight successive triumphs in one stretch this winter in the Puerto Rican League. Gomez, who relies mostly on a screwball, once was a New York Yankee farm hand for a brief period.

Chisox Sign Red Hot Cuban Hurler; Leaves Only Seven Unsigned

CHICAGO, an. 31. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox announced today the signing of their red hot Cuban pitching prospect, Mike Fornieles.

Fornieles has been pitching in the Cuban winter league where he is posting a 9-3 mark.

The Sox acquired him this winter from the Washington Senators, for whom the Cuban started two games in 1952. He blanked the Philadelphia Athletics on one hit in his debut Sept. 1 and then dropped a 3-2 decision to the White Sox Sept. 9.

Manager Paul Richards has tabbed Fornieles, a righthander, as a potential starter.

LOUISIANA TECH ABSORBS DEFEAT

Spring Hill Hands Bulldogs First Conference Loss

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 31 (AP) — Spring Hill College played its best ball of the season tonight to hand Louisiana Tech its first Gulf States Conference basketball loss 70-63.

The favored Ruston, La., team had won four conference games in a row before tonight. It was Spring Hill's first conference win of the season.

Spring Hill Coach Bill Gardiner abandoned his two platoon attack in favor of a tricky new offense that paid dividends.

Hitting the hoops for 36 per cent of its shots, the Spring Hill team grabbed an opening lead and kept it all the way. Bucky Poole, a five feet eight inch freshman guard, was the sparkplug of the Badger attack, breaking up Tech plays time after time, and scoring 10 points himself.

The Louisiana team appeared to be slightly off its game. L. V. Norris, Tech's six feet three inch forward, was the team's leading scorer with 16 points, followed by center Chester Coker with 15.

Happy Mahfouz paced the Spring Hill attack with 17.

Purse For 'Exclusive' Colonial Tournament Increased To $25,000

FORT WORTH, Jan. 31 (AP)—The purse for the eighth annual Colonial Golf Tournament to be held here May 21-24 has been raised to $25,000, the special tournament organization committee announced today.

This will make Colonial's "invitation-only" event the richest in the United States among tournaments which do not charge an entry fee and one of the five richest on the annual schedule.

The tournament, first summer four event to offer $15,000 prize money, raised the payroll to $20,000 the day before the 1952 tournament won by Ben Hogan.

The Colonial is the nations' most exclusive regulation P. G. A. tournament. The field has never exceeded 42 players.

Nichols Motors Trounces El Dorado Quintet For Tri-State Championship

Monroe Team In Olla's 'March Of Dimes' Show Tomorrow

SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 31 (Special)—The high-geared Nichols Motors basketball team of Monroe captured the championship trophy of the annual Tri-State Basketball Tournament here tonight, sweeping past Lion Oilers of El Dorado, Ark., in the finals, 66 to 47.

The only serious opposition for the independent Monroe team was furnished by Kilpatrick-Gresham Motors of Jonesboro. The Nichols outfit barely squeezed past the classy Jonesboro team in the semi-finals, 43 to 41.

Earlier Nichols has crushed the Mansfield Independents, 58-11, and Leesville V. F. W., 61-26.

Johnny McConathy and Jerry Lovett sparked the drive of Curtis Nichols' boys in the final battle of the 20-team tournament. McConathy registered 19 points, and Lovett bagged 13 against the El Dorado combination.

The Nichols team, which now has lost only one in its last 45 games, next appears at Olla, La., Monday night in a "March of Dimes" show against the powerful Meridian Independents of Meridian, Miss.

High Tribute Paid To Bobby Jones As Picture Unveiled At Golf House

Eisenhower Sends Message Of Esteem For Occasion

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)— Golf and the president of the United States paid a new tribute to the retired emperor of the links today when a portrait of Bob Jones was unveiled in the Golf House Museum.

Jones the grand slammer, now 52 and still fighting a spine ailment, sat in a green leather chair as leading figures of the sport crammed into the library to watch ceremonies and hear a letter of praise from the nation's chief executive.

"You all must be proud as I am to have Bob's portrait hanging in golf house," President Eisenhower said in a letter read by Totton P. Heffelfinger, president of the U.S. Golf Association.

"Those who have been fortunate enough to know him realize that his fame as a golfer is transcended by his inestimable qualities as a human being.

"Bob's contribution to our great game is reflected by its deserved prominence in the field of sports. But his gift to his friends is the warmth that comes from unselfishness, superb judgment, nobility of character, unwavering loyalty of principle."

This was a letter from Eisenhower the golfer, proud of an occasional 80, who used Jones' little white cottage and facilities of the famous Augusta National golf course at Augusta, Ga., for a brief vacation after the November election.

Jones—christened Robert Tyre Jones, Jr.—Rose to his feet with the help of a cane and his eyes were a little damp as he responded:

"This is a happy meeting of two things that have meant much to me in my life," he said. "They are the U.S.G.A, with which I was long associated as a player an later a member of the executive committee, and the Augusta National Golf Club, where I have many friends."

The onetime boy wonder from Atlanta was stricken with a spine ailment several years ago and has undergone several operations, recently he was stricken with a heart attack.

Members of the Augusta National club, some 100 of them, contributed to buy the portrait which was hung at the choice spot in the library—just over the mantel.

Up the stairs a few yards, looking down proudly as if from a press coop, was a portrait of the late O. B. Keeler, the Atlanta Journal sports writer known as "Bobby Jones' Boswell." It was Keeler who recorded Jones' 13 major U.S. and British championships from 1923 through 1930 and the unparalleled grand slam of 1930 when Bob won the U.S. open and Amateur and British Open and Amateur in a single year.

Around the walls flanking the new Jones' portrait —a 40 by 32 inch canvas showing the sweathered Jones in a familiar follow-through—are pictures of 39 U.S. amateur champions.

Cliffor Roberts, director of the Augusta National Golf Club which stages the Masters Tournament, told how members of the club had chipped in to get the portrait after being told a place was reserved for it in the golf museum.

Roberts, a playing partner of Eisenhower, said the artist, Thomas E. Stephens, had been acquired through the president. Stephens, on hand for the ceremonies, is a painting companion of the president, an amateur artist.

The unveiling of Jones' portrait followed the annual meeting of the U.S. Golf Association, which transacted little business of headline importance.

The most interesting measures dealt with the ladies, who were told they would be forbidden to wear shorts in the future U.S.G.A.-sponsored tournaments. These include particularly the National Amateur and the National Open, the latter recently taken under the U.S.G.A. wing.

Joe Dey, executive secretary of the U.S.G.A., made the solemn announcement. He said the ladies committee had made the decision. He didn't explain why.

Ex-Yankee Infielder Knocks Out Bridge In First Korean Action

SEOUL, Jan. 31 (AP) — Slugger Jerry Coleman, who once batted 'em out as a second baseman for the New York Yankees, made a hit his first time up—as a captain in the First Marine Air Wing.

The air force announced today that Coleman, on his first Korean combat mission Friday, knocked out a Communist rail bridge 25 miles South of Sariwon. The bridge was on a main supply route leading from the North Korean capital of Pyongyang to the front.

"It seems like old times flying with the Marines," said 28-year-old Jerry. He was a dive bomber pilot in World War II.

Coleman was recalled to active duty last April. He has hopes of being able to rejoin the Yankees for the 1954 season.

His wife, Louise, and children, Diane, three; and Gerald, one, live in San Francisco.

S. team in the matches at Seattle this summer. It was donated by Jerome P. Bowes, Jr., of Highland Park, Ill.

Pedro Suisnaga, president of the Mexico golf group, said he hoped the Inter-American competition "would help our countries know each other better" and expressed the hope that other American countries would join. Collin Rankin, president of the Canadian group, also attended.

GOLF HANDICAP ACCORD SOUGHT

USGA Adopts New System To Show Player's Ability

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—The U. S. Golf Association moved toward a nationwide uniformity for determining handicaps by adopting a new system today which will produce both basic and current handicaps.

A basic handicap is designed to show a player's golf ability over a considerable period. A current handicap is designed to show the at-the-moment state of his game.

Heretofore the association has recommended basic handicaps only. The new system embodies the current handicap methods of the Chicago District Golf Association.

The following are the main points:

1. Basic handicaps will be computed from the lowest ten of the player's last 50 scores. When fewer than 50 scores are available, twenty per cent of the available scores will be used.

2. Current handicaps will be computed from the lowest ten of the player's last 15 scores. Provisional handicaps may be made when the player has turned in more than six but less than 15 scores.

3. The new system will use a handicap chart, based on figures in the present Chicago District Golf Association chart, making use of differentials between scores and course ratings.

4. Efforts will be made to devise a uniform method for rating courses. Until this time plans now in effect may be used.

Indians, Idle Nearly Two Weeks, Slow To Get Started

By TED HECKATHORN

The Northeast Louisiana State cagers, extremely rusty after a near-two weeks' layoff, returned to action last night on their own court, and, only hitting for 15 of 87 field goal attempts, were trounced by the Southeastern Louisiana Lions, 87-43.

The Lion cagers, as hot as the Indians were cold, dropped in 37 of 110 floor tries, for a neat 33.6 average. Paced by long range marksman Dick Sharp, a short, ball-hawking guard, and 6-foot-7-inch center Dennis Wagner, each of whom scored 18 points, the visitors led 31-4 at the end of the first quarter, 52-20 at halftime, and 70-35 at the end of the third.

The Indians, in the first stanza, saw the score zoom to 14-0 in favor of Southeastern, before they tallied a point. Coach Cary Phillips replaced every starter, with the exception of Center Robert Bennett, in an effort to stem the sharp-shooting Lion attack.

The invaders were fast ball-hawks under each hoop, working the ball in for fast layups or Wagner tip-ins, with guards Sharp and Hood picking up every loose ball in sight, plus a few they were personally responsible for loosening.

Bennett, who tallied the sole Indian goal in the first period, led the Redskin attack with 12 points; closely followed by James Shively, who swished in four long court sets and two free throws for ten points.

Opening the fourth quarter, with the Indians trailing by 35 points, Southeastern played an entire team of substitutes, who, led by pivotman Dick Stiga, rolled up 17 more points to the Indians' eight, though Coach Philips cleared his bench in retaliation, leaving only Shively and Mark Boatright in the game.

Texas League Takes Economy Steps, Reduces Season, Trims Umpire Staff

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 31 (AP)—The Texas League moved toward economy today and at the same time predicted 1953 attendance would be up more than 400,000 over last season.

Ending the winter meeting by adopting a 154-game schedule to be played over a period of 150 days — seven games fewer than last year and two days shorter — the club owners decided expenses should be cut. In this direction they voted to reduce the cost of operating the league office—which ran to $90,000 last year—by cutting corners along the line. This included trimming the umpire staff from 12 to 10, voting against having a supervisor of umpires and deciding not to pay expenses of holding a beauty contest.

All the club owners were optimistic except Dick Burnett, Dallas operator, who said he thought attendance over the league would be off at least 100,000 from last year. He declared that unless the major leagues moved out of the minors—that is minor club ownership—minor league baseball would die out altogether.

An attendance of 1,785,000 was forecast by the club owners. The league drew 1,350,000 last year—the third year in a row to show a decrease. Advance ticket sales are up in most of the league cities and the fact that there is no national election this year were points stressed by those anticipating bigger crowds.

The forecasts were: Fort Worth, 200,000; Houston; 300,000; Oklahoma City, 225,000; Shreveport 150,000; Beaumont 200,000; Dallas 260,000; Tulsa, 200,000; San Antonio, 250,000. Burnett said his forecast was contingent on a good showing by his Negro third baseman, Buzz Clarkson. "If he does not live up to expectations, I fear we'll be down to 225,000," Burnett said.

Allen Russell, Beaumont owner, said the thing he feared most was that the major leagues would allow unlimited television. "If this comes about we'll be dead," he declared. But, he added, he didn't think this would come, if it comes at all, within three years.

Grayle Howlett of Tulsa said he thought the most important thing for the minors to do was to improve their facilities for the fans and to put on better shows—that is have more pleasing baseball. He said the competition from other amusements was much stronger now.

Bonneau Peters of Shreveport said he thought all the clubs could be operated independently to the benefit of all. Peters has for years gone it alone. He said in that way he could make money by selling players.

The schedule opens April 10 and closes Sept. 7. Opening games are Fort Worth at Dallas, Oklahoma City at Tulsa, San Antonio at Beaumont and Shreveport at Houston. The All-Star game will be at Shreveport July 17. A motion by Russell to add seven double headers to the schedule to make 161 games as played last year was voted down.

REDS WILL TRY TO LAND KINER

Paul Says He Will Offer Deal With Pittsburgh Club

CINCINNATI, Jan. 31. (AP)—General Manager Gabe Paul notified his office here today from New York that he would make an offer to the Pittsburgh Pirates for outfielder Ralph Kiner.

Paul and Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pirates, are in New York attending the major league baseball meetings.

Kiner, the league's leading home run hitter over the past several years, hit 37 homers last season to tie with Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs for the loop leadership. His batting average slipped, however, to .244 and thus far Kiner has not signed a Pittsburgh contract for the 1953 season.

Paul did not disclose what he planned to offer Rickey for Kiner but it was understood it would be cash and players. One of the Cincinnati "expendables" is Joe Adcock. Adcock came to the Reds as a first baseman but has been used in the outfield. He has said he did not want to play the outfield again.

There also have been general reports that the Reds desired to peddle infielder Grady Hatton. Hatton played second base last season after spending his previous years here as a third baseman.

Kiner's known failure to hit well in Crosley Field brought immediate speculation here that Paul's efforts to obtain the Pirate slugger might be part of a possible three-way deal.

Paul would not say in conversation with Cincinnati baseball writers whether he had such a plan in mind.

Chisox Sign Red Hot Cuban Hurler; Leaves Only Seven Unsigned

CHICAGO, an. 31. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox announced today the signing of their red hot Cuban pitching prospect, Mike Fornieles.

Fornieles has been pitching in the Cuban winter league where he is posting a 9-3 mark.

The Sox acquired him this winter from the Washington Senators, for whom the Cuban started two games in 1952. He blanked the Philadelphia Athletics on one hit in his debut Sept. 1 and then dropped a 3-2 decision to the White Sox Sept. 9.

Manager Paul Richards has tabbed Fornieles, a righthander, as a potential starter.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)— Ruben Gomez, 25-year old righthanded pitcher who has been the star of the Puerto Rico and Santa Domingo leagues the past few years, has signed with the New York Giants for 1953, the club said today.

It Looks Like Record For Cage Deep Freeze

MCALESTER, Okla., Jan. 31 (AP)—The Pittsburg County Basketball Tournament came to a standstill today.

Savanna beat Crowder in a girls' game 5-2, and out of the regulation 28-minute contest, one girl stood still with the ball more than 25 minutes.

Crowder Coach Kenneth Drummonds decided to try and stop high scoring Savanna with a deep freeze. Laveda Wilcox was ordered to hold the ball every time she got it.

Savanna opened the game with a quick two points. Laveda then got the ball and stood motionless in one spot for the rest of the seven - minute quarter, except for an attempt at a goal in the last second. Crowder was given the ball at the start of the second quarter and Laveda went into her freeze again. The score at the end of the first half was 2-0.

Savanna again was given the ball at the start of the third period and made another bucket. Then the first half play was repeated.

A foul on each side was committed in the fourth period and Crowder made two points and Savanna one from the free throw line.

The fans didn't like the strategy and yelled and hollered for action. The officials said it was the easiest money they ever made.

LOUISIANA TECH ABSORBS DEFEAT

Spring Hill Hands Bulldogs First Conference Loss

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 31 (AP)— Spring Hill College played its best ball of the season tonight to hand Louisiana Tech its first Gulf States Conference basketball loss 70-63.

The favored Ruston, La., team had won four conference games in a row before tonight. It was Spring Hill's first conference win of the season.

Spring Hill Coach Bill Gardiner abandoned his two platoon attack in favor of a tricky new offense that paid dividends.

Hitting the hoops for 36 per cent of its shots, the Spring Hill team grabbed an opening lead and kept it all the way. Bucky Poole, a five feet eight inch freshman guard, was the sparkplug of the Badger attack, breaking up Tech plays time after time, and scoring 10 points himself.

The Louisiana team appeared to be slightly off its game. L. V. Norris, Tech's six feet three inch forward, was the team's leading scorer with 16 points, followed by center Chester Coker with 15.

Happy Mahfouz paced the Spring Hill attack with 17.

The tournament, first summer four event to offer $15,000 prize money, raised the payroll to $20,000 the day before the 1952 tournament won by Ben Hogan.

The Colonial is the nations' most exclusive regulation P. G. A. tournament. The field has never exceeded 42 players.

High Tribute Paid To Bobby Jones As Picture Unveiled At Golf House

Eisenhower Sends Message Of Esteem For Occasion

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)— Golf and the president of the United States paid a new tribute to the retired emperor of the links today when a portrait of Bob Jones was unveiled in the Golf House Museum.

Jones the grand slammer, now 52 and still fighting a spine ailment, sat in a green leather chair as leading figures of the sport crammed into the library to watch ceremonies and hear a letter of praise from the nation's chief executive.

"You all must be proud as I am to have Bob's portrait hanging in golf house," President Eisenhower said in a letter read by Totton P. Heffelfinger, president of the U.S. Golf Association.

"Those who have been fortunate enough to know him realize that his fame as a golfer is transcended by his inestimable qualities as a human being.

"Bob's contribution to our great game is reflected by its deserved prominence in the field of sports. But his gift to his friends is the warmth that comes from unselfishness, superb judgment, nobility of character, unwavering loyalty of principle."

This was a letter from Eisenhower the golfer, proud of an occasional 80, who used Jones' little white cottage and facilities of the famous Augusta National golf course at Augusta, Ga., for a brief vacation after the November election.

Jones—christened Robert Tyre Jones, Jr.—Rose to his feet with the help of a cane and his eyes were a little damp as he responded:

"This is a happy meeting of two things that have meant much to me in my life," he said. "They are the U.S.G.A, with which I was long associated as a player an later a member of the executive committee, and the Augusta National Golf Club, where I have many friends."

The onetime boy wonder from Atlanta was stricken with a spine ailment several years ago and has undergone several operations, recently he was stricken with a heart attack.

Members of the Augusta National club, some 100 of them, contributed to buy the portrait which was hung at the choice spot in the library—just over the mantel.

Up the stairs a few yards, looking down proudly as if from a press coop, was a portrait of the late O. B. Keeler, the Atlanta Journal sports writer known as "Bobby Jones' Boswell." It was Keeler who recorded Jones' 13 major U.S. and British championships from 1923 through 1930 and the unparalleled grand slam of 1930 when Bob won the U.S. open and Amateur and British Open and Amateur in a single year.

Around the walls flanking the new Jones' portrait --a 40 by 32 inch canvas showing the sweathered Jones in a familiar follow-through—are pictures of 39 U.S. amateur champions.

Cliffor Roberts, director of the Augusta National Golf Club which stages the Masters Tournament, told how members of the club had chipped in to get the portrait after being told a place was reserved for it in the golf museum.

Roberts, a playing partner of Eisenhower, said the artist, Thomas E. Stephens, had been acquired through the president. Stephens, on hand for the ceremonies, is a painting companion of the president, an amateur artist.

The unveiling of Jones' portrait followed the annual meeting of the U.S. Golf Association, which transacted little business of headline importance.

The most interesting measures dealt with the ladies, who were told they would be forbidden to wear shorts in the future U.S.G.A.-sponsored tournaments. These inclue particularly the National Amateur and the National Open, the latter recently taken under the U.S.G.A. wing.

Joe Dey, executive secretary of the U.S.G.A., made the solemn announcement. He said the ladies committee had made the decision. He didn't explain why.

Ex-Yankee Infielder Knocks Out Bridge In First Korean Action

SEOUL, Jan. 31 (AP) — Slugger Jerry Coleman, who once batted 'em out as a second baseman for the New York Yankees, made a hit his first time up—as a captain in the First Marine Air Wing.

The air force announced today that Coleman, on his first Korean combat mission Friday, knocked out a Communist rail bridge 25 miles South of Sariwon. The bridge was on a main supply route leading from the North Korean capital of Pyongyang to the front.

"It seems like old times flying with the Marines," said 28-year-old Jerry. He was a dive bomber pilot in World War II.

Coleman was recalled to active duty last April. He has hopes of being able to rejoin the Yankees for the 1954 season.

GOLF HANDICAP ACCORD SOUGHT

USGA Adopts New System To Show Player's Ability

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—The U. S. Golf Association moved toward a nationwide uniformity for determining handicaps by adopting a new system today which will produce both basic and current handicaps.

A basic handicap is designed to show a player's golf ability over a considerable period. A current handicap is designed to show the at-the-moment state of his game.

Heretofore the association has recommended basic handicaps only. The new system embodies the current handicap methods of the Chicago District Golf Association.

The following are the main points:

1. Basic handicaps will be computed from the lowest ten of the player's last 50 scores. When fewer than 50 scores are available, twenty per cent of the available scores will be used.

2. Current handicaps will be computed from the lowest ten of the player's last 15 scores. Provisional handicaps may be made when the player has turned in more than six but less than 15 scores.

3. The new system will use a handicap chart, based on figures in the present Chicago District Golf Association chart, making use of differentials between scores and course ratings.

4. Efforts will be made to devise a uniform method for rating courses. Until this time plans now in effect may be used.

Clamp 8-Semester Rule On High School Athletes

CONSIDER HIRING 'CZAR' TO POLICE LOUISIANA PREPS

Plan Also Underway To Set Up Triple-A Conference

By JAMES SAGGUS

ALEXANDRIA, La., Jan. 31 (AP)—The Louisiana High School Athletic Association voted today to limit secondary students to eight semesters of athletic eligibility and to study proposals for a czar of prep sports and reclassifying schools.

Passage of the eight semester rule came on a voice vote after opponents of the rule were beaten 125-33 on a test of strength over a chair ruling on parliamentary procedure.

Spokesman for the group favoring retention of the present rule permitting 10 semesters of eligibility was C. E. Manning of Bogalusa.

"It is not fair to deny a boy the right to compete in athletics because he is not capable mentally of finishing school in four years," Manning said. "We allow them to take part in other school activities during their fifth year."

Each of the four classes of schools which are grouped according to enrollments recommended an eight semester rule at its sectional meeting yesterday. Supporters of the rule seemed confident of its passage and did not offer any arguments in its behalf.

They had to agree, however, on when the rule would go into effect. The motion as presented for action did not specify a date, although several persons shouted it should be interpreted as effective for either the 1953-54 or 1954-55 school years.

Opponents of the rule made their last stand by questioning a ruling by President W. L. Colvin of Jeanerette that the body could fix a date. The opponents claimed the move setting the date should be tabled one year as a new eligibility proposal. All eligibility proposals must live over a year before final action.

The association upheld Co vin's ruling by 125-33 standing vote and little resistance was offered when the group approved the rule, to be effective this fall.

The association upheld Colvin's vin to appoint committees to study re-aligning classification of schools and financial questions involved in hiring an executive secretary or czar for prep sports.

A preliminary study by a committee suggested $7,500 as an annual salary and an amount about equal for secretarial office and traveling expenses. The amount involved far exceeds available funds and the new committee would seek ways to raise the money.

The executive secretary would be given authority to enforce rulings, settle disputes and keep association records.

The association decided to have a committee investigate and recommend methods of re-dividing the schools into classes. Presently the largest schools are grouped in double-A, the next largest in A, the next in B and the smallest in C.

The proposal the committee will study calls for a new triple-A division, to embrace all schools with more than 400 enrollment. Each of the four remaining classes would have schools of more nearly the same size.

The czar and reclassification committees will report to Colvin when they have completed their studies and a special session of the association will be called.

All officers were re-elected. They included Colvin, president; J. L. Cathcart of Minden, vice president; and Grover C. Koffman of Shreveport's Byrd, secretary-treasurer.

Elected to the executive committee were Newell Painsance of Brusly from class C schools, Hugh Bateman of Ferriday from B, D. W. McBride of Oak Grove from A and Brother Alfonso of New Orleans Holy Cross from double-A.

Members of the committee whose terms did not expire were H. P. Overton of Baton Rouge's Istrouma in Double-A; J. F. Guglielmo of Lutcher in A; E. R. Hester of Arcadia in B; and R. L. Rupert of Meaux in C.

Approved by the association were motions to:

Allow athletes in the strawberry section which ends its fall term in mid-season — to complete the football season although they might have 17 credits after the fall term.

Make age the only eligibility rule for athletes at Louisiana Training Institute at Monroe, a correctional institution.

Allow athletes to play summer semi-pro baseball if they do not sign a contract.

Move Terrebonne of Houma from the southwest to the southeast double-A district.

Reimburse all schools at least part of the cost of attending state tournaments for which admissions are charged.

Require teams to play only five games to qualify for the state football championship in any double-A district with six or more teams.

Hold separate boxing tournaments for classes A and B, to be alternated among Southwestern Louisiana Institute, Louisiana State University and McNeese State College.

Count tie football games as half won and half lost.

Count points in relay events at state track meets on 10-8-6-4-2 basis for first five places.

Authorize committee to study redivision of class B football into eight districts.

A motion to raise the age limit for high school athletes to their 20th birthday was withdrawn by H. G. Robinson of Homer, who said he had offered it while athletes were permitted to play 10 semesters.

The present limit varies for each sport, generally allowing participation in a sport unless a student is 19 before that sport season begins.

Also rejected was a move to decide sites of playoff football games by bidding, with the team guaranteeing its opponent the most money being designated as host. Officials now draw lots for the game.

PELLETERI GOES TO EVER BRIGHT

Pollard And Harkins Filly In Fastest Time Of Meeting

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 31 (AP)—The front - running filly Ever Bright led from start to finish to win the first running of the $10,000 Pelleteri Memorial before 12,000 fans at the Fair Grounds race track today.

Jockey Ovie Scurlock took the daughter of Sun Again to the top as the 12-horse field left the starting gate.

Under Scurlock's strong urging, the fleet filly had a three-length advantage through most of the six-furlongs sprint. She finished two lengths in front of Hiram Jr., with the fast - closing Barametro taking the show position.

Ever Bright turned in a 1:11 1-5 effort, fastest time of the Fair Grounds meeting, an earned $10,300 and a silver trophy for owners Pollard and Harkins.

Favored by the throng that turned out for the nine-race program in perfect racing weather, Ever Bright returned $4.80, $3.40 and $3.

T. M. Johnson's Hiram, Jr., a 6-1 shot in the wagering, paid $5.80 and $4.20.

RILEY, M'WANE REACH FINALS

Defend Women's Four-Ball Crown Against Wall, Diringer

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., Jan. 31 (AP)—Defending champions Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Tex, and Bea McWane, Birmingham, Ala., squelched a belated rally by their opponents today and won a spot in the finals of the women's International Four-Ball Golf Tournament.

They will make their third bid for the championship which they won in 1949 and again last year in the 36-hole final Sunday against Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga., and Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore, over the Orange Brook Country Club course.

Miss Riley and Miss McWane defeated Pat Garner, Midland Tex., and Marjorie Lindsay McMillan, Milwaukee, Wisc., 2-up.

Miss Faulk and Miss Downey also had to fight off a rally to beat Carol Diringer, Tiffin, Ohio, and Mary Aganes Wall, Menominee, Mich., 2 and 1.

The Garner-Lindsay team came to life too late. Miss McWane put her team 4-up and five to play by winning the 13th with a birdie three on a 12-foot putt.

Miss Garner took the 14th with a birdie four, the 15th was halved, and Pat gained the 16th with a 16-foot putt and a birdie three. But Pat and Marge had trap trouble on the 17th and lost the match.

The Wall-Diringer duo began its rally on the 14th where Miss Diringer had a birdie four. Miss Wall sank a 15-footer for a birdie two at the 15th. Miss Diringer took the 16th with a par five and her team was then 2-down. The match ended with the 17th halved.

Spring Kahl Captures Clearwater; Pak Second

OLDSMAR, Fla., Jan. 31 (AP)—Spring Kahl won the $1,700 Clearwater Purse at Sunshine Park by half a length over Pak today, after the two mounts had raced head and head for most of the mile and a sixteenth route.

Spring Kahl, owned by Edwin G. Roth and ridden by Ronnie Baldwin, was the favorite and paid a low $2.90. The time was 1.46 4-5.

Rush Street took third, 3½ lengths back of Pak.

Harper, Holguin One-Stroke Off As Last Round Comes Up

By MURRAY SINCLAIR

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan 31 (AP)—E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Ardmore, Okla., and Tommy Bolt of Maplewood, N. J., tied for the lead of the $10,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament today at the end of 54 holes with scores of 199.

Their scores were 11 under par.

Bolt played almost faultless golf as he gained three strokes on Harrison, who had led the field through the first two rounds.

Chandler Harper, Portsmouth, Va., former P. G. A. champ, and Tony Holguin, Midlothian, Ill., a two-time winner of the Mexican Open, were a single stroke behind with totals of 200.

Johnny Palmer, Charlotte, N. C., shot his third round of subpar golf for totals of 65-69-68—202. He had a one-stroke lead on Iverson Martin, Maplewood, N. J.

Ideal golf weather continued to help most of golfdom's biggest names rip the par 70, 6,402-yard El Rio Golf and Country Club course to pieces.

Bolt has shown none of the temper for which he is noted on the course. So far in this tourney he had not gone over par while banging out 11 birdies.

"I'm playing good, all-around golf," Bolt said. "I haven't been in any serious trouble."

Bolt was almost in difficulty on the par 4, 343-yard fourth hole when his drive stopped about three feet from the trunk of a tree that partly obscured the green. His wedge shot dropped near the flag and he parred the hole.

Bolt's four birdies came on the 9th, 10th, 11th and 18th holes.

Bolt today shot a four-under par 66 to go along with previous rounds of 65-68 for his 199 aggregate.

Lady luck almost deserted Harrison, so did the magic of his putting. He had credited good fortune and good work on the greens for his lead the first two rounds.

Harrison's two-under-par 69 today was his highest roun dof the tournament.

Four players are five strokes back of the leaders with totals of 204. They are Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y.; Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn.; Jack Hardin, El Paso, Tex., and Jerry Barber, La Canada, Calif.

Walter Burkemo, Franklin, Mich., was alone with a total of 205.

Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., Jimmy Demaret, Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., and Henry Williams Jr., Reading, Pa., all former winners of the Tucson event, were in a group of eight tied at 206.

Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., led the amateurs with 213.

Veeck Makes Formal Protest Against Loss Of Night Games In Three Parks

Saigh Names Committee To Run Cards As Meeting Closes

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)— Bill Veeck, president of the St. Louis Browns, issued a formal protest to baseball Commissioner Ford Frick today against three clubs in the American League which have barred him from night games in their parks.

Fred Saigh, beleaguered owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, shared the headlines with Veeck when he named eight prominent St. Louis executives he was considering for a committee to run the Red Birds.

Saigh, sentenced this week to 15 months in prison for income tax evasion, did not attend the major league meetings of the club owners that ended today. Veeck, however, was very much in promithence. After being rebuffed on all sides by his colleagues, the dynamic Brownie boss was closeted with Frick for 90 minutes pleading his case before the commissioner.

Neither Veeck nor Frick would comment on the nature of their discussion but it was no secret that Veeck appealed to Frick to intercede in his television squabble with the New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox. Veeck, it was learned, asked for a uniform baseball rule that would guarantee all clubs an equality in night dates. This, he claimed was the original American League regulation in 1939, the year night ball was inaugurated in that circuit.

In a retaliatory move because of Veeck's refusal to permit televising of the Browns' games at their ball parks, the Yankees, Indians and Red Sox, have refused to grant any night games to the St. Louis club.

"If these clubs can throw me out of their night schedule, which will cost our club approximately $30,000," Veeck complained, "then there will be no limit to what they can do with their money weapon of night baseball. What is to prevent any of them from threatening a poor club with a player to sell, so that the club will be removed from the night schedule unless the player is delivered at a certain price? That is the point of equity I present."

Saigh, scheduled to return to St. Louis on a midnight (CST) tonight, said he intended to contact the following men to form a three-man committee to run his Cardinals:

Davis R. Calhoun, James Hickok and Arthur Blumeyer, bankers; Edwin M. Clark, president of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company; Arthur K. Atkinson, president of Wabash Railroad Company; Edgar Rand, president of International Shoe Company; J. Wesley McAfee, president of Union Electric Company, and Charles Thomas, president of Monsanto Chemical Company.

Blumeyer, Atkinson and Rand were not available for comment. The others declined to discuss the matter until they had an opportunity to talk with Saigh.

Saigh, declined personal invitations from Frick, National League President Warren Giles and Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, to remain in New York for the baseball writers' dinner tomorrow evening. He pleaded he wanted to utalize as much time as possible to clear up his personal business and as well as the club affairs.

Saigh prevealed he had received several offers for the club, but depurchasers.

"The people who have contacted me are not publicity seekers," therefore I don't think I ought to disclose their names," He said. "besides, it hasn't advanced past the talking stage."

Bill Walsingham, Jr., vice president of the Cardinals, and Manager Eddie Stanky will remain in New York for the dinner but will leave Monday morning for St. Louis where they will confer with Saigh.

Pro Baltimore Colts Call Off Damage Suit Against NFL, Ex-Owner

BALTIMORE, Jan. 31 (AP)—Now that everything is peaches and cream again between Baltimore and the National Professional Football League, the directors of the defunct Baltimore Colts have called off their damage suit against the league.

"Agreed, satisfied, and settled," it was marked in circuit court.

Also a defendant was Abraham Watner, Baltimore cemetery and transfer man who bankrolled the Colts in their last season, 1950.

Watner, tired of shelling out and at odds with directors who underwrote the team when the All-American Conference franchise was moved here from Miami three years earlier, sold both franchise and players to the National League. The All-American and the National had merged in the meantime.

The old directors charged the deal was illegal. They sought to recover damages, from Watner for selling and from the National League for buying. They never specified how much damages.

All is forgiven now.

The Dallas franchise in the National League was defaulted after a disastrous 1952 season and Baltimore was offered a new berth in the league if only it would do the impossible — sell 15,000 season tickets in advance. Baltimore did.

Philippine Flyweight Champ Wins Decision Over Mexican Fighter

MANILA, Sunday, Feb. 1 (AP)—Philippines flyweight champion Tanny Camp won an unanimous decision over Mexico's Al Chavez in a 12-round title bout last night.

Campo weighed 111¾ pounds, a quarter pound under the Mexican battler.

A crowd of 5,000 n Rizal Memorial Collseum watched the unimpressive fight. There were no knockdowns.

After a slow start, the Filipino champion went after the Mexican with flurries of left and rights but Chavez absorbed all that Campo could give.

ERSKINE AGREES TO BROOK TERMS

Hard Working Hurler 33rd Player To Rejoin Dodgers

BROOKLYN, Jan. 31 (AP) — Carl Erskine, hardest working pitcher on the Dodger staff, became the 33rd player to sign his 1953 contract today with the Brooklyn baseball club.

No salary was mentioned in the announcement by Vice President E. J. (Buzzy Bavasi but it's believed the Dodgers gave a nice raise to the 26-year-old righthander who started 26 games and appeared in three World Series engagements with the Yankees. He won 14 and lost six.

Erskine's 26 games were the most started by any Brooklyn pitcher. Carl also led the club in complete games (10), innings pitched (207), Strikeouts (131) and tied with Billy Loes for the lowest earned run average (2.70. He had four shutouts.

The little hurler was the starting pitcher in the second game of the World Series, losing to the Yankees, 7-1. He won the fifth game, 6-5, in 11 innings and also hurled two runless innings in the seventh game, won by the Yankees.

Erskine's best series performance was in the fifth game in which he retired the last 19 batters. He pitched nine hitless innings in that one, the first three and last six.

TEXANS LAUNCH GRID COMEBACK

Dallas Sparking Organization Of New Pro League

DALLAS, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Dallas Texans football club made tentative motions toward arising from the dead today when a new slate of officers was elected to succeed those in charge when the organization expired from lack of money.

J. Curtis Sanford, Dallas realtor and founder of the Cotton Bowl, is the only officer in the new group who was active in the old. Sanford, who was secretary of the original Texans, is vice-president now. President of the club is Attorney Charles Tobin and Tobin's secretary, Mrs. Maxine McConnell, is secretary-treasurer under the reorganization.

Resignations of the old officers were accepted. They were Giles E. Miller, president; Jack C. Vaughn, vice - president; Connell Miller, vice - president; Harlan Ray, vice-president; Sanford, secretary; Fritz Hawn, treasurer and John Coyle, assistant treasurer.

Sanford said tonight that the new professional football league he and his associates are planning will have to find another site to replace New Orleans, originally included with Dallas, Houston, Atlanta, Birmingham and Mexico City in the loop. St. Louis has shown interest in securing a franchise, Sanford added. New Orleans backers were unable to secure a stadium.

A meeting sometime in February in Mexico City has been planned to discuss the organization of the Mexican team. Tentative backers include Dr. E. Mathey, Mexico City sports enthusiast and Luis El Camelo, Mexican football official.

The original Dallas Texans club started a team in the National Professional Football League last season. Just about halfway through the schedule, the directors gave the franchise back to the league, which operated it as a road team the rest of the season. Baltimore was awarded the former Dallas franchise in the National pro league.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Jan. 31 (AP)—Roy J. Wietz was named today as golf coach at Western Michigan College. He fills a vacancy created last summer when William Perigo left to head the University of Michigan basketball squad.

Perigo coached golf as well as basketball at Western Michigan.

Cotton States League Looking Ahead With Full 8-Club Membership Ready

Spring Training For Most Teams Due To Start April 1

GREENVILLE, Miss., Jan. 31 (AP)—They're running along about even with the growing of the cotton crop in the Class Cotton States Baseball League and both are in the planning season.

Following admission of Greenville as the eighth club to replace Greenwood which withdrew, directors of the eight club circuit today studied club operations for a 126-game season opening April 21.

Spring training for most of the clubs will begin around April 1, although some may start earlier and a number of players will be in the camps of clubs of higher rated leagues early in the spring.

Only the Pine Bluff Judges, farm club of the St. Louis Browns, and Monroe Sports, operated by the Shreveport Sports of the Texas League, have outright farm arrangement with clubs in higher leagues. Natchez is not directly connected with the New York Yankees but has an indirect connection through Birmingham of the Southern Association.

Greenville is "starting from scratch" under a new group of owners and reverting to a system of a board of directors named from the city's civic organization's with Robert O. (Bob) May as president.

The Jackson Senators, owned by Willis Hudlin, bought the Greenville franchise from the old Greenville Exhibition Company, and the capital city is returning to professional baseball after being out since the folding of the Southeastern league.

Only two managers are expected to return from last season. Pennant winning Meridian is returning and Bill Davis, who skippered the Millers to the 1952 flag and also won the playoff series. Charlie Harrington is likely to be returned as pilot of Monroe.

Hot Springs has signed Vernon Shetler, a first baseman, as the coming season's skipper of the Bathers. Wayne Tucker will be the new boss of the Natchez Indians. Duke Doolittle is manager of Jackson and Bill Adair will be El Dorado pilot. Pine Bluff hopes to lure Hillis Layne back for another season. Greenville is dickering with several for team and general manager.

Greenville's return to the Cotton States came after the city raised $15,000 in stock subscriptions and after another group that owned the Bucks gave up and sold out to Willis Hudlin. This city is a charter member of the league.

Baseball men believe there will be adequate ball players available for the new season and the league is seeking more young players in the hope of chalking up another successful season in the eight cities of Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana — all cotton growing states — in which it operates.

The league's All-Star game will be payed Juy 13 in Hot Springs, Ark., in 1953 under an arrangement in effect for severa seasons where the site is rotated on aphabetical order. The game is changed to this effect. The team leading the pennant races on Juy 4 will meet a team of All-Stars in Hot Springs. An effort to pattern the All-Star after the Texas and Southern Association of having the league-leader host the game failed after a hot session by the directors.

The league's sports writers association has been asked to pick an All-Star team of all clubs and players on the league-leading team who are named all stars will be replaced by alternates. This procedure would replace the usual selection of an All-Star team from the East and an All-Star team from the West.

At least three writers who are members of the league's sports writers association have publicly stated they will have no part in selection of an All-Star team under the procedure of the league-leaders playing in Hot Springs instead of in the city leading the pennant race. The writers are Dick Smith of the Meridian Star; Norman Mathews of the Natchez Democrat, and Herman Moore of the Natchez Times.

"The element of competition is removed. There is no incentive for a team to be in first place by July 4 if they are unable to host the All-Star game and show their home town fans how their club fares against a pick of the rest of the league", Smith said.

The Cotton States is also planning to hold a beauty pageant and name a Miss Cotton States League to complete against the beauty queens from other circuits for the beauty queen of the National Association of Baseball.

Adoption of a 128-game schedule, which league directors voted to play instead of a proposed 140-game playing chart, is expected to be carried out through the mail by President Al Haraway of Helena, Ark., instead of the necessity of holding another league meeting. The circuit has held several meetings to complete the league.

BOBSLED CHAMP KILLED IN CRASH

Two Mates Of Felix Endrich Are Seriously Injured

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Jan. 31 (AP) — A Swiss bobsled hurtled over a 15 - foot wall of ice on Garmisch's notorious "dead man's curve" today and crashed into a tree, killing its world champion driver and seriously injuring two of the three other riders.

Killed almost instantly was Felix Endrich, rollicking 32 - year - old Zurich salesman who last weekend guided his two-man sled to the world championship over this same treacherous course.

He and his crew were on an early morning practice run for the four-man championships, scheduled to start today, when the sled, careening at 50 miles an hour, spun over the wall and flew 40 feet through the air.

It sheared a flagpole and bounced off one tree before it crashed into another, sending fragments of steel and splintered wood over the icy slope.

While his bride of a month watched horrow-stricken, Endrich's body was removed from the wreckage. His neck was broken and he had internal injuries. He was dead on arrival at Garmisch Hospital.

The middle men, Abs Gartmann and Rene Heiland, were badly injured but the brakeman, Fritz Stoeckli, managed to escape by leaping from his back seat as the sled soared through the air. He landed on an American jeep, shaken but unhurt.

Heiland suffered a broken leg and possible spinal injuries. Gartmann's right shoulder was broken.

Today's opening heats in the four-man championship were abruptly cancelled and officials announced tentative plans to let the title be determined on tomorrow's two heats. Normally the championship is decided by the accumulated time of four heats.

It was over this same 1936 Olympic course, that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme commander of allied forces in Europe, and his wife, Penny, took a "thrill ride" last Monday behind Lloyd Johnson of Rapid City, S.D.

Johnson is one of two United States drivers shooting for the championship. The other is the veteran, Stan Benham of Lake Placid, N.Y., winner of two world titles.

This morning's accident occurred on the infamous Bavarian curve about halfway down the 1,650 meter course, made dangerously slick by early thaws and overnight freeze.

It was the same curve, known to the daring sledders as "Dead Man's Curve," on which Sweden's Rudolf Odenrich was killed two years ago. The curve was rebuilt to reduce its hazards but was still regarded as the most treacherous corner on the track.

Endrich, a vetrean of international bobsled competition, knew the course as well as any man. He had made scores of trips down the icy chutes.

Several racers had expressed concern about Endrich's safety because of his recklessness in speeding around the Bavarian curve. Donna Fox of New York, veteran U.S. team manager, had suggested the wall be built higher for safety.

Endrich nearly always skidded close to the top before but always managed to bring his sled down at the right time.

His pretty bride was in the spectator's stands when Endrich set off on today's practice run. Using the old-fashioned rope method for guiding instead of the modern steering wheel, the Swiss daredevil was going down the track at record - breaking speed when tragedy struck.

The sled hit the sharp turn going about 50 miles an hour, skidded up the retaining wall and shot over the top at full speed.

Clamp 8-Semester Rule On High School Athletes

CONSIDER HIRING 'CZAR' TO POLICE LOUISIANA PREPS

Plan Also Underway To Set Up Triple-A Conference

By JAMES SAGGUS

ALEXANDRIA, La., Jan. 31 (AP)—The Louisiana High School Athletic Association voted today to limit secondary students to eight semesters of athletic eligibility and to study proposals for a czar of prep sports and reclassifying schools.

Passage of the eight semester rule came on a voice vote after opponents of the rule were beaten 125-33 on a test of strength over a chair ruling on parliamentary procedure.

Spokesman for the group favoring retention of the present rule permitting 10 semesters of eligibility was C. E. Manning of Bogalusa.

"It is not fair to deny a boy the right to compete in athletics because he is not capable mentally of finishing school in four years," Manning said. "We allow them to take part in other school activities during their fifth year."

Each of the four classes of schools which are grouped according to enrollments recommended an eight semester rule at its sectional meeting yesterday. Supporters of the rule seemed confident of its passage and did not offer any arguments in its behalf.

They had to agree, however, on when the rule would go into effect. The motion as presented for action did not specify a date, although several persons shouted it should be interpreted as effective for either the 1953-54 or 1954-55 school years.

Opponents of the rule made their last stand by questioning a ruling by President W. L. Colvin of Jeanerette that the body could fix a date. The opponents claimed the move setting the date should be tabled one year as a new eligibility proposal. All eligibility proposals must live over a year before final action.

The association upheld Co vin's ruling by 125-33 standing vote and little resistance was offered when the group approved the rule, to be effective this fall.

The association upheld Colvin's vin to appoint committees to study re-aligning classification of schools and financial questions involved in hiring an executive secretary or czar for prep sports.

A preliminary study by a committee suggested $7,500 as an annual salary and an amount about equal for secretarial office and traveling expenses. The amount involved far exceeds available funds and the new committee would seek ways to raise the money.

The executive secretary would be given authority to enforce rulings, settle disputes and keep association records.

The association decided to have a committee investigate and recommend methods of re-dividing the schools into classes. Presently the largest schools are grouped in double-A, the next largest in A, the next in B and the smallest in C.

The proposal the committee will study calls for a new triple-A division, to embrace all schools with more than 400 enrollment. Each of the four remaining classes would have schools of more nearly the same size.

The czar and reclassification committees will report to Colvin when they have completed their studies and a special session of the association will be called.

All officers were re-elected. They included Colvin, president; J. L. Cathcart of Minden, vice president; and Grover C. Koffman of Shreveport's Byrd, secretary-treasurer.

Elected to the executive committee were Newell Painsance of Brusly from class C schools, Hugh Bateman of Ferriday from B, D. W. McBride of Oak Grove from A and Brother Alfonso of New Orleans Holy Cross from double-A.

Members of the committee whose terms did not expire were H. P. Overton of Baton Rouge's Istrouma in Double-A; J. F. Guglielmo of Lutcher in A; E. R. Hester of Arcadia in B; and R. L. Rupert of Meaux in C.

Approved by the association were motions to:

Allow athletes in the strawberry section which ends its fall term in mid-season — to complete the football season although they might have 17 credits after the fall term.

Make age the only eligibility rule for athletes at Louisiana Training Institute at Monroe, a correctional institution.

Allow athletes to play summer semi-pro baseball if they do not sign a contract.

Move Terrebonne of Houma from the southwest to the southeast double-A district.

Reimburse all schools at least part of the cost of attending state tournaments for which admissions are charged.

Require teams to play only five games to qualify for the state football championship in any double-A district with six or more teams.

Hold separate boxing tournaments for classes A and B, to be alternated among Southwestern Louisiana Institute, Louisiana State University and McNeese State College.

Count tie football games as half won and half lost.

Count points in relay events at state track meets on 10-8-6-4-2 basis for first five places.

Authorize committee to study redivision of class B football into eight districts.

A motion to raise the age limit for high school athletes to their 20th birthday was withdrawn by H. G. Robinson of Homer, who said he had offered it while athletes were permitted to play 10 semesters.

The present limit varies for each sport, generally allowing participation in a sport unless a student is 19 before that sport season begins.

Also rejected was a move to decide sites of playoff football games by bidding, with the team guaranteeing its opponent the most money being designated as host. Officials now draw lots for the game.

PELLETERI GOES TO EVER BRIGHT

Pollard And Harkins Filly In Fastest Time Of Meeting

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 31 (AP)—The front - running filly Ever Bright led from start to finish to win the first running of the $10,000 Pelleteri Memorial before 12,000 fans at the Fair Grounds race track today.

Jockey Ovie Scurlock took the daughter of Sun Again to the top as the 12-horse field left the starting gate.

Under Scurlock's strong urging, the fleet filly had a three-length advantage through most of the six-furlongs sprint. She finished two lengths in front of Hiram Jr., with the fast - closing Barametro taking the show position.

Ever Bright turned in a 1:11 1-5 effort, fastest time of the Fair Grounds meeting, an earned $10,300 and a silver trophy for owners Pollard and Harkins.

Favored by the throng that turned out for the nine-race program in perfect racing weather, Ever Bright returned $4.80, $3.40 and $3.

T. M. Johnson's Hiram, Jr., a 6-1 shot in the wagering, paid $5.80 and $4.20.

RILEY, M'WANE REACH FINALS

Defend Women's Four-Ball Crown Against Wall, Diringer

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., Jan. 31 (AP)—Defending champions Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Tex, and Bea McWane, Birmingham, Ala., squelched a belated rally by their opponents today and won a spot in the finals of the women's International Four-Ball Golf Tournament.

They will make their third bid for the championship which they won in 1949 and again last year in the 36-hole final Sunday against Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga., and Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore, over the Orange Brook Country Club course.

Miss Riley and Miss McWane defeated Pat Garner, Midland Tex., and Marjorie Lindsay McMillan, Milwaukee, Wisc., 2-up.

Miss Faulk and Miss Downey also had to fight off a rally to beat Carol Diringer, Tiffin, Ohio, and Mary Aganes Wall, Menominee, Mich., 2 and 1.

The Garner-Lindsay team came to life too late. Miss McWane put her team 4-up and five to play by winning the 13th with a birdie three on a 12-foot putt.

Miss Garner took the 14th with a birdie four, the 15th was halved, and Pat gained the 16th with a 16-foot putt and a birdie three. But Pat and Marge had trap trouble on the 17th and lost the match.

The Wall-Diringer duo began its rally on the 14th where Miss Diringer had a birdie four. Miss Wall sank a 15-footer for a birdie two at the 15th. Miss Diringer took the 16th with a par five and her team was then 2-down. The match ended with the 17th halved.

Spring Kahl Captures Clearwater; Pak Second

OLDSMAR, Fla., Jan. 31 (AP)—Spring Kahl won the $1,700 Clearwater Purse at Sunshine Park by half a length over Pak today, after the two mounts had raced head and head for most of the mile and a sixteenth route.

Spring Kahl, owned by Edwin G. Roth and ridden by Ronnie Baldwin, was the favorite and paid a low $2.90. The time was 1.46 4-5.

Rush Street took third, 3½ lengths back of Pak.

By MURRAY SINCLAIR

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan 31 (AP)—E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Ardmore, Okla., and Tommy Bolt of Maplewood, N. J., tied for the lead of the $10,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament today at the end of 54 holes with scores of 199.

Their scores were 11 under par.

Bolt played almost faultless golf as he gained three strokes on Harrison, who had led the field through the first two rounds.

Chandler Harper, Portsmouth, Va., former P. G. A. champ, and Tony Holguin, Midlothian, Ill., a two-time winner of the Mexican Open, were a single stroke behind with totals of 200.

Johnny Palmer, Charlotte, N. C., shot his third round of subpar golf for totals of 65-69-68—202. He had a one-stroke lead on Iverson Martin, Maplewood, N. J.

Ideal golf weather continued to help most of golfdom's biggest names rip the par 70, 6,402-yard El Rio Golf and Country Club course to pieces.

Bolt has shown none of the temper for which he is noted on the course. So far in this tourney he had not gone over par while banging out 11 birdies.

"I'm playing good, all-around golf," Bolt said. "I haven't been in any serious trouble."

Bolt was almost in difficulty on the par 4, 343-yard fourth hole when his drive stopped about three feet from the trunk of a tree that partly obscured the green. His wedge shot dropped near the flag and he parred the hole.

Bolt's four birdies came on the 9th, 10th, 11th and 18th holes.

Bolt today shot a four-under par 66 to go along with previous rounds of 65-68 for his 199 aggregate.

Lady luck almost deserted Harrison, so did the magic of his putting. He had credited good fortune and good work on the greens for his lead the first two rounds.

Harrison's two-under-par 69 today was his highest roun dof the tournament.

Four players are five strokes back of the leaders with totals of 204. They are Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y.; Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn.; Jack Hardin, El Paso, Tex., and Jerry Barber, La Canada, Calif.

Walter Burkemo, Franklin, Mich., was alone with a total of 205.

Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., Jimmy Demaret, Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., and Henry Williams Jr., Reading, Pa., all former winners of the Tucson event, were in a group of eight tied at 206.

Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., led the amateurs with 213.

Veeck Makes Formal Protest Against Loss Of Night Games In Three Parks

Saigh Names Committee To Run Cards As Meeting Closes

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)— Bill Veeck, president of the St. Louis Browns, issued a formal protest to baseball Commissioner Ford Frick today against three clubs in the American League which have barred him from night games in their parks.

Fred Saigh, beleaguered owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, shared the headlines with Veeck when he named eight prominent St. Louis executives he was considering for a committee to run the Red Birds.

Saigh, sentenced this week to 15 months in prison for income tax evasion, did not attend the major league meetings of the club owners that ended today. Veeck, however, was very much in prominence. After being rebuffed on all sides by his colleagues, the dynamic Brownie boss was closeted with Frick for 90 minutes pleading his case before the commissioner.

Neither Veeck nor Frick would comment on the nature of their discussion but it was no secret that Veeck appealed to Frick to intercede in his television squabble with the New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox. Veeck, it was learned, asked for a uniform baseball rule that would guarantee all clubs an equality in night dates. This, he claimed was the original American League regulation in 1939, the year night ball was inaugurated in that circuit.

In a retaliatory move because of Veeck's refusal to permit televising of the Browns' games at their ball parks, the Yankees, Indians and Red Sox, have refused to grant any night games to the St. Louis club.

"If these clubs can throw me out of their night schedule, which will cost our club approximately $30,000," Veeck complained, "then there will be no limit to what they can do with their money weapon of night baseball. What is to prevent any of them from threatening a poor club with a player to sell, so that the club will be removed from the night schedule unless the player is delivered at a certain price? That is the point of equity I present."

Saigh, scheduled to return to St. Louis on a midnight (CST) tonight, said he intended to contact the following men to form a three-man committee to run his Cardinals:

Davis R. Calhoun, James Hickok and Arthur Blumeyer, bankers; Edwin M. Clark, president of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company; Arthur K. Atkinson, president of Wabash Railroad Company; Edgar Rand, president of International Shoe Company; J. Wesley McAfee, president of Union Electric Company, and Charles Thomas, president of Monsanto Chemical Company.

Blumeyer, Atkinson and Rand were not available for comment. The others declined to discuss the matter until they had an opportunity to talk with Saigh.

Saigh, declined personal invitations from Frick, National League President Warren Giles and Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, to remain in New York for the baseball writers' dinner tomorrow evening. He pleaded he wanted to utalize as much time as possible to clear up his personal business and as well as the club affairs.

Saigh prevealed he had received several offers for the club, but depurchasers.

"The people who have contacted me are not publicity seekers," therefore I don't think I ought to disclose their names," He said. "besides, it hasn't advanced past the talking stage."

Bill Walsingham, Jr., vice president of the Cardinals, and Manager Eddie Stanky will remain in New York for the dinner but will leave Monday morning for St. Louis where they will confer with Saigh.

Pro Baltimore Colts Call Off Damage Suit Against NFL, Ex-Owner

BALTIMORE, Jan. 31 (AP)—Now that everything is peaches and cream again between Baltimore and the National Professional Football League, the directors of the defunct Baltimore Colts have called off their damage suit against the league.

"Agreed, satisfied, and settled," it was marked in circuit court.

Also a defendant was Abraham Watner, Baltimore cemetery and transfer man who bankrolled the Colts in their last season, 1950.

Watner, tired of shelling out and at odds with directors who underwrote the team when the All-American Conference franchise was moved here from Miami three years earlier, sold both franchise and players to the National League. The All-American and the National had merged in the meantime.

The old directors charged the deal was illegal. They sought to recover damages, from Watner for selling and from the National League for buying. They never specified how much damages.

All is forgiven now.

The Dallas franchise in the National League was defaulted after a disastrous 1952 season and Baltimore was offered a new berth in the league if only it would do the impossible — sell 15,000 season tickets in advance. Baltimore did.

Philippine Flyweight Champ Wins Decision Over Mexican Fighter

MANILA, Sunday, Feb. 1 (AP)—Philippines flyweight champion Tanny Camp won an unanimous decision over Mexico's Al Chavez in a 12-round title bout last night.

Campo weighed 111¾ pounds, a quarter pound under the Mexican battler.

A crowd of 5,000 n Rizal Memorial Coliseum watched the unimpressive fight. There were no knockdowns.

After a slow start, the Filipino champion went after the Mexican with flurries of left and rights but Chavez absorbed all that Campo could give.

Hard Working Hurler 33rd Player To Rejoin Dodgers

BROOKLYN, Jan. 31 (AP) — Carl Erskine, hardest working pitcher on the Dodger staff, became the 33rd player to sign his 1953 contract today with the Brooklyn baseball club.

No salary was mentioned in the announcement by Vice President E. J. (Buzzy Bavasi but it's believed the Dodgers gave a nice raise to the 26-year-old righthander who started 26 games and appeared in three World Series engagements with the Yankees. He won 14 and lost six.

Erskine's 26 games were the most started by any Brooklyn pitcher. Carl also led the club in complete games (10), innings pitched (207), Strikeouts (131) and tied with Billy Loes for the lowest earned run average (2.70. He had four shutouts.

The little hurler was the starting pitcher in the second game of the World Series, losing to the Yankees, 7-1. He won the fifth game, 6-5, in 11 innings and also hurled two runless innings in the seventh game, won by the Yankees.

Erskine's best series performance was in the fifth game in which he retired the last 19 batters. He pitched nine hitless innings in that one, the first three and last six.

DALLAS, Jan. 31 (AP)—The Dallas Texans football club made tentative motions toward arising from the dead today when a new slate of officers was elected to succeed those in charge when the organization expired from lack of money.

Sanford, who was secretary of the original Texans, is vice-president now. President of the club is Attorney Charles Tobin and Tobin's secretary, Mrs. Maxine McConnell, is secretary-treasurer under the reorganization.

Resignations of the old officers were accepted. They were Giles E. Miller, president; Jack C. Vaughn, vice - president; Connell Miller, vice - president; Harlan Ray, vice-president; Sanford, secretary; Fritz Hawn, treasurer and John Coyle, assistant treasurer.

Sanford said tonight that the new professional football league he and his associates are planning will have to find another site to replace New Orleans, originally included with Dallas, Houston, Atlanta, Birmingham and Mexico City in the loop. St. Louis has shown interest in securing a franchise, Sanford added. New Orleans backers were unable to secure a stadium.

A meeting sometime in February in Mexico City has been planned to discuss the organization of the Mexican team. Tentative backers include Dr. E. Mathey, Mexico City sports enthusiast and Luis El Camelo, Mexican football official.

The original Dallas Texans club started a team in the National Professional Football League last season. Just about halfway through the schedule, the directors gave the franchise back to the league, which operated it as a road team the rest of the season. Baltimore was awarded the former Dallas franchise in the National pro league.

Cotton States League Looking Ahead With Full 8-Club Membership Ready

Spring Training For Most Teams Due To Start April 1

GREENVILLE, Miss., Jan. 31 (AP)—They're running along about even with the growing of the cotton crop in the Class Cotton States Baseball League and both are in the planning season.

Following admission of Greenville as the eighth club to replace Greenwood which withdrew, directors of the eight club circuit today studied club operations for a 126-game season opening April 21.

Spring training for most of the clubs will begin around April 1, although some may start earlier and a number of players will be in the camps of clubs of higher rated leagues early in the spring.

Only the Pine Bluff Judges, farm club of the St. Louis Browns, and Monroe Sports, operated by the Shreveport Sports of the Texas League, have outright farm arrangement with clubs in higher leagues. Natchez is not directly connected with the New York Yankees but has an indirect connection through Birmingham of the Southern Association.

Greenville is "starting from scratch" under a new group of owners and reverting to a system of a board of directors named from the city's civic organization's with Robert O. (Bob) May as president.

The Jackson Senators, owned by Willis Hudlin, bought the Greenville franchise from the old Greenville Exhibition Company, and the capital city is returning to professional baseball after being out since the folding of the Southeastern league.

Only two managers are expected to return from last season. Pennant winning Meridian is returning and Bill Davis, who skippered the Millers to the 1952 flag and also won the playoff series. Charlie Harrington is likely to be returned as pilot of Monroe.

Hot Springs has signed Vernon Shetler, a first baseman, as the coming season's skipper of the Bathers. Wayne Tucker will be the new boss of the Natchez Indians. Duke Doolittle is manager of Jackson and Bill Adair will be El Dorado pilot. Pine Bluff hopes to lure Hillis Layne back for another season. Greenville is dickering with several for team and general manager.

Greenville's return to the Cotton States came after the city raised $15,000 in stock subscriptions and after another group that owned the Bucks gave up and sold out to Willis Hudlin. This city is a charter member of the league.

Baseball men believe there will be adequate ball players available for the new season and the league is seeking more young players in the hope of chalking up another successful season in the eight cities of Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana — all cotton growing states — in which it operates.

The league's All-Star game will be payed Juy 13 in Hot Springs, Ark., in 1953 under an arrangement in effect for severa seasons where the site is rotated on aphabetical order. The game is changed to this effect. The team leading the pennant races on Juy 4 will meet a team of All-Stars in Hot Springs. An effort to pattern the All-Star after the Texas and Southern Association of having the league-leader host the game failed after a hot session by the directors.

The league's sports writers association has been asked to pick an All-Star team of all clubs and players on the league-leading team who are named all stars will be replaced by alternates. This procedure would replace the usual selection of an All-Star team from the East and an All-Star team from the West.

At least three writers who are members of the league's sports writers association have publicly stated they will have no part in selection of an All-Star team under the procedure of the league-leaders playing in Hot Springs instead of in the city leading the pennant race. The writers are Dick Smith of the Meridian Star; Norman Matthews of the Natchez Democrat, and Herman Moore of the Natchez Times.

"The element of competition is removed. There is no incentive for a team to be in first place by July 4 if they are unable to host the All-Star game and show their home town fans how their club fares against a pick of the rest of the league", Smith said.

The Cotton States is also planning to hold a beauty pageant and name a Miss Cotton States League to complete against the beauty queens from other circuits for the beauty queen of the National Association of Baseball.

Adoption of a 126-game schedule, which league directors voted to play instead of a proposed 140-game playing chart, is expected to be carried out through the mail by President Al Haraway of Helena, Ark., instead of the necessity of holding another league meeting. The circuit has held several meetings to complete the league.

BOBSLED CHAMP KILLED IN CRASH

Two Mates Of Felix Endrich Are Seriously Injured

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Jan. 31 (AP) — A Swiss bobsled hurtled over a 15 - foot wall of ice on Garmisch's notorious "dead man's curve" today and crashed into a tree, killing its world champion driver and seriously injuring two of the three other riders.

Killed almost instantly was Felix Endrich, rollicking 32 - year - old Zurich salesman who last weekend guided his two-man sled to the world championship over this same treacherous course.

He and his crew were on an early morning practice run for the four-man championships, scheduled to start today, when the sled, careening at 50 miles an hour, spun over the wall and flew 40 feet through the air.

It sheared a flagpole and bounced off one tree before it crashed into another, sending fragments of steel and splintered wood over the icy slope.

While his bride of a month watched horrow-stricken, Endrich's body was removed from the wreckage. His neck was broken and he had internal injuries. He was dead on arrival at Garmisch Hospital.

The middle men, Aby Gartmann and Rene Heiland, were badly injured but the brakeman, Fritz Stoeckli, managed to escape by leaping from his back seat as the sled soared through the air. He landed on an American jeep, shaken but unhurt.

Heiland suffered a broken leg and possible spinal injuries. Gartmann's right shoulder was broken.

Today's opening heats in the four-man championship were abruptly cancelled and officials announced tentative plans to let the title be determined on tomorrow's two heats. Normally the championship is decided by the accumulated time of four heats.

Johnson is one of two United States drivers shooting for the championship. The other is the veteran, Stan Benham of Lake Placid, N.Y., winner of two world titles.

This morning's accident occurred on the infamous Bavarian curve about halfway down the 1,650 meter course, made dangerously slick by early thaws and overnight freeze.

It was the same curve, known to the daring sledders as "Dead Man's Curve," on which Sweden's Rudolf Odenrich was killed two years ago. The curve was rebuilt to reduce its hazards but was still regarded as the most treacherous corner on the track.

Endrich, a vetrean of international bobsled competition, knew the course as well as any man. He had made scores of trips down the icy chutes.

Several racers had expressed concern about Endrich's safety because of his recklessness in speeding around the Bavarian curve. Donna Fox of New York, veteran U.S. team manager, had suggested the wall be built higher for safety.

Endrich nearly always skidded close to the top before but always managed to bring his sled down at the right time.

His pretty bride was in the spectator's stands when Endrich set off on today's practice run. Using the old-fashioned rope method for guiding instead of the modern steering wheel, the Swiss daredevil was going down the track at record - breaking speed when tragedy struck.

The sled hit the sharp turn going about 50 miles an hour, skidded up the retaining wall and shot over the top at full speed.

Welcome Branch Of 20th Century Book Club Has Meet

Mrs. Morris Miller of 1115 South Second opened her home to the members of the Welcome Branch of the Twentieth Century Book Club. She was assisted by Mrs. Amos Warner, Mrs. Ben Oliphint and Mrs. Sidney Douglas.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. V. S. Garnett. Mrs. Zell Smith gave the treasurer's report and Mrs. R. H. Dollar read the secretary's report. The corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. R. Doughty read a thank you letter from the Ouachita Parish Chapter of the American Red Cross for the generous contributions of homemade cookies given to the Veteran's Hospital in Alexandria, La., another thank you letter from the G. B. Cooley Sanitorium for the renewal of magazine subscriptions. An invitation was read from book club member, Mrs. R. H. Dollar inviting the club to attend the Dollar's twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Mrs. D. A. Hamilton and Mrs. H. E. Pfost were accepted as new members. Mrs. Gladys Collins was guest of the club.

Mrs. J. Norman Coon, general chairman of the Benefit Book Review announced March 25, 1953, as the date Mrs. F. H. Peterson will be the speaker. The review will be held at the Y. W. C. A. Jackson Street. Continuing the study of "Our American Heritage" the program chairman, Mrs. E. Everett Lawson presented the program of traditional American living. Mrs. James Eppinette spoke on "Relating the Household Arts with the Major Arts of American Democracy." She stated, "For the first time in American history an extensive course at University of Delaware will be offered a graduate studies program which is of great significance in era of American history and culture. This course will begin at opening of second semester on February 5th at University of Delaware. This project will be conducted in cooperation with Henry Francis Davenport's Winterthur Museum.

Mrs. A. R. Doughty told of the "Two Hundred Years of Colonial Decoration at Winterthur — America's Newest Museum." Winterthur has recently been opened to the public. It is considered the greatest contribution to our American heritage since the restoration of Williamsburg. It consists of one hundred rooms depicting the change in our mood of living and decoration of our homes over a period of two hundred years. Henry Francis Davenport is responsible for this perfect collection. Colored pictures were shown of some of the outstanding rooms. The azaleas at Winterthur are considered the finest available. The museum is opened Monday through Friday of every week, only twenty people are shown through at one time, one must have advance reservations as it takes an entire day to view the museum.

In Mrs. E. A. Porter's talk on "Grass Roots" of America she recalled to her audience some historical facts of our history. Patrick Henry's individual declaration of war "Give me liberty or give me death" was uttered March 28, 1775 at the Virginia convention in Richmond held at the old St. John Episcopal Church. The church stands today at Broad and 25th Streets in Richmond, Va., a white memorial tablet is placed at the pew when he sounded trumpet call of the Revolution with these famous words. She told, too, of the painting "The Spirit of '76" the painting loved by every man, woman and child, a painting that stirred a nation. The painting created no stir in the art world and the artist, Archibald Willard, is little known only so far as this one picture. Mr. Willard's father, a grey haired Baptist minister, posed as the drummer and a former soldier in the Civil war posed as the fifer. The original picture has been purchased and is now in Marblehead, Mass. The women of Richmond, Va., rehabilitated their museum at a cost of $31,000 and of this museum, Mrs. Gilbert Faulk of Monroe, La., has been named state regent of the Louisiana Room.

"In Defense of This Heritage" was the title of Mrs. R. H. Dollar's paper. She stated: "When we speak of defense we think of protection in many ways, especially protection of our lives and the lives of our loved ones, not only are our lives in danger without defense but all we have inherited. We have learned that technology and science have given our country the highest standard of living the world has ever known. But the tragic failure is where we have not learned to settle disputes and must resort to warfare and destruction. For the first time in history we find that we are more in need of a defense program."

Mrs. E. Everett Lawson gave a piano selection "By the Waters of Minnetonka" by the composer, Thurlow Lieurance whose work among the north American Indians inspired him to write.

A lovely centerpiece of red camellias was placed on the table, delicious gingerbread and coffee was served to the following: Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. R. H. Dollar, Mrs. A. R. Doughty, Mrs. Sidney Douglas, Mrs. James Eppinette, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. J. G. Hicks, Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, Mrs. Morris Miller, Mrs. E. A. Porter, Mrs. Zell Smith, Mrs. A. J. Speer, Mrs. L. V. Tarver, Mrs. Ben Oliphint and Mrs. Gladys Collins.

The next meeting will be held February 11, 1953, a buffet luncheon at the Y. W. C. A. with Mrs. A. J. Speer, chairman.

Monroe Literary Club Hears Talk By Dr. James D. Kelly

The January meeting of the Monroe Literary Club was held Wednesday at the Rendezvous with Dr. James D. Kelly, guest speaker. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. J. E. Baugh.

After the reading of club collect, Mrs. J. W. Womack, member - in-charge, introduced Dr. James D. Kelly, who spoke to the club on "Newer Trends in Medicine," his topic was "Breast Cancer." Dr. Kelly said, "Cancer of the breast is the most common cancer in the female patients, with the exception of skin cancer. Although many cases of breast cancer could be cured if found early enough, many thousands of women lose their lives yearly because of this type of cancer. The greatest aid in saving lives, regardless of the type of cancer involved, is early diagnosis and proper treatment.

"Women can be taught how to examine their own breasts for possible cancer. It should be emphasized that all lumps are by no means cancer, however, the individual should not make the decision as to whether or not the lump is cancer.

"Many lesions of the breast, including cancer, are painless in the early stages. Therefore, whenever any unusual finding of the breast is detected by the patient, she should seek her doctor's advice immediately. Most lumps in the breast are not cancer, only the doctor is in a position to know which ones are.

"Cancer of the breast is most frequent between the ages of forty to sixty, but many occur at any age from infancy to old age."

Dr. Kelly answered questions and showed the film produced by the American Cancer Society, "Breast Self Examination."

Members and guest enjoying this most special meeting were Mrs. D. A. Altick, Mrs. J. E. Baugh, Mrs. C. E. Coe, Mrs. A. B. Colmer, Mrs. J. H. Drake, Mrs. DuPriest, Mrs. F. L. Ferrell, Mrs. W. L. We have learned that technology and science have given our country the highest standard of living the world has ever known. But the tragic failure is where we have not learned to settle disputes and must resort to warfare and destruction. For the first time in history we find that we are more in need of a defense program."

Monroe Literary Club Hears Talk By Dr. James D. Kelly

The January meeting of the Monroe Literary Club was held Wednesday at the Rendezvous with Dr. James D. Kelly, guest speaker. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. J. E. Baugh.

After the reading of club collect, Mrs. J. W. Womack, member - in-charge, introduced Dr. James D. Kelly, who spoke to the club on "Newer Trends in Medicine," his topic was "Breast Cancer." Dr. Kelly said, "Cancer of the breast is the most common cancer in the female patients, with the exception of skin cancer. Although many cases of breast cancer could be cured if found early enough, many thousands of women lose their lives yearly because of this type of cancer. The greatest aid in saving lives, regardless of the type of cancer involved, is early diagnosis and proper treatment.

"Women can be taught how to examine their own breasts for possible cancer. It should be emphasized that all lumps are by no means cancer, however, the individual should not make the decision as to whether or not the lump is cancer.

"Many lesions of the breast, including cancer, are painless in the early stages. Therefore, whenever any unusual finding of the breast is detected by the patient, she should seek her doctor's advice immediately. Most lumps in the breast are not cancer, only the doctor is in a position to know which ones are.

"Cancer of the breast is most frequent between the ages of forty to sixty, but many occur at any age from infancy to old age."

Dr. Kelly answered questions and showed the film produced by the American Cancer Society, "Breast Self Examination."

Dr. H. L. Johns, pastor, officiated at the impressive double-ring ceremony in the presence of the two families and immediate relatives.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Horace Vivian Fluker and the late Mr. Fluker. She is descended on the maternal side by the late Robert Williams Faulk, M.D. and the late Florence Barkdull Faulk, and on the paternal side by the late Benjamin Kendrick Fluker and the late Laura James Fluker.

The bride-groom is the son of Mrs. Joe Rice Ferguson, Sr. and the late Mr. Ferguson, of Leesville. His paternal grandparents are the late George Rose Ferguson and the late Narcissa Kyle Ferguson, of Leesville, and maternal grandparents, the late James Robert Monk and the late Bertha Page Monk, of Leesville.

Preceeding the ceremony a concert of organ music was rendered by Mrs. Melba Liner Ragland, who accompanied the soloist, Irvin Zeidman, as he sang "At Dawning" and "O Promise Me." Soft music was played during the ceremony.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive ceremony before the alter which was decorated with white stock, chrysanthemums, and gladioli, flanked by candelabras.

The bride, given in marriage by her twin brother, Ben K. Fluker, was wearing a light blue wool tweed suit with a pencil slim skirt, an original by Zelinka Matlick. The tiny wool fringe on the coat gave a distinctive touch. Her hat was a Nat Frank original, an ice blue raffier straw with pink and shades of blue applique sprinkled with rhinestones and a complexion veiling.

She carried a white Testament topped with a single white orchid with showers of narrow white satin ribbon.

Miss Florence Fluker, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and only attendant. She was wearing a dusty rose wool tweed suit with a pencil slim skirt and self-covered buttons, designed by Vassar. She wore a shell cap completely covered with French pink lilacs sprinkled with rhinestones and matching veil. She carried an old fashioned colonial bouquet of pastel spring flowers.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was his brother, Dr. Joe Rice Ferguson, Jr., of Lafayette. Usher was Archie B. Bland, Jr., of New Orleans.

Mrs. Fluker, mother of the bride, was wearing a light blue wool tweed suit. Her hat was a pink Petty Pearl straw with a wreath of pink forget - me - nots forming the band and a navy nose length veil. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Ferguson, wore a lovely slate grey dress. She wore an ice blue off the face hat. Both were wearing orchid corsages.

Reception

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Educational Bldg. for members of the two families and immediate relatives.

The bride's table, overlaid with an Italian cutwork cloth, was centered with a low silver bowl holding white azalea mums. At one end of the table was the embossed tiered wedding confection topped with a bell holding tiny white flowers. Circling the base of the cake were tiny folds of lacelon. At the other end of the table was the punch bowl presided over by Mrs. Francis Faulk who was wearing a grey dress with small purple hat and a shoulder corsage of pink japonicas. At the cake service was Mrs. Archie Bland, aunt of the bride. She was wearing a navy dress and pink corsage.

Presiding at the bride's book, was Miss Betty Bland, cousin of the bride, who was wearing a black taffeta dress with shoulder corsage of pink flowers.

The bride is a graduate of Neville High School, attended Northeast Junior College, and received her diploma from Bish Mathis Institute. For the past three years she has been employed at KNOE where she worked in the traffic department. She is a member of the Delta Beta Sigma sorority, the Junior Charity League, and a member of the First Methodist Church.

Mr. Ferguson attended high school in Leesville. He attended Southwestern Louisiana Institute and Louisiana State University where he received a B.S. degree. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, and served in the United States Navy for three years attaining the rank of Lt. (j.g.) Girl Scout News

Is there something our grown-up leaders have forgotten? Is your reservation in for the Girl Scout annual dinner Tuesday night? If there are any last minute changes in plans, be sure to notify the office, 2-1270, early tomorrow.

The affair promises to be something no one interested in Girl Scouting can afford to miss, 7:00 o'clock, Country Club. This informal occasion is one that Girl Scout adults look forward to as one of the highlights of their year's work. The "Trefoil Trail" is the theme for program and decorations.

Wonder who will be declared winner of the contest to name the troop camp. If the camp committee has been able to decide on a name, they will announce it at the dinner.

"A Day at Camp in Song" by Troop 14, directed by Mrs. Robert Easterling, will be one of the highlights of the program.

One of the customs at this annual meeting is the "thank-you" to those who have contributed in any way to the success of Scouting in the year just past. As a part of that "thank you" Mary Elizabeth Webster of Troop 28 will pay tribute to all leaders of Girl Scout troops.

Details of the activities previewed last week have been coming to our ears. It sounds as if Troop 27's boy and girl party was a great success, with all 18 girls and their invited guests present. In the good ole Girl Scout custom of evaluating each event after it is carried out, the girls decided that the success lay in their careful planning in advance so that participation of all was assured.

The sunshiny days and the cold wave that didn't arrive make all of us feel like going outdoors just to enjoy the warmth and beauty. And you know what weather like that does to Scouts; they want to go hiking and camping.

Because it was too pretty to stay inside, Troop 21 went for a walk from their meeting place at the Presbyterian church and ended by stopping by the Girl Scout office in order to become acquainted.

Said office was a-buzz. In the kitchen one patrol of Troop 11 was stirring up gingerbread mix, a group was lugging bricks in the yard and setting up their hobo ovens (made of tin cans) with buddy burners for fuel to be ready for the gingerbread. A third group had built a fire in front of piled-up bricks and was watching a cherry cobbler brown in front of the fire on a homemade reflector oven. It never ceases to mystify girls that it can be done — that food can be baked outdoors on a reflector or in the hobo ovens.

The girls all had a taste of the cobbler, but for their snack they really had a treat — chocolate cake made by Betsy Blackmon.

The same afternoon we saw green uniforms going down Catalpa Street. Watching them for a moment we decided they were on an observation hike to learn about trees. They were intently looking up into an elm tree which has already put out its brown lacy blooms.

From all reports Troop 2's mother-daughter supper was a most pleasant affair. The planning, the cooking, decorations, yes, dishwashing, was all done by the girls with a little help, of course, from their leader, Mrs. Amos Hood.

Preceding the meal, Mrs. Hood presented the badges completed by members of the troop, after which each girl escorted her own mother to the table. Miss Annis Klie, Girl Scout executive, was a guest also.

Green and yellow table decorations had been planned and arranged by a committee headed by Linda McCormick, who, unfortunately, was ill and the only member not present.

After an excellent meal served by the girls, the games committee took over. Headed by Linda Faye Atkins, who her leader says has a flair for leading games, the girls put their mamas through bubble-gum contests, a toothpick race and several other hilarious games until 8:30, the time agreed upon for dismissal.

Then the dishwashing patrol finished up what had been a very enjoyable affair. The girls taking part were: Linda Faye Atkins, Jimmie Lee Bamburg, Linda Carole Bledsoe, Joyce Cosby, Carolyn Harris, Amy Hood, Louise Lester, Linda McCormick, Charlotte Pankey, Frances Ruth Phillips, Glenda Sue Young, Barbara Arant, Bonnie Evans, Jerry Sue Fleming, Carolyn Gallaspy, Portia Gould, Carolyn Moore and Mary Beth Rogers.

Don't forget Tuesday evening.

The altar was beautifully decorated with a profusion of white gladioli.

A concert of prenuptial music was rendered by Mr. Leon Hammonds at the organ, who also accompanied the soloist, Mr. Irving Zeidman as he sang "Ave Maria," and "Panis Angelicus." The traditional wedding marches marked the beginning and end of the ceremony.

The tight fitting bodice was attached to a yoke of net illusion and was fastened down the back with tiny self-covered buttons. The long sleeves came to lily points over her hands. Her veil of net illusion fell from a lace cap trimmed with small springs of orange blossoms and she carried a white orchid with her prayerbook of mother of pearl.

Lexington P.-T. A. Has Monthly Meeting Thursday

Mrs. A. D. Tisdale was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Lexington P.-T. A. on Thursday afternoon, January 29. Mrs. Tisdale spoke most interestingly and informatively on "How the P.-T. A. Can Influence Good Legislation."

Officers' reports were heard during the business meeting, and the P.-T. A. prayer read by Mrs. Seymour Solomon. The membership heard a report of the executive committee regarding the traffic problems of the school. It is believed that with the proper use of signs directing traffic, parking space for teachers and busses, traffic will flow easily through the circle, and that there will be no congestion.

Miss Rosa Belle McDonald, principal, presented the Library Accession Book, containing a complete, typed record of all library books. Miss McDonald expressed the gratitude of the faculty and herself to Mrs. J. W. Young for preparing such a complete record.

Of special interest to members present was a presentation of a report by Mrs. David Aron, chairman of a committee to raise funds for outdoor playground equipment. Mrs. Aron explained the urgent need of some form of playground equipment, as the school as yet has none at all. It was recommended by Mrs. Aron and her committee that solicitation of the parents for a free - will donation through the medium of a personal letter should be the initial effort in obtaining some of the equipment. Mrs. Aron's recommendation met with enthusiastic response from members present, all of whom felt the immediate necessity for providing playground equipment as soon as possible.

Mrs. H. V. Brady, president, announced that the next meeting will be a joint meeting of fathers and mothers on the evening of February 26. A most interesting program has been arranged, and it is hoped that each parent will make a special effort to attend, as topics important to everyone will be presented at that time.

Coach K. Smith Talks To P.-T. A.

The Georgia Tucker P. T. A. held their January meeting in the school auditorium Thursday January 22nd. The president Mrs. Paul Thompson presided during the business procedure. Mrs. Lippmin asked the parents to cooperate in keeping the children's pets away from school. Several small children have been hurt by dogs.

The program was then turned over to Mrs. Breece who introduced Coach Kenneth Smith, Athletic Director for Georgia Tucker. Coach Smith spoke on "Building physical health and strength through a physical education program." In a definition of Health and Strength, he said "Health is freedom from disease and rigor of mind. Strength is moral security, ability and physical power to perform." Modern physical education is concerned with the education of the "whole child" through physical activity rather than the education of the physical alone. A well planned program meets the needs of boys and girls today and prepares them for adulthood tomorrow. In closing Coach Smith said "We are not teaching physical education, we are teaching boys and girls how to get along in a complex society."

In response to the parents viewpoint of physical education, Mrs. Lucien Branch stated "An efficient, well adjusted personality is of great importance to a healthy body in getting the most out of life and the need for a healthy mental attitude in the maintenance of the health of the body is of a great deal of importance. Through supervised play your child benefits greatly and every parent desires that his child grow and develope.

Travel Expert Demonstrates Wardrobe To Clubwomen

"Women usually take twice the clothes they can use on a trip—but only half of what they actually need," travel expert Carol Lane reported Thursday at a combined meeting of Monroe clubs, including The Business and Professional Women's Club, The Quota Club, Lioness Club, and members of the YWCA, Delta Rho Delta, Altrusa, Pilot, and AAUW.

Miss Lane, women's travel director of Shell Oil Company, speaking on "New Trends in Travel", discussed ways to travel light with fewer but more versatile clothes.

The travel authority demonstrated a one-suitcase wardrobe consisting of four basic vacation costumes. The same sets of clothing combine into about 24 ensembles for traveling, day-time sightseeing or visiting, active or spectator sports and informal evening wear. She reported that her two recent national surveys of women motorists revealed less than 2 per cent required formal evening wear during vacations.

The wardrobe consisted of a suit with plenty of underarm and knee room for traveling comfort; a two-piece print dress with a convertible neckline and full skirt which could switch its personality come sundown; a three - piece spectator sports outfit including a wrap-around skirt, strapless bodice and matching bolero; and a "rugged life" costume of sports shirt with shorts or pedal pushers.

She advocated simply cut styles of proven wrinkle - resistant fabrics selected according to a "color-controlled" plan.

"Neutral tones of beige or gray hide highway dust better than dark tones do and are suitable during unexpected hot or cold spells. Add one dark color and tones of one bright color for contrast, and your entire wardrobe will coordinate into smart but practical costumes", she advised.

In addition, Miss Lane displayed two different types of triangles she designed of tubular jersey as wardrobe extenders. One triangle tied at the neck and waist. The other was looped at the neck and hooked at the waist. They fitted together to make two halters or four modest blouses suitable for vacation fun. Miss Lane also carried a reversible, flat-packing hat that can be worn in six face-flattering ways.

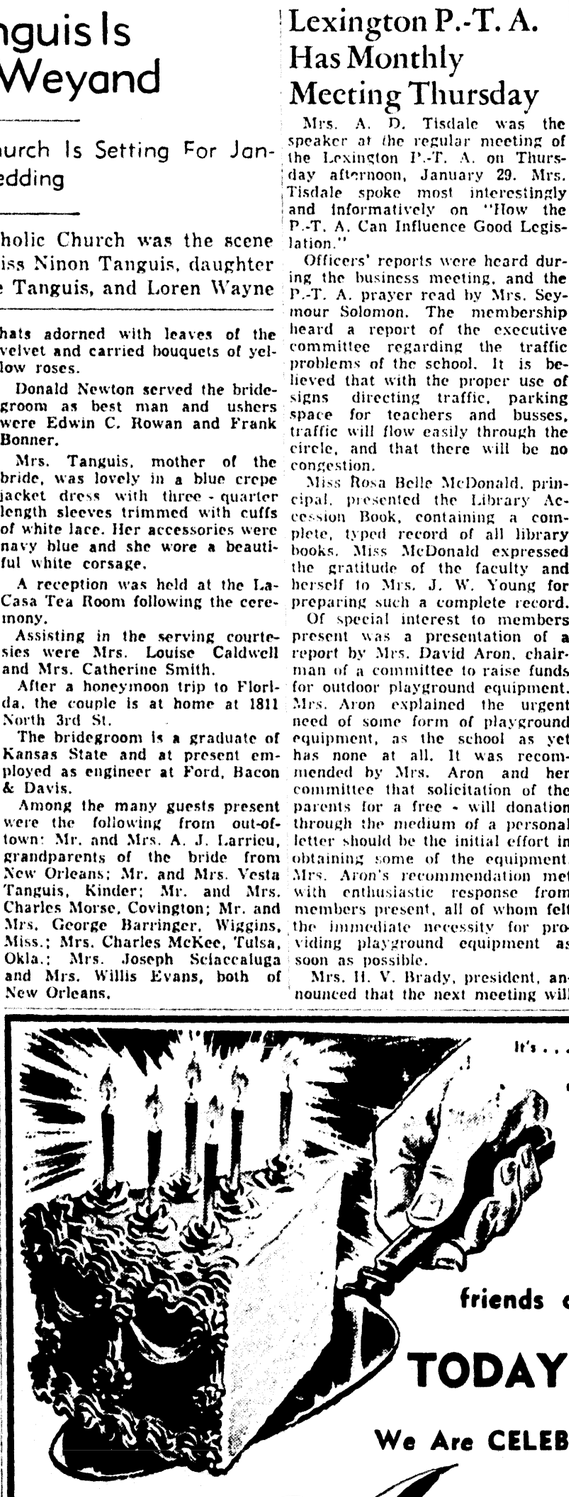

Directions for making the blouse triangles are contained in the Shell expert's newest publication called "Carol Lane's Vacation Dress-O-Graph", a complete guide to travel wardrobe planning which, along with her other printed travel aids, is available free of charge.

Miss Lane switched from fashions to the fundamental reason for travel which she pointed out "is to expand our horizons of knowledge and experience in an enjoyable manner. Many travelers today are 'shun-pikers' or back-road explorers. They seek a personal look-see into the peoples, history, resources, and recreational areas of the places they visit. A close-up view of any area is usually found off the well-traveled highways," she explained.

Miss Lane recently established a thousand-dollar annual award for the woman in the nation who most helps the traffic safety cause in her community or state.

She is also noted for her syndicated travel columns, booklets and articles on touring.

Coach K. Smith Talks To P.-T. A.

The Georgia Tucker P. T. A. held their January meeting in the school auditorium Thursday January 22nd. The president Mrs. Paul Thompson presided during the business procedure. Mrs. Lippmin asked the parents to cooperate in keeping the children's pets away from school. Several small children have been hurt by dogs.

The program was then turned over to Mrs. Breece who introduced Coach Kenneth Smith, Athletic Director for Georgia Tucker. Coach Smith spoke on "Building physical health and strength through a physical education program." In a definition of Health and Strength, he said "Health is freedom from disease and rigor of mind. Strength is moral security, ability and physical power to perform." Modern physical education is concerned with the education of the "whole child" through physical activity rather than the education of the physical alone. A well planned program meets the needs of boys and girls today and prepares them for adulthood tomorrow. In closing Coach Smith said "We are not teaching physical education, we are teaching boys and girls how to get along in a complex society."

In response to the parents viewpoint of physical education, Mrs. Lucien Branch stated "An efficient, well adjusted personality is of great importance to a healthy body in getting the most out of life and the need for a healthy mental attitude in the maintenance of the health of the body is of a great deal of importance. Through supervised play your child benefits greatly and every parent desires that his child grow and develope.

Travel Expert Demonstrates Wardrobe To Clubwomen

"Women usually take twice the clothes they can use on a trip—but only half of what they actually need," travel expert Carol Lane reported Thursday at a combined meeting of Monroe clubs, including The Business and Professional Women's Club, The Quota Club, Lioness Club, and members of the YWCA, Delta Rho Delta, Altrusa, Pilot, and AAUW.

Miss Lane, women's travel director of Shell Oil Company, speaking on "New Trends in Travel", discussed ways to travel light with fewer but more versatile clothes.

The travel authority demonstrated a one-suitcase wardrobe consisting of four basic vacation costumes. The same sets of clothing combine into about 24 ensembles for traveling, day-time sightseeing or visiting, active or spectator sports and informal evening wear. She reported that her two recent national surveys of women motorists revealed less than 2 per cent required formal evening wear during vacations.

The wardrobe consisted of a suit with plenty of underarm and knee room for traveling comfort; a two-piece print dress with a convertible neckline and full skirt which could switch its personality come sundown; a three - piece spectator sports outfit including a wrap-around skirt, strapless bodice and matching bolero; and a "rugged life" costume of sports shirt with shorts or pedal pushers.

She advocated simply cut styles of proven wrinkle - resistant fabrics selected according to a "color-controlled" plan.

"Neutral tones of beige or gray hide highway dust better than dark tones do and are suitable during unexpected hot or cold spells. Add one dark color and tones of one bright color for contrast, and your entire wardrobe will coordinate into smart but practical costumes", she advised.

In addition, Miss Lane displayed two different types of triangles she designed of tubular jersey as wardrobe extenders. One triangle tied at the neck and waist. The other was looped at the neck and hooked at the waist. They fitted together to make two halters or four modest blouses suitable for vacation fun. Miss Lane also carried a reversible, flat-packing hat that can be worn in six face-flattering ways.

Directions for making the blouse triangles are contained in the Shell expert's newest publication called "Carol Lane's Vacation Dress-O-Graph', a complete guide to travel wardrobe planning which, along with her other printed travel aids, is available free of charge.

Miss Lane switched from fashions to the fundamental reason for travel which she pointed out "is to expand our horizons of knowledge and experience in an enjoyable manner. Many travelers today are 'shun-pikers' or back-road explorers. They seek a personal look-see into the peoples, history, resources, and recreational areas of the places they visit. A close-up view of any area is usually found off the well-traveled highways," she explained.

Miss Lane recently established a thousand-dollar annual award for the woman in the nation who most helps the traffic safety cause in her community or state.

She is also noted for her syndicated travel columns, booklets and articles on touring.

A. A. U. W. Provides Grants To Aid Foreign Students

In a combination role of sponsor foster parent, and college dean to 54 women students from 20 countries, the American Association of University Women announces that it will spend an estimated $123,000 in 1952-53.

This is the seventh year the association has provided international grants under a program established to give women from abroad training for constructive service in their homelands, and also to further international understanding. This year six countries have been added to the list of nations from which the AAUW has brought outstanding women to the United States for study; they are Egypt, England, India, Israel, Sweden, and Switzerland.

Maintained by the generosity of the more than 122,000 AAUW members, the program is administered from the association's national headquarters in Washington, D. C. Miss Mary H. Smith, secretary to the AAUW international grants committee, gives each AAUW international grantee individual attention from the moment she receives the grant to her departure.

As soon as the grants are assigned, the AAUW tackles the job of placing the student university or institution that will best satisfy her needs. Whether grantholders arrive in New York or San Francisco, in fall or in winter, an AAUW member meets the boat or plane, helps the student through customs, presents the first check, arranges transportation to the place of study, and smooths any difficulties. From then on, AAUW members offer grantees their hospitality and assistance in adjustments to new situations, and open their homes to these women for week end and holiday visits.

The AAUW grants pay all expenses of these students, usually for an academic year's study. Many of them have Fulbright grants to cover the cost of travel to and from their homelands, but if necessary, AAUW pays travel expenses. AAUW funds also cover tuition, room and board, and a generous cash allowance for books clothing, recreation, travel, and incidentals.

The 1952-53 grantholders are for the most part women who are already launched in their professions or are taking advanced training in specialized fields. In 40 colleges universities, or laboratories scattered throughout the United States they are working with American experts, catching up with new developments and using modern equipment not available in their own countries.

Medical Research Grants

Thirteen of the international grantees are engaged in medical research or observing surgical techniques, two of them in plastic surgery. In addition one is doing psychiatric work and two are studying dentistry. A few are occupied with such technological subjects as electronics and architectural acoustics. Other fields of study and research include chemistry, child psycholody, nutrition, American language and literature, American civilization, library science, bacteriology anthropology personnel management, Oriental art, Coptic language study, botany, rural sociology, astronomy, poultry diseases, drama, comparative literature, nursing education, home economics, speech, and pharmacy.

Many highly qualified women carrying on important research and studies are to be found among the 1952-53 recipients of AAUW grants. One is Austria's Dr. Agusta Marcher, one of two practicing women surgeons in Vienna—a city where prejudice against woman doctors runs high. She is specializing in plastic and reconstructive surgery at the Straith Clinic of Plastic Surgery and at Harper hospital in Detroit.

A Swiss doctor who will be the chief surgeon of a Zurich hospital for women next year will observe some of the latest surgical techniques developed in the United States. Dr. Mary Luscher is working at Memorial hospital in New York City.

Finland's Mrs. Eva Helminen-Pakkala is a dentist's wife who is working for a doctor of odontology degree of her own. During her year at the New York university college of dentistry, she will study the treatment of periodontic diseases.

Miss Margrethe Stub of Norway is doing graduate work in child and developmental psychology at the University of Pitsburgh. She will also observe at the Pittsburg Child Guidance center in preparation for work on adjustment problems when she returns to Oslo.

The chief psychiatrist of the Copenhagen police department, Dr. Emma Vestergaard will spend her year in the United States observing how American court psychiatrists diagnose, classify, and treat delinquents. She is particularly interested in modern methods that produce the best rehabilitation results. She is now working with the medical service of the supreme bench of Baltimore and at the new psychopathic hospital of the University of Maryland in Baltimore. She will also visit other centers for observation. She has commented on the favorable opportunities offered in the United States for training of a court psychiatrist, "because here there are so many murders. In Denmark there are very few."

Candidates Recommended

Candidates for the AAUW grants are recommended by the federations of university women in other countries. The federations consider not only the candidate's professional qualifications and the value of her contribution on her return but also her ability to interpret her own country to Americans and to share her experiences here with her countrymen.

Of the 1952-53 students, one will come in December, another in February, and two in the late spring. One returned to Denmark early this fall after seven months participating in cancer research at the National Cancer institute in Bethesda, Md. In addition to international grantholders now studying here, five women who held 1951-52 international grants had their studies financed by the AAUW during the summer and early fall.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking... without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.

A. A. U. W. Provides Grants To Aid Foreign Students

In a combination role of sponsor foster parent, and college dean to 54 women students from 20 countries, the American Association of University Women announces that it will spend an estimated $123,000 in 1952-53.

This is the seventh year the association has provided international grants under a program established to give women from abroad training for constructive service in their homelands, and also to further international understanding. This year six countries have been added to the list of nations from which the AAUW has brought outstanding women to the United States for study; they are Egypt, England, India, Israel, Sweden, and Switzerland.

Maintained by the generosity of the more than 122,000 AAUW members, the program is administered from the association's national headquarters in Washington, D. C. Miss Mary H. Smith, secretary to the AAUW international grants committee, gives each AAUW international grantee individual attention from the moment she receives the grant to her departure.

As soon as the grants are assigned, the AAUW tackles the job of placing the student university or institution that will best satisfy her needs. Whether grantholders arrive in New York or San Francisco, in fall or in winter, an AAUW member meets the boat or plane, helps the student through customs, presents the first check, arranges transportation to the place of study, and smooths any difficulties. From then on, AAUW members offer grantees their hospitality and assistance in adjustments to new situations, and open their homes to these women for week end and holiday visits.

The AAUW grants pay all expenses of these students, usually for an academic year's study. Many of them have Fulbright grants to cover the cost of travel to and from their homelands, but if necessary, AAUW pays travel expenses. AAUW funds also cover tuition, room and board, and a generous cash allowance for books clothing, recreation, travel, and incidentals.

The 1952-53 grantholders are for the most part women who are already launched in their professions or are taking advanced training in specialized fields. In 40 colleges universities, or laboratories scattered throughout the United States they are working with American experts, catching up with new developments and using modern equipment not available in their own countries.

Medical Research Grants

Thirteen of the international grantees are engaged in medical research or observing surgical techniques, two of them in plastic surgery. In addition one is doing psychiatric work and two are studying dentistry. A few are occupied with such technological subjects as electronics and architectural acoustics. Other fields of study and research include chemistry, child psycholody, nutrition, American language and literature, American civilization, library science, bacteriology anthropology personnel management, Oriental art, Coptic language study, botany, rural sociology, astronomy, poultry diseases, drama, comparative literature, nursing education, home economics, speech, and pharmacy.

Many highly qualified women carrying on important research and studies are to be found among the 1952-53 recipients of AAUW grants. One is Austria's Dr. Agusta Marcher, one of two practicing women surgeons in Vienna—a city where prejudice against woman doctors runs high. She is specializing in plastic and reconstructive surgery at the Straith Clinic of Plastic Surgery and at Harper hospital in Detroit.

A Swiss doctor who will be the chief surgeon of a Zurich hospital for women next year will observe some of the latest surgical techniques developed in the United States. Dr. Mary Luscher is working at Memorial hospital in New York City.

Finland's Mrs. Eva Heiminen-Pakkala is a dentist's wife who is working for a doctor of odontology degree of her own. During her year at the New York university college of dentistry, she will study the treatment of periodontic diseases.

Miss Margrethe Stub of Norway is doing graduate work in child and developmental psychology at the University of Pitsburgh. She will also observe at the Pittsburg Child Guidance center in preparation for work on adjustment problems when she returns to Oslo.

The chief psychiatrist of the Copenhagen police department, Dr. Emma Vestergaard will spend her year in the United States observing how American court psychiatrists diagnose, classify, and treat delinquents. She is particularly interested in modern methods that produce the best rehabilitation results. She is now working with the medical service of the supreme bench of Baltimore and at the new psychopathic hospital of the University of Maryland in Baltimore. She will also visit other centers for observation. She has commented on the favorable opportunities offered in the United States for training of a court psychiatrist, "because here there are so many murders. In Denmark there are very few."

Candidates Recommended

Candidates for the AAUW grants are recommended by the federations of university women in other countries. The federations consider not only the candidate's professional qualifications and the value of her contribution on her return but also her ability to interpret her own country to Americans and to share her experiences here with her countrymen.

Of the 1952-53 students, one will come in December, another in February, and two in the late spring. One returned to Denmark early this fall after seven months participating in cancer research at the National Cancer institute in Bethesda, Md. In addition to international grantholders now studying here, five women who held 1951-52 international grants had their studies financed by the AAUW during the summer and early fall.

Pink Theme Is Used At Afternoon Party Honoring Mrs. Nash, A Recent Bride

Bible Comment

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

"Poor, yet making many rich" that is how Saint Paul describes the condition and privilege of the early Christian believers, many of whom were evidently quite poor in worldly goods. "As having nothing," he adds, "and yet possessing all things" (II Corinthians 6:10).
It was not a chance remark or a sentimental idea on the Apostle's part, but an expression of his settled philosophy concerning the Christian's possessions. He wrote (Ephesians 3:8) of "the unsearchable riches of Christ," as the content of his preaching. But also, in the First Epistle to the Corinthians (Chapter 3:21-23), he reasoned more directly concerning the Christian's wealth.
The Christian belongs to Christ. Christ is God's. All things belong to God. Therefore, he writes to the Corinthians, "All things are yours."
There is a secular parallel in the famous saying of the pagan philosopher, poor, but with a vision: "Cleon hath a thousand acres, but the landscape I."
The cynic may protest that this sort of wealth will not pay the rent, taxes or doctor's bills, or even the expense of keeping soul and body together. There is a point in the criticism but it might also be pointed out that Paul was no visionary dreamer regarding the practical affairs of life and what we call "making a living."
He worked at his trade as tentmaker to support himself and he insisted that everybody else should work. He would have no loafers in the Christian community and when he found some taking advantage of the readiness of Christians to help one another he declared roundly that those who wouldn't work shouldn't eat. (II Thessalonians 3:10).
Further, if he admonished Christians to "bear one another's burdens" (Galatians 6:2), almost in the same breath (Galatians 6:5) he qualified this with the declaration that "every man shall bear his own burden." There never has been, even to our time, a clearer statement of social and individual responsibility.
But, to get back to the matter of Christian's wealth, there is a reality of inner wealth and richness of life that no amount of worldly, material wealth or possessions can give. One who has missed the Christian's possessions has missed the greatest thing that God and life have to offer.
The late Andrew Carnegie wrote a book, "The Gospel of Wealth." It was very different from the Gospel of Christ and of the poor making many rich.
In his book, "Opinions of a Cheerful Yankee," Irving Bacheller tells of visiting Carnegie during the millionaire's later years at his castle in Scotland. The impression he got was of a sad-faced man. "In the midst of great abundance he felt the need of something which he could not buy."
There is a reality about that inner wealth of which Paul wrote—a wealth that gives to life, and even to death, a note of triumph.

Bible Comment

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

"Poor, yet making many rich" that is how Saint Paul describes the condition and privilege of the early Christian believers, many of whom were evidently quite poor in worldly goods. "As having nothing," he adds, "and yet possessing all things" (II Corinthians 6:10).

It was not a chance remark or a sentimental idea on the Apostle's part, but an expression of his settled philosophy concerning the Christian's possessions. He wrote (Ephesians 3:8) of "the unsearchable riches of Christ," as the content of his preaching. But also, in the First Epistle to the Corinthians (Chapter 3:21-23), he reasoned more directly concerning the Christian's wealth.

The Christian belongs to Christ. Christ is God's. All things belong to God. Therefore, he writes to the Corinthians, "All things are yours."

There is a secular parallel in the famous saying of the pagan philosopher, poor, but with a vision: "Cleon hath a thousand acres, but the landscape I."

The cynic may protest that this sort of wealth will not pay the rent, taxes or doctor's bills, or even the expense of keeping soul and body together. There is a point in the criticism but it might also be pointed out that Paul was no visionary dreamer regarding the practical affairs of life and what we call "making a living."

He worked at his trade as tentmaker to support himself and he insisted that everybody else should work. He would have no loafers in the Christian community and when he found some taking advantage of the readiness of Christians to help one another he declared roundly that those who wouldn't work shouldn't eat. (II Thessalonians 3:10).

Further, if he admonished Christians to "bear one another's burdens" (Galatians 6:2), almost in the same breath (Galatians 6:5) he qualified this with the declaration that "every man shall bear his own burden." There never has been, even to our time, a clearer statement of social and individual responsibility.

But, to get back to the matter of Christian's wealth, there is a reality of inner wealth and richness of life that no amount of worldly, material wealth or possessions can give. One who has missed the Christian's possessions has missed the greatest thing that God and life have to offer.

The late Andrew Carnegie wrote a book, "The Gospel of Wealth." It was very different from the Gospel of Christ and of the poor making many rich.

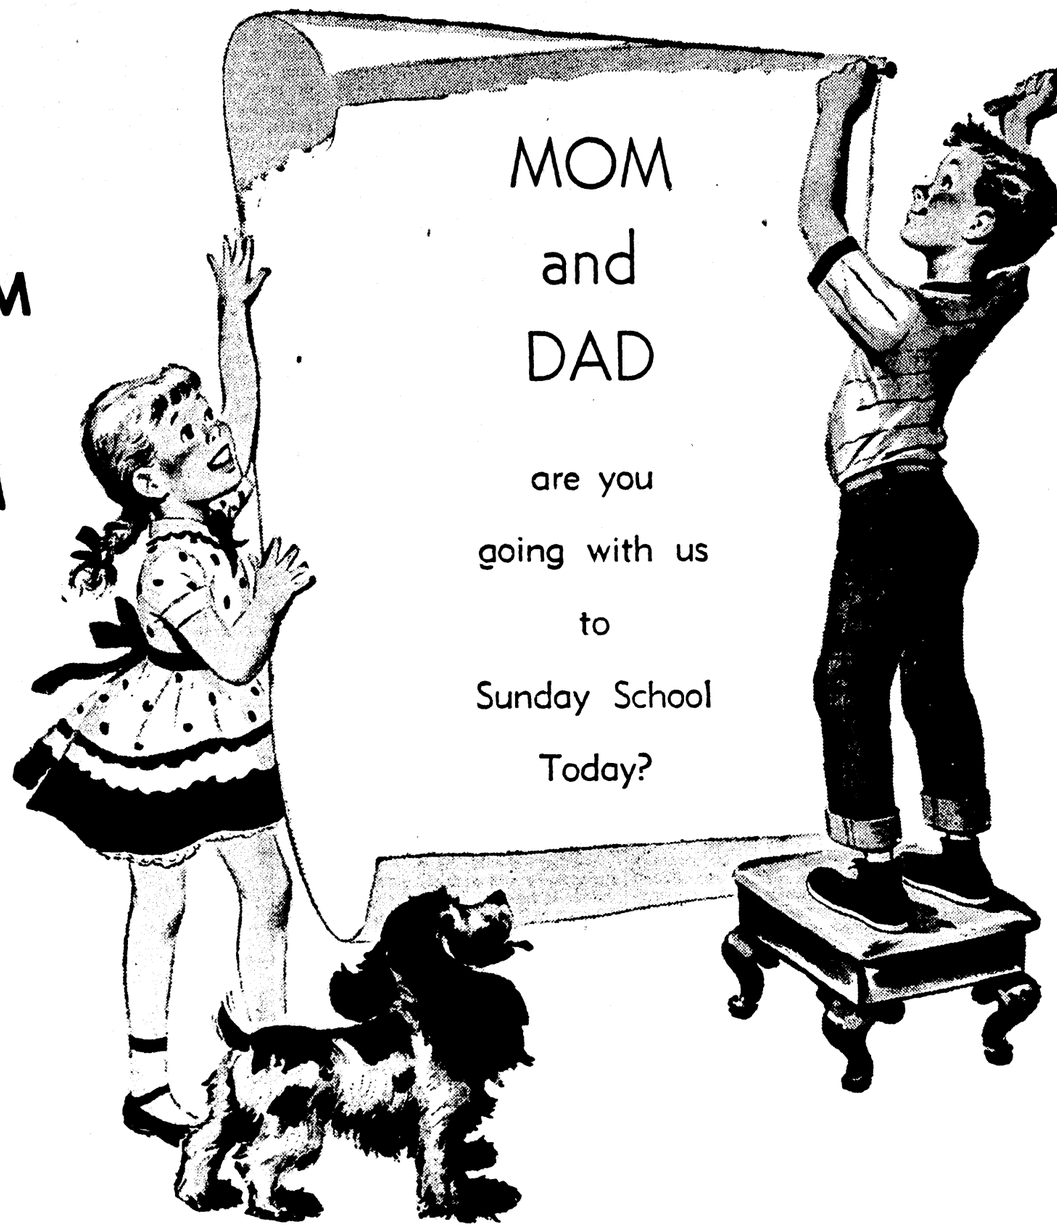

In his book, "Opinions of a Cheerful Yankee," Irving Bacheller tells of visiting Carnegie during the millionaire's later years at his castle in Scotland. The impression he got was of a sad-faced man. "In the midst of great abundance he felt the need of something which he could not buy."

There is a reality about that inner wealth of which Paul wrote—a wealth that gives to life, and even to death, a note of triumph.

WITH YOUR CHILDREN

As we consider the many problems of growing children, we ask: How can we help our boys and girls live the abundant life? How can we help them find the true answers to their questions and the right solutions to their problems? How can we help them to make the vital adjustments of life? How can we lead them to be saved from sin and to overcome temptations to do wrong? To whose service will these boys and girls be dedicated?

In answering these questions, we would recognize that the Sunday School cannot include every good teaching. What can be taught is necessarily limited by the amount of time the pupils are in the Sunday School. Therefore, the emphasis is placed upon that teaching which is the unique opportunity and responsibility of the Sunday school. But how can your children get these all important principles if they're not in Sunday school regularly. The aim of the Sunday school is for religious teaching and training, with the Bible as the textbook. They need to find in these teachings as answers to their questions and the pattenrs for their conduct. They need continually to have fellowship with God. Parents: It's not only your opportunity . . . but it's your responsibility and duty to see that your children have a Christion background. Their life here on earth depends upon it. Their soul in eternity depends upon it. Are you fulfilling your obligation? It's something to think about.

Young Matrons Of Monroe To Organize Garden Club

Monroe Garden Club To Sponsor Organization Of Two Clubs

The members of the Monroe Garden Club, always civic minded, decided to interest the young matrons of Monroe, who have new gardens, in becoming more garden conscious. To help create interest they were invited to hear Mrs. W. B. Southern Gardener

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

This is the time of the year we like to receive those wonderful seed catalogs and browse through the wonders that bloom in the Spring.

Our gardens will never look quite like the ones in the beautiful colored prints, but that never bothers a gardener one bit for we are a happy lot of incurable optimists. There are so many handy things to blame our failures on: the weather, the season, the sun, the shade, the soil, or just "bad luck."

Besides the zinnias and marigolds, there are lots of other plants which are just as good for our Southern gardens. One cannot find all of them in one catalogue, but, by perusing many lists, a great many may be rounded up. It is a good idea to send as many two penny postals as your fancy dictates to seed houses for their latest offering. Some houses print such elaborate books that they are quite often worth a little extra expense.

Since the war a number of English seed houses have established representatives in New York. These catalogues are well worth ordering, for they always have some novelties and many plants which are fine for our gardens. The English and Continentals grow a great many "tender" perennials and annuals which are not advertised in this country.

If you do not yet have the blue perennial Salvia farinacea about which we'll talk a great deal in the future, order some seeds of the variety Blue Bedder and also some of the newer variety, Royal Blue. These salvias are really perennials, but they will bloom for you at least by late summer if you plant them inside between now and spring and get the plants into the ground as soon as warm weather comes along.

Salvia patens is another good type for southern gardens. It comes quickly from seeds and is considered a half hardy perennial. Two shades are listed in most seed catalogues: Oxford Blue and Cambridge Blue. In some hot gardens these plants do not last through a real drouth, but they are worth the effort to grow them even if they last for only a few months because these shades of blue are very hard to find in garden flowers here in the south where delphiniums are not permanent.

A few catalogues list a little, low pink flower called Silene pendula, which is extremely heat resistant because of a sticky surface on the leaves. Nothing quite equals this little plant for neatness and toughness in the hot summer. It is easy to raise from seed and the plant will go through the winter in warm sections because it is a hardy perennial. It is very valuable as a pink edger and blooms right on into the hot weather. If you plant some of the seeds right along with your zinnias, and then make a second planting two or three weeks later, you will have blooms right through the hottest weather when you see everything else quit and wilt.

If you have never been able to raise lilies in your garden with any degree of success, order some seeds of the Philippine lily and plant them inside right away. They will bloom before frost! A garden I know has quantities of these big white lilies in bloom each year in late summer and early fall from a packet of seeds planted long ago. They seed themselves here and there over the garden and have to be taken up and put in their proper places. But who wouldn't like to have lilies act like that in their garden!

There is a dearth of white and gray foliage plants in many gardens. Most of us do have the fine - leaved variety of artemisia called Silver King but we could do with the annual sideritis, too. It comes easily from seed. Stevia is another plant which grows without much trouble. It is true that it doesn't make much of a show, but it does lighten the effect of too many zinnias and dahlias in a bed of flowers.

Most of the perennial asters will bloom by fall if you plant the seeds inside right away. Aster amellus and aster subcoeruleus may frighten you with their Latin names, but they will certainly please you in summer with their great mounds of lavender asters. There are many varieties of these species, and all of them are good garden plants which are permanent in our hot summers. If you want the very best summer blooming aster ever invented for the south, you will have to order the plants of the variety called Wonder of Staffa. This is perhaps the most important perennial that has come into our southern gardens since Salvia farinacea was introduced.

It produces great clumps of fresh looking asters at a time in late summer when it seems literally impossible. The flowers are fine for cutting but there are few people who can bear to remove any from the plants out of doors because they make such a fine effect in the garden. Florists grow this one for cut flowers.

ROSES ARE BIG BUSINESS

BOSTON. — The growth of roses for sale is a big business in the United States. It is estimated that the value of roses sold last year exceeded the combined value of all these commercial crops: apples, apricots, cherries, peaches, grapes plums, pears, prunes, quinces, and fruits of other deciduous trees.

The seeds of desert flowers in New Mexico are encased in heavy shells, as hard as rock, and thus can remain alive, though dormant, an inch or so beneath the surface of the soil for as long as sixteen years.

Camellia Gardens In Full Bloom At Charleston

Camellias at Middleton, Magnolia and Cypress gardens in Charleston, S. C., this season promise their greatest array of blooms in three years.

The reason: a "normal" winter. A spokesman for the gardens says "Winter came as it should—gradually. The early cold delayed the opening of the blooms somewhat, but it hardened the plants so that they can now produce more and finer blossoms. The result will be a heavier bloom than we have had in the last three years."

Magnolia is known for its flowers, individual and en masse; Cypress for its mirror-like pools, and Middleton for its formal landscaping.

At Magnolia, constant transplanting from nursery to garden is resulting in the addition of new and fine varieties of camellias. Unusual plants are bred in the nursery for several years until they have proved adaptable to this climate. Then they are moved into the garden.

Cypress garden's rare daphne odora, brought in from Oregon, is beginning to bloom. This low-growing plant is unusual not for its flowers but for its fragrance, which hangs over the cypress ponds and walkways.

QUIZZING THE GARDENER

Q—How soon can branches of Forsythia be cut and forced into mid-winter blooms indoors?

A—At once. Forsythia normally requires three weeks and Peach and Quince a week longer. If possible immerse the entire branch in a tub of warm water for several hours after first bringing indoors. Then place in deep containers of water and spray the tops daily with water. Full sun is not necessary.

Q—Ferns of any variety are not happy in our house. What are the requirements for their successful growth?

A—They should have a moist atmosphere and a fairly sunny location. If lighting is poor, place a 100 watt bulb in a suitable reflector two or three feet above them. The soil must neither dry out completely nor be soggy other than when first watered. Good drainage is important.

Seed Catalogs Offer New Treats For Gardeners

By HENRY PREE
Written for NEA Service

The arrival of the new seed and nursery catalogs is indeed welcome, because each one gives descriptions of new plants available to the gardener. Many of the newcomers are annuals and perennials which merit consideration. There are also several flowering shrubs offered that would enhance the beauty of the springtime garden.

While the descriptions seem almost as highly colored as the illustrations, most of us will probably add some new varieties to our gardens.

Since many gardeners wish to grow flowers which are as colorful in the house as in the garden, consider the new trysomic hi-double stocks which made west coast gardeners happy last year. These new stocks are said to produce 85 per cent or more double flowers, the highest percentage of double blooms which stocks have ever produced.

They come in seven colors: Chamois, deep rose, lilac-lavendar, purple, red, white and yellow. A San Francisco seed company has added these sensational double stocks to its line.

Sweet alyssum has long been a much-desired annual, as it is easy to grow and is ideal for edging the flower beds, and for planting between stones in the walks. For the first time since its inception, the 1953 All-America Selections Committee has awarded the silver medal to a sweet alyssum.

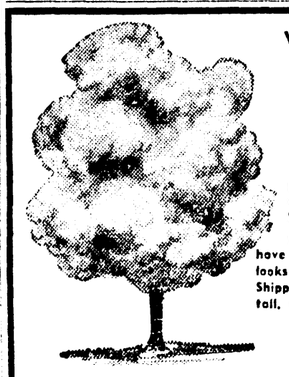

The prize winner, named "Royal Carpet," is colored a rich purple and is an excellent flower. While its upright growth is seldom three inches high its spread may be as much as 20 inches per plant. The flowers are fragrant and last well into autumn. Seed sown in late April will result in bloom by early July.

The old-fashioned fragrant flowering tobacco, or nicotiana, has long been a standby in the annual border. Its only drawback is its habit of closing up tightly when the sun is shining.

However, a new strain which remains open during the day may be substituted if one wants day-and-night color and fragrance. This variety, called "New Sensation," should be obtainable at the better seed stores. In addition to white, this nicotiana comes in shades of crimson, bright scarlet, rose, mahogany, violet and yellow.

There are also two new Shasta daisies. The first one is "Wirral Pride," a profusely flowering hybrid from England, with flowers three to four inches in diameter. The heavily crested short white petals in the center produce a semi-double effect.

Equally good but far more prolific is the "Mark Riegel," with as many as 15 to 20 flowers four to five inches across on each plant at one time.

If you do not yet have the blue perennial Salvia farinacea about which we'll talk a great deal in the future, order some seeds of the variety Blue Bedder and also some of the newer variety, Royal Blue. These salvias are really perennials, but they will bloom for you at least by late summer if you plant them inside between now and spring and get the plants into the ground as soon as warm weather comes along.

Salvia patens is another good type for southern gardens. It comes quickly from seeds and is considered a half hardy perennial. Two shades are listed in most seed catalogues: Oxford Blue and Cambridge Blue. In some hot gardens these plants do not last through a real drouth, but they are worth the effort to grow them even if they last for only a few months because these shades of blue are very hard to find in garden flowers here in the south where delphiniums are not permanent.

A few catalogues list a little, low pink flower called Silene pendula, which is extremely heat resistant because of a sticky surface on the leaves. Nothing quite equals this little plant for neatness and toughness in the hot summer. It is easy to raise from seed and the plant will go through the winter in warm sections because it is a hardy perennial. It is very valuable as a pink edger and blooms right on into the hot weather. If you plant some of the seeds right along with your zinnias, and then make a second planting two or three weeks later, you will have blooms right through the hottest weather when you see everything else quit and wilt.

If you have never been able to raise lilies in your garden with any degree of success, order some seeds of the Philippine lily and plant them inside right away. They will bloom before frost! A garden I know has quantities of these big white lilies in bloom each year in late summer and early fall from a packet of seeds planted long ago. They seed themselves here and there over the garden and have to be taken up and put in their proper places. But who wouldn't like to have lilies act like that in their garden!

There is a dearth of white and gray foliage plants in many gardens. Most of us do have the fine - leaved variety of artemisia called Silver King but we could do with the annual sideritis, too. It comes easily from seed. Stevia is another plant which grows without much trouble. It is true that it doesn't make much of a show, but it does lighten the effect of too many zinnias and dahlias in a bed of flowers.

Most of the perennial asters will bloom by fall if you plant the seeds inside right away. Aster amellus and aster subcoeruleus may frighten you with their Latin names, but they will certainly please you in summer with their great mounds of lavender asters. There are many varieties of these species, and all of them are good garden plants which are permanent in our hot summers. If you want the very best summer blooming aster ever invented for the south, you will have to order the plants of the variety called Wonder of Staffa. This is perhaps the most important perennial that has come into our southern gardens since Salvia farinacea was introduced.

It produces great clumps of fresh looking asters at a time in late summer when it seems literally impossible. The flowers are fine for cutting but there are few people who can bear to remove any from the plants out of doors because they make such a fine effect in the garden. Florists grow this one for cut flowers.

ROSES ARE BIG BUSINESS

BOSTON. — The growth of roses for sale is a big business in the United States. It is estimated that the value of roses sold last year exceeded the combined value of all these commercial crops: apples, apricots, cherries, peaches, grapes plums, pears, prunes, quinces, and fruits of other deciduous trees.

The seeds of desert flowers in New Mexico are encased in heavy shells, as hard as rock, and thus can remain alive, though dormant, an inch or so beneath the surface of the soil for as long as sixteen years.

Camellia Gardens In Full Bloom At Charleston

Camellias at Middleton, Magnolia and Cypress gardens in Charleston, S. C., this season promise their greatest array of blooms in three years.

The reason: a "normal" winter. A spokesman for the gardens says "Winter came as it should—gradually. The early cold delayed the opening of the blooms somewhat, but it hardened the plants so that they can now produce more and finer blossoms. The result will be a heavier bloom than we have had in the last three years."

Magnolia is known for its flowers, individual and en masse; Cypress for its mirror-like pools, and Middleton for its formal landscaping.

At Magnolia, constant transplanting from nursery to garden is resulting in the addition of new and fine varieties of camellias. Unusual plants are bred in the nursery for several years until they have proved adaptable to this climate. Then they are moved into the garden.

Cypress garden's rare daphne odora, brought in from Oregon, is beginning to bloom. This low-growing plant is unusual not for its flowers but for its fragrance, which hangs over the cypress ponds and walkways.

QUIZZING THE GARDENER

Q—How soon can branches of Forsythia be cut and forced into mid-winter blooms indoors?

A—At once. Forsythia normally requires three weeks and Peach and Quince a week longer. If possible immerse the entire branch in a tub of warm water for several hours after first bringing indoors. Then place in deep containers of water and spray the tops daily with water. Full sun is not necessary.

Q—Ferns of any variety are not happy in our house. What are the requirements for their successful growth?

A—They should have a moist atmosphere and a fairly sunny location. If lighting is poor, place a 100 watt bulb in a suitable reflector two or three feet above them. The soil must neither dry out completely nor be soggy other than when first watered. Good drainage is important.

Seed Catalogs Offer New Treats For Gardeners

By HENRY PREE
Written for NEA Service

The arrival of the new seed and nursery catalogs is indeed welcome, because each one gives descriptions of new plants available to the gardener. Many of the newcomers are annuals and perennials which merit consideration. There are also several flowering shrubs offered that would enhance the beauty of the springtime garden.

While the descriptions seem almost as highly colored as the illustrations, most of us will probably add some new varieties to our gardens.

Since many gardeners wish to grow flowers which are as colorful in the house as in the garden, consider the new trysomic hi-double stocks which made west coast gardeners happy last year. These new stocks are said to produce 85 per cent or more double flowers, the highest percentage of double blooms which stocks have ever produced.

They come in seven colors: Chamois, deep rose, lilac-lavendar, purple, red, white and yellow. A San Francisco seed company has added these sensational double stocks to its line.

Sweet alyssum has long been a much-desired annual, as it is easy to grow and is ideal for edging the flower beds, and for planting between stones in the walks. For the first time since its inception, the 1953 All-America Selections Committee has awarded the silver medal to a sweet alyssum.

The prize winner, named "Royal Carpet," is colored a rich purple and is an excellent flower. While its upright growth is seldom three inches high its spread may be as much as 20 inches per plant. The flowers are fragrant and last well into autumn. Seed sown in late April will result in bloom by early July.

The old-fashioned fragrant flowering tobacco, or nicotiana, has long been a standby in the annual border. Its only drawback is its habit of closing up tightly when the sun is shining.

However, a new strain which remains open during the day may be substituted if one wants day-and-night color and fragrance. This variety, called "New Sensation," should be obtainable at the better seed stores. In addition to white, this nicotiana comes in shades of crimson, bright scarlet, rose, mahogany, violet and yellow.

There are also two new Shasta daisies. The first one is "Wirral Pride," a profusely flowering hybrid from England, with flowers three to four inches in diameter. The heavily crested short white petals in the center produce a semi-double effect.

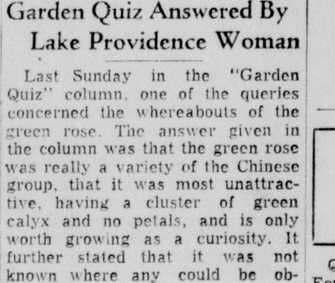

Equally good but far more prolific is the "Mark Riegel," with as many as 15 to 20 flowers four to five inches across on each plant at one time.

The Skillet Club

By UNCLE FRANK KOHLER

Chicken And Oysters Yield A Fine Gumbo

Mrs. Carmen Bulliard Montegut of The New Orleans Times-Picayune Chapter, becomes a life member of The Skillet Club with this prize-winning recipe for Chicken and Oysters Gumbo. We are sure that your grocer can obtain the "Gumbo File" (pronounced "feelay") for you, if he hasn't it. The ingredients are:

1 large hen cut as for frying.
1 cup flour.
1 large onion, diced.
2 cloves garlic, mashed.
2 quarts warm water.
1 pint oysters.
1 tablespoon Gumbo File powder.
Cayenne, salt, black pepper, MSG, tobasco.
2 tablespoons chopped parsley.
2 tablespoons chopped green onion tops.

We used our cast iron Dutch oven for this. Make a "roux" by heating the oil and adding the flour, and blending them smooth. Cook until the flour browns (about five minutes). Add the diced onion and minced garlic. Season the chicken with salt, pepper and cayenne, and add. Fry the chicken in the roux until oil comes out around the edges. Add the warm water and cook slowly until chicken is tender (about two hours). Remove the chicken, discard skin and bones, and cut meat in small pieces and return to pot. Add the oysters with their liquor 20 minutes before serving.

Just before removing from fire, check the seasoning. Our taste called for a few dashes of Tobasco, a little more salt, and one teaspoon MSG, which is optional. Add Gumbo File powder after removing pot from fire; add it very slowly, stirring the boiling hot soup constantly to mix it thoroughly. Then add chopped parsley and onion tops if desired.

Never add the File powder while the soup is on the fire because it will make the soup stringy and not fit to eat. The gumbo should be served from a very hot tureen or bowl, in large, hot soup plates. Keep the tureen hot, because once the gumbo has cooled, it may not be reheated.

This gumbo should be served with boiled rice, hot French bread, and plenty of red wine. For the rice, Mrs. Montegut uses one cup of water to one cup of very well-washed rice, and cooks it one hour on a low fire. We used processed rice, following the instructions on the package. Place a mound of rice in the soup plate, and ladle the gumbo over it. With this we also served a crisp green salad.

4 tablespoons flour.
1 cup corn syrup.
1 cup maple syrup.
5 eggs, well beaten.
1 scant teaspoon salt.
1 generous teaspoon vanilla.
3 tablespoons melted butter, Pecan halves, Pie dough.

In a mixing bowl, combine thoroughly the sugar, flour and syrup. Stir in the well-beaten eggs, salt, vanilla and melted butter, and mix all thoroughly. Pour the filling with a layer of pecan halves and bake in a moderate oven, 325 degrees for about 35 minutes, until the filling is slightly puffed at the edges and set. Watch carefully, and if filling starts to boil over, reduce heat to 300 degrees.

To achieve that real New Orleans atmosphere, we started this affair with an Absinthe Cocktail: one jigger of absinthe - flavored liquer; one dash orange bitters; one dash Angostura bitters; two dashes Anisette; shake well in fine ice and serve. And of course, for a grand finale, black coffee — that New Orleans drip coffee with chicory if you can find it.

The Home Shift With Mildred Swift

The Infantile Paralysis Auction was a huge success. Hats off to our three radio stations, KNOE, KMLB, KLIC and to the boys' who "barked" themselves hoarse. I was really glad the program was not televised when Irvin started to demonstrate the bathtub!!

Tailoring Classes

When twenty-three women make twenty-three coats—that's a big job. Elaine Breard was in the tailoring class last year, so she took over the girls at the college with me popping in several times during the day. Not that Elaine needed me, she was doing such a good job. At the same time another class was in progress at the Agricultural Building. Nine coats and seventeen suits were completed, the average cost of the garments, $18.43. I believe the most outstanding achievement was getting sleeves in the coat without any stitched gathers.

We made new friends, had coffee and cookies during the day and in all had a very nice time. The girls all said they learned from one to five new sewing methods as well as finishing a coat. I forgot to say Margaret Webb helped Elaine.

Garden News

If you want extra special bulb blooms, work a little 5-10-5 around each plant. The white narcissus and yellow jonquils are beautiful this year. Have you noticed how much prettier they are when planted in masses, the white ones all in one patch and the yellow ones in another?

You can buy plants of calendula, pansy, stock and snap dragon at the seed stores and nurseries. Also gladiolus bulbs.

I don't know of any more rewarding plant than the sweet alyssum. Those who planted last year have a large carpet of blooms now. The new rich violet colored alyssum, Royal Carpet, makes a nice border plant and ground cover. Each plant spreads to ten or twelve inches and they are only about ten inches high when full grown. So free flowering is the Royal Carpet that the foliage is scarcely visible. Sow the seed now. Give them full sunlight for best results. The seed stores have seed.

New Petunia

The Comanche petunia is supposed to be even better than the Fire Chief. This newcomer is a richer red with larger and more flowers on stronger, bushier plants. It grows about fifteen inches tall and as wide, if planted in a sunny location. Comanche is long lasting as a cut flower and very graceful in arrangements. One of the seed stores has ordered seed of this petunia and will ask the nurseries to plant some. Maybe we can get plants later on. Those living in pastel colored houses beware of this red petunia. It fights with pinks, blues and lavender.

Fertilizers

Get your 5-10-5 ready for work in February. All shrubs can be fertilized then except azaleas and camellias. Cut back any over grown evergreens and late blooming shrubs. This includes crepe myrtles and altheas. Your lawn will need feeding in February, also your trees. Get all the straw and leaves you can find for mulching. Sawdust is good too. Remember mulching conserves moisture and you don't have to water so much during dry spells. It decays and puts compost in your soil. It saves cultivation and keeps down weeds and grass.

Dates 'N Doins

Friday, February 6, there will be a demonstration on making draperies and cornices at the Agricultural Building in West Monroe. The time is 9:30. You're invited to come. You won't need to bring anything. You don't need to register. Friday, February 13, we'll have a hat class at the Agricultural Building to work on straws. We'll begin at 9:00. In this column next Sunday I'll give you a list of supplies you'll need. If you've attended a hat class before, you won't need to come again. The same work will be repeated.

See you next Sunday in this same column.

The Skillet Club

By UNCLE FRANK KOHLER

Chicken And Oysters Yield A Fine Gumbo

Mrs. Carmen Bulliard Montegut of The New Orleans Times-Picayune Chapter, becomes a life member of The Skillet Club with this prize-winning recipe for Chicken and Oysters Gumbo. We are sure that your grocer can obtain the "Gumbo File" (pronounced "feelay") for you, if he hasn't it. The ingredients are:

1 large hen cut as for frying.
1 cup cooking oil.
1 cup flour.
1 large onion, diced.
2 cloves garlic, mashed.
2 quarts warm water.
1 pint oysters.
1 tablespoon Gumbo File powder.
Cayenne, salt, black pepper, MSG, tobasco.
2 tablespoons chopped parsley.
2 tablespoons chopped green onion tops.

We used our cast iron Dutch oven for this. Make a "roux" by heating the oil and adding the flour, and blending them smooth. Cook until the flour browns (about five minutes). Add the diced onion and minced garlic. Season the chicken with salt, pepper and cayenne, and add. Fry the chicken in the roux until oil comes out around the edges. Add the warm water and cook slowly until chicken is tender (about two hours). Remove the chicken, discard skin and bones, and cut meat in small pieces and return to pot. Add the oysters with their liquor 20 minutes before serving.

Just before removing from fire, check the seasoning. Our taste called for a few dashes of Tobasco, a little more salt, and one teaspoon MSG, which is optional. Add Gumbo File powder after removing pot from fire; add it very slowly, stirring the boiling hot soup constantly to mix it thoroughly. Then add chopped parsley and onion tops if desired.

Never add the File powder while the soup is on the fire because it will make the soup stringy and not fit to eat. The gumbo should be served from a very hot tureen or bowl, in large, hot soup plates. Keep the tureen hot, because once the gumbo has cooled, it may not be reheated.

This gumbo should be served with boiled rice, hot French bread, and plenty of red wine. For the rice, Mrs. Montegut uses one cup of water to one cup of very well-washed rice, and cooks it one hour on a low fire. We used processed rice, following the instructions on the package. Place a mound of rice in the soup plate, and ladle the gumbo over it. With this we also served a crisp green salad.

2-½ tablespoons sugar.
4 tablespoons flour.
1 cup corn syrup.
1 cup maple syrup.
5 eggs, well beaten.
1 scant teaspoon salt.
1 generous teaspoon vanilla.
3 tablespoons melted butter, Pecan halves, Pie dough.

In a mixing bowl, combine thoroughly the sugar, flour and syrup. Stir in the well-beaten eggs, salt, vanilla and melted butter, and mix all thoroughly. Pour the filling with a layer of pecan halves and bake in a moderate oven, 325 degrees for about 35 minutes, until the filling is slightly puffed at the edges and set. Watch carefully, and if filling starts to boil over, reduce heat to 300 degrees.

To achieve that real New Orleans atmosphere, we started this affair with an Absinthe Cocktail: one jigger of absinthe - flavored liquer; one dash orange bitters; one dash Angostura bitters; two dashes Anisette; shake well in fine ice and serve. And of course, for a grand finale, black coffee — that New Orleans drip coffee with chicory if you can find it.

The Home Shift With

Mildred Swift

The Infantile Paralysis Auction was a huge success. Hats off to our three radio stations, KNOE, KMLB, KLIC and to the boys' who "barked" themselves hoarse. I was really glad the program was not televised when Irvin started to demonstrate the bathtub!!

Tailoring Classes

When twenty-three women make twenty-three coats—that's a big job. Elaine Breard was in the tailoring class last year, so she took over the girls at the college with me popping in several times during the day. Not that Elaine needed me, she was doing such a good job. At the same time another class was in progress at the Agricultural Building. Nine coats and seventeen suits were completed, the average cost of the garments, $18.43. I believe the most outstanding achievement was getting sleeves in the coat without any stitched gathers.

We made new friends, had coffee and cookies during the day and in all had a very nice time. The girls all said they learned from one to five new sewing methods as well as finishing a coat. I forgot to say Margaret Webb helped Elaine.

Garden News

If you want extra special bulb blooms, work a little 5-10-5 around each plant. The white narcissus and yellow jonquils are beautiful this year. Have you noticed how much prettier they are when planted in masses, the white ones all in one patch and the yellow ones in another?

You can buy plants of calendula, pansy, stock and snap dragon at the seed stores and nurseries. Also gladiolus bulbs.

I don't know of any more rewarding plant than the sweet alyssum. Those who planted last year have a large carpet of blooms now. The new rich violet colored alyssum, Royal Carpet, makes a nice border plant and ground cover. Each plant spreads to ten or twelve inches and they are only about ten inches high when full grown. So free flowering is the Royal Carpet that the foliage is scarcely visible. Sow the seed now. Give them full sunlight for best results. The seed stores have seed.

New Petunia

The Comanche petunia is supposed to be even better than the Fire Chief. This newcomer is a richer red with larger and more flowers on stronger, bushier plants. It grows about fifteen inches tall and as wide, if planted in a sunny location. Comanche is long lasting as a cut flower and very graceful in arrangements. One of the seed stores has ordered seed of this petunia and will ask the nurseries to plant some. Maybe we can get plants later on. Those living in pastel colored houses beware of this red petunia. It fights with pinks, blues and lavender.

Fertilizers

Get your 5-10-5 ready for work in February. All shrubs can be fertilized then except azaleas and camellias. Cut back any over grown evergreens and late blooming shrubs. This includes crepe myrtles and altheas. Your lawn will need feeding in February, also your trees. Get all the straw and leaves you can find for mulching. Sawdust is good too. Remember mulching conserves moisture and you don't have to water so much during dry spells. It decays and puts compost in your soil. It saves cultivation and keeps down weeds and grass.

Dates 'N Doins

Friday, February 6, there will be a demonstration on making draperies and cornices at the Agricultural Building in West Monroe. The time is 9:30. You're invited to come. You won't need to bring anything. You don't need to register. Friday, February 13, we'll have a hat class at the Agricultural Building to work on straws. We'll begin at 9:00. In this column next Sunday I'll give you a list of supplies you'll need. If you've attended a hat class before, you won't need to come again. The same work will be repeated.

See you next Sunday in this same column.

A Service Tip For Your Winter Weary Car

It's disgusting to drive a car that spits and sputters, dies at every stop sign, and bucks like a bad-tempered bronc. And more than disgusting . . . it's expensive and unnecessary.

A valve grinding job is the sure-cure for these troubles. It will restore original pep and maximum power, eliminate carbon knock and assure increased gas economy. The cost is small . . . the increased driving pleasure tremendous.

A Service Tip For Your Winter Weary Car

It's disgusting to drive a car that spits and sputters, dies at every stop sign, and bucks like a bad-tempered bronc. And more than disgusting . . . it's expensive and unnecessary.

A valve grinding job is the sure-cure for these troubles. It will restore original pep and maximum power, eliminate carbon knock and assure increased gas economy. The cost is small . . . the increased driving pleasure tremendous.

WHY SETTLE FOR LESS THAN
$14,000 IN A YEAR

The days are gone when a "few thousand" a year salary was enough for a man to take care of his family, buy a new car, and "salt some away for the future."

The man we want must be high grade (not high pressure), ambitious and sincere. Earnings are paid in advance, no investment is needed, no collections, no deliveries.

Salesmen Wanted (33)

ATTENTION MEN! Many men are being held back in establishing themselves in a business of their own due to the lack of capital. Let us put you in business in part of City of Monroe, West Ouachita or Union Parishes. Buy in credit. The line is complete and profitable. Write Rawleigh's Dept. LAB-120-257, Memphis, Tenn.

WHY SETTLE FOR LESS THAN
$14,000 IN A YEAR

The days are gone when a "few thousand" a year salary was enough for a man to take care of his family, buy a new car, and "salt some away for the future."

IF YOU are a middle-aged man who has reached the "ceiling" on your earnings and now want to make good in a new field, we can make you a fine offer to join our organization, where top men are paid up to $22,000 in a year.

IN SPITE of shortages in other businesses, our volume is expanding at a terrific rate. We have an opening in the Monroe area for a man over 45. The man we want must be high grade (not high pressure), ambitious and sincere. Earnings are paid in advance, no investment is needed, no collections, no deliveries.
WRITE A personal letter to our president, Dept. C-5, P. O. Box 711, Fort Worth 1, Tex.

IS $210.00 a week worth a postcard to you? Then rush card for special free trial plan that sells amazing new automatic refrigerator defroster like "hot cakes!" D-Frost-O-Matic, Dept. 54-A, 173 W. Madison, Chicago.

THINK!
YOUR INVESTMENT IN A HOME MAY WELL BE THE MOST FAR-REACHING DECISION YOU EVER MAKE.

Before settling on a "project house" in a relatively undeveloped neighborhood, why not consider a plan developed for your particular requirements and mode of living?

We are in a position to build your home on lots in established sections of Monroe and West Monroe, with sewerage, water and hard surfaced streets. Property values are stabilized, bus lines are established, and schools, churches and shopping centers are already constructed.

IF YOU PLAN TO BUILD, LET US SHOW YOU OUR HOUSE PLANS AND THE LOTS WE HAVE TO OFFER. Consider the advantages of selecting your own locale, of selecting your own neighbors, in establishing subdivisions.

STEVE CANYON

MILTON CANIFF

WE CALLED YOU 'SLIPPERY' ELM IN COLLEGE FOR GOOD REASON! YOU DIDN'T EVEN TELL ME THAT YOU HAVE A DATE WITH COLONEL CANYON!

IT ISN'T A 'DATE', GEORGIE! I ASKED HIM TO TALK TO THE SCHOOL BOARD ABOUT ESTABLISHING A GROUND OBSERVER CORPS POST IN THE CUPOLA OF THE HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING!

YOU WERE BOOKED TO GO TO THE MOOM PITCHAHS WITH THAT ARDENT EDDIE GRAM! —REMEMBER?

EDDIE WILL BE GLAD TO TAKE ME TO THE MEETING INSTEAD! HE HAS A PILOT'S LICENSE! HE HAS ALWAYS FAVORED SETTING UP AN OBSERVER POST HERE!

YES—BUT ED WORKS IN A GARAGE AND FLIES A PUDDLE JUMPER ON WEEK ENDS...YOU DIDN'T GET THE BIG OBSERVER CORPS URGE UNTIL THE TALL BLOND JET BOSS SAID THE WORD!

WHY, GEORGIE, I DON'T THINK THAT'S QUITE FAIR...I DIDN'T REALLY SEE THE POINT BEFORE...

BESIDES, THE COLONEL KNOWS I HAVE A DATE WITH EDDIE!...WHY DON'T YOU COME WITH US AND MAKE IT A FOURSOME?

ARE YOU OUT OF YOUR MIND? DO YOU THINK I WOULD TAG ALONG WITHOUT BEING ASKED BY COLONEL CANYON ?

LOOK, GEORGIE, YOU'RE TALKING TO ME, YOUR OLD ROOMIE FROM THE STATE UNIVERSITY INTELLECTUAL FILLING STATION! WHY SHOULD YOU SPEND A DISMAL EVENING WASHING OUT A FEW THINGS ?...

WE KNOW HOW TO MAKE COLONEL CANYON THINK HE ASKED YOU! THAT WE DID LEARN IN COLLEGE!

IT WAS A TOUGH FIGHT, MOM, BUT YOU SOLD ME!

LISTEN! DOORBELL!

IT'S NOT EDDIE'S CAR OUT FRONT! MUST BE THE AIR FORCE! GO DOWN AND GIVE HIM THE OLD SORORITY HOUSE PARLOR TRICK!

GOTTA HAVE THE RIGHT BOOK IN MY HAND! — MAYBE THIS ONE THEY GAVE US ON JET ENGINES...

GORGEOUS GEORGIA IN THE FLASHY FLESH...!

...COLONEL CANYON, THOUGHTFUL SOUL THAT HE IS, SAYS," 'PIPPER THE PIPER', MISS ELM AND HER BEAU ARE TAKING ME TO A SCHOOL-BOARD MEETING, BUT I'LL BE LATE AND WILL GO DIRECT TO THE BUILDING...YOU, PIPPER," HE SAYS," YOU TAKE A CAR AND GIVE THEM A LIFT — AND DO GORGEOUS GEORGIA A FAVOR AND BRING HER ALONG AS YOUR DATE..."

NO! NO! MISS GEORGIA! THAT BELONGED TO MY GRANDMOTHER!
